DEDICATE SHAFT TO U. S. DEAD IN FRENCH BATTLE

Meuse-ArgonneRite Attended by 10,000.

BY ALEX SMALL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTFAUCON, France, Aug. 1.—On this sun drenched hillside where twenty years ago American soldiers engaged in what was one of the most severe battles fought by American troops, a sort of finish was written to the United States' participation in the world war today with the dedication of a monument to American valor. The war memorial commemorates the victory of the American First army in the Meuse-Argonne offensive.

Montfaucon Memorial.

The dedication was the first of a series of ceremonies which will extend over the next two weeks, consecrating memorials at the chief scenes of American activity, such as Cantigny, where Americans first fought as a unit.

The work of preparing and erecting these monuments was accomplished by the American battle monuments commission, headed by Gen. John J. Pershing, commander of the American expeditionary forces in the war.

Hoist American Flag.

The actual dedication at Mountfaucon consisted of hoisting the American flag to the top of a tall granite column in the presence of 10,000 persons. This was performed by Miss Belle Baruch, in the presence of President Albert Lebrun and Premier Camille Chautemps of France, Ambassador William C. Bullitt of the United States, Gen. Pershing, Marshal Henri Petain, France's wartime leader on the western front, and other personalities, including Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos of France, Cardinal Verdier, archbishop of Paris; Gov. Robert Quinn of Rhode Island; Josephus Daniels, wartime secretary of the navy and now American ambassador to Mexico, and Col. Robert R. McCormick of Chicago.

President Roosevelt, his voice carried by radio from his yacht on the Potomac river to the Montfaucon battlefield, pledged the United States to continued faith in the ideal of democracy, common to France and the United States.

Roosevelt's Message.

"Though the seas divide us, the people of France and the people of the United States find union today in common devotion to the ideal which the memorial at Montfaucon symbolizes," Mr. Roosevelt said. "That ideal, to which both nations bear faithful witness, is the ideal of freedom under democracy—liberty attained by government founded in democratic institutions.

"In a real sense this monument, which we have reared on the French hillside to commemorate the victory of our First army in the Meuse-Argonne offensive, symbolizes that devotion.

"Today we reaffirm our faith in the democratic ideal. It was in defense of that ideal that we entered the great war twenty years ago. In the Meuse-Argonne we fought as champions of the rights of mankind. Neither France nor the United States sought or seeks conquest—neither had nor has imperial designs. Both desire to live at peace with all nations. Both seek kinship with lovers of liberty wherever they are found."

Says Soldiers Hate War.

Gen. Pershing, who delivered the dedicatory address, said the Meuse-Argonne campaign, in which 1,000,000 Americans were in action, was "fiercer and more heartbreaking" than any other world war battle except Verdun.

"It is memories such as these that make civilized soldiers hate war, and they do hate it," he said. "The last conflict brought no profit to any one, but left many questions unsettled. But they cannot be settled by war.

CUBS WIN, 5 TO 4; INCREASE LEAD; SOX TAKE PAIR

The Cubs increased their National league lead to six games yesterday by beating the second place New York Giants, 5 to 4, in eleven innings for a sweep of the three game series. Tuck Stainback's pinch hit with the bases full won the game.

The second place White Sox whipped the Athletics twice at Philadelphia yesterday, 4 to 3 and 5 to 3. The first game went eleven innings and was decided on a home run by Dixie Walker. Luke Appling hit a homer in the ninth inning of the second game.

WOMEN CALLED UPON TO BATTLE INVADING ARMY

Wife of Dictator Makes Plea.

BULLETIN.

[Copyright: 1937: By the New York Times.]

TIENTSIN, Aug. 2 (Monday).—Tientsin's calm was abruptly broken when an earthquake of considerable duration and intensity shook the city at 6:42 o'clock last evening. Chinese are likely to interpret it as an ill omen of Japanese occupation.

BULLETIN.

TOKIO, Aug. 2 (Monday).—(AP)—After an urgent conference with Premier Fumimaro Konoye, Emperor Hirohito today approved sweeping changes in the Japanese army in what was believed preparation for extended warfare with China. Four new divisional commanders and a new commander for the former Chinese island of Formosa were named, indicating the four divisions may be preparing for embarkation to the war zone.

NANKING, China, Aug. 1.—(AP)—With Japan in control of much of North China and its most important cities, both Chinese and Japanese prepared today for a general war.

In this capital of the republic of China the conviction is growing that war with Japan on a national scale is inevitable. From here and many other points in China, Japan was evacuating her nationals, evidently preparing for a widespread conflict.

The Chinese government was silent as to movements of its troops, although one report said the advance guard of the main Chinese army was already in the Peiping area.

Calls on Women to Fight.

The most warlike statement in China today came from Mme. Chiang Kai-shek, wife of the dictator. She called on the women of China today to fight Japan "according to their ability."

The Wellesley-educated wife of the head of the central government, herself secretary general of his air forces, said that "today the women of Spain are occupying the fighting lines."

"In the world war the women of every country gave their best," she continued. "The women of China are no less patriotic or capable of physical endurance than the women of other lands. This we shall show the world."

Mme. Chiang was addressing delegates of numerous women's organizations which have undertaken war relief work.

Predicts Final Victory.

"Our final victory," she declared, "no matter how belated it may be, will erase forever the days of humiliation which for so long have crowded our calendar and remove the sorrow which for years has bent our heads and bowed our hearts.

"China is facing the gravest crisis in its history. This means we must sacrifice many of our soldiers, masses of our innocent people, much of the nation's wealth and see ruthlessly destroyed the results of our reconstruction."

Workers Donate Pay.

The "Give one day to your country" campaign which was launched last year at the time of the Japanese inspired offensive against Suiyuan has been revived. Chinese are urged

RADIO CAPTURES BIRD SOUNDS ON ISLAND IN THE BAY OF FUNDY

KENT'S ISLAND, Bay of Fundy, Canada, Aug. 1.—[Special.]—The first recording of bird sound by radio has been made by W. A. O. Gross, director of the Bowdoin college scientific station here. The sound was transmitted yesterday from a field microphone on Kent's island by shortwave radio to a Cornell university sound truck on Grand Manan island.

Birds whose sounds have never been recorded were concentrated upon. These included the petrel or the Mother Cary's chicken, and the northern raven. The recording truck was shipped by steamer to Grand Manan island nearest point to Kent's island. A radio operator from the Bowdoin expedition's powerful shortwave radio station established two-way communication between the truck and Kent's island and a delicate microphone was used to pick up the sounds.

$500,000 WILLED TO VALET'S WIFE SHRINKS TO ZERO

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 2 [Monday].—Mrs. Rose Spary, who with two sons is the sole legatee of the $500,000 will of the late Lord Ormathwaite, former master of ceremonies to the royal family, will not get one penny from his estate, it was revealed this morning.

Mrs. Spary, wife of Frederick Spary, the late peer's valet, said:

"During the thirty years I served him, Lord Ormathwaite lost more than 100,000 pounds sterling [about $500,000]. The estate is said to be insolvent. I would sell for 5 shillings our chance of receiving any of the money left to us under the will. He loved to play roulette, and I have seen him lose 10,000 pounds [$50,000] in a single night at Monte Carlo."

Lord Ormathwaite owed his valet $7,500 when he died. His landed estates are so heavily mortgaged that they will pass straight to the mortgagees.

2 Women Open Wrong Door and Die in Fire

Six feet from the safety of an outside door an aged mother and her middle aged daughter turned the wrong way yesterday in a smoke filled farm home a mile west of Downers Grove.

The mistake cost them their lives, for they trapped themselves in a pantry and perished from smoke suffocation as firemen a few feet away were extinguishing a minor blaze, unaware of the women's plight. The wrong turn was only the first of a series of tragic circumstances attributed to the women's panic, any one of which, reversed, might have saved the lives of the women, Mrs. George J. Heck, 52 years old, and Mrs. Mary Dummett, 76 years old.

Walk Into Thick Smoke.

Instead of walking out, they walked almost the length of the house into the kitchen, where the smoke was thickest. They still might have saved their lives.

But again they turned wrong, taking the door that led into the pantry instead of the one beside it that led outside. Presumably one of them fell against the door, which opened inward into the pantry, and forced it shut.

Even had they been unable to reopen the door their chances still would not have been gone. At the rear of the tiny pantry was a window, which could have been raised easily or broken to admit air or to provide means of escape.

But the women were huddled against the door when found.

Noticed by Fire Chief.

Chief Grant Dicke of the Downers Grove fire department was driving past the home about noon when the saw smoke. He hurried inside and was soon joined by his firemen, who were already on their way when the chief arrived.

Mrs. Heck's husband told the firemen none of his family was in the house. The firemen therefore concentrated upon the fire, caused by a kerosene stove explosion in the basement. The fire was confined to the basement and a stairway to the kitchen.

Heck had seen his wife leave the house as he was springing into his car to go to a neighbor's to summon the firemen, and he presumed she and her mother were in the crowd that had gathered. Later he inspected the damage and tried to open the pantry door. It stuck.

The firemen removed it from its hinges. Then the bodies were found.

Stunned by Tragedy.

Stunned by the tragedy, Heck seemed scarcely able to comprehend what had happened. The firemen believed, however, that Mrs. Heck had gone outside when the fire broke out and had then returned to her mother's second floor room to rescue her.

Heck, 58 years old, is an auditor for the Burlington railroad's Chicago office. He rents the residence, on Ogden avenue, but not the farm land. Mrs. Heck's mother lived in Ottawa, but came to visit the Hecks a month ago.

ILLEGAL INTOXICATION ON LEGAL 3.2 BEER IS CLAIMED IMPOSSIBLE

Wichita, Kas., Aug. 1.—(AP)—The question whether a man can become drunk illegally on a beverage legally nonintoxicating in Kansas was raised today for decision by the state's higher courts.

The issue was brought up by John Madden Jr., attorney for William Leifheit, charged with driving when intoxicated at the time his truck was in a collision.

Leifheit and defense witnesses testified he had drunk nothing except 3.2 per cent beer, declared nonintoxicating by an act of the last legislature.

"Leifheit could have drunk three gallons of a beverage of less than 3.2 per cent alcoholic content and still not be held as drunk," Madden told the court.

Both Madden and the judge indicated the issue would reach the Supreme court.

HEROIC SLAYER OF TWO BANDITS OUT OF DANGER

Dr. Karl Meyer, medical head of the County hospital, yesterday declared that Lige Debowski, shot five times on July 18 in a gun battle with two bandits whom he wounded fatally, was out of danger. Dr. Meyer said that an operation he performed on Debowski last Friday appeared successful and infection in one of his wounds had been cleared up.

The complaint of Sergt. Michael Ahern of the Town Hall police, who worked on the case, that the Lake View hospital violated a state law in not giving Debowski immediate surgical attention in addition to the first aid administered, will be heard today in the Felony court.

Father Seized Flying Across U. S. with Girl

BY MARCIA WINN.

A father's dramatic attempt to gain custody of his baby daughter through a surprise transcontinental airplane flight was thwarted in Chicago yesterday when police arrested John M. Hayes, wealthy Mahwah, N. J., sportsman, at the municipal airport.

As a result, Hayes, whose great grandfather served on Lincoln's staf and was first president of the Pennsylvania railroad, was locked up at the detective bureau yesterday. His daughter, Patricia Ann, 28 months old, was taken to St. Vincent's orphanage, where she played tranquilly.

Police were waiting last night to learn if California authorities would come to try to take Hayes back there.

Accused by Mother-in-Law.

The third figure in the drama is Hayes' mother-in-law, Mrs. Charlotte E. Pendergast of San Francisco, on whose warant, charging child stealing, Hayes was arrested here.

The story, so far as Chicago goes, began near midnight Saturday when Chief of Police W. J. Quinn of San Francisco wired this message to the detective bureau here:

"I hold warant for child stealing for John M. Hayes who will be with Patricia Ann Hayes arriving Chicago 8 a. m. on United Air Lines plane."

On Their Way to Zoo.

When arrested by a squad from the detective bureau, Hayes, a bronzed, muscular man of 33, was indignant. Patricia, he said, was his own child. Her mother was dead. Anyway, he hadn't stolen her. He had told her grandmother in San Francisco he was taking her to the zoo, and he was—to the Bronx zoo in New York.

"I have every right to take her home with me," he said, "and I intend to. Mrs. Pendergast had no legal grounds to take out a warant against me. I'll fight extradition as long as I can talk."

Married Six Years.

The story Mr. Hayes told is this:

While instructor at a riding academy in San Francisco which he later bought, he married Elizabeth Pendergast. This was six years ago. Their married life was harmonious until February, when he went to New Orleans on a business trip. While there he received notice, by mail, of divorce proceedings. He then went east to his mother's estate, Compere park, near Mahwah, N. J., and began raising chickens.

"The news was a complete surprise," he explained. "We had had no trouble when I left. I didn't contest the suit, but went home to talk it over with my mother.

"I didn't hear any more from her, but near the end of June had a premonition something was wrong in California. So I put in a long distance call for my wife—and they told me she had died the day before."

Hayes immediately left for San Francisco. On his arrival there, he said, he found his wife had died

Party Heads Busily Passing Buck.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1.—[Special.]—The Seventy-second congress, dubbed the "do-nothing" congress, in session more than six months, is now trying to pass in two weeks legislation the proper consideration of which would require not less than six months.

For this showing by the overwhelmingly Democratic congress at the outset of the second term of the overwhelmingly reëlected Democratic President the Democrats are passing the buck to each other.

Mr. Roosevelt holds to the view that if, instead of opposing his program, the legislators had expeditiously performed their duty of providing the means to effect his objectives, congress could have completed its work and adjourned before June. The Democratic insurgents retort that Mr. Roosevelt, by injecting a grave constitutional issue into the session with his attempt to pack the Supreme court stalled the legislative machine until his surrender a few days ago.

Wheel Horses Strain at Halter.

As a result the President is pressing for passage of several of the most important bills on his program in order to retrieve the "do-nothing" record while Vice President Garner and the Democratic insurgents generally are pressing for immediate adjournment and postponement of action on pending bills till the next session. The prospect is that the session will come to an end in a couple of weeks with a mass of half baked eleventh hour legislation enacted.

The delay in legislation and consequent waste of time in this session was due in large part to the tactics adopted by the President to put through his bill to pack the Supreme court. He deliberately held back the wage and hour bill, the farm bill, and other items on his program in order to induce the farm organizations, the labor organizations, and other groups to exert pressure for passage of the court packing bill in order to command administration support of the measures in which they were interested.

The labor unions came through overwhelmingly for the court packing bill and have been rewarded by the militant support of the administration for the wage and hour bill. The farmers were conspicuously antagonistic to the court packing bill and have seen the farm legislation thrown into the discard with only feeble remonstrance from the White House.

Strategy Brings Defeat.

The President's strategy proved a failure. Instead of winning thereby enough support to put over the court packing bill he suffered a signal defeat. Moreover he was saved from defeat on the wage and hour bill in the senate only by William Green, president of the Federation of Labor.

The insurgent southern Democrats had enough votes in sight to recommit the bill on the showing of opposition to the measure by the metal trades and building trades departments of the federation. Mr. Roosevelt acted quickly to avert defeat. He summoned Green to the White House. When Green left the President he declared that while the bill was unacceptable it should be passed by the senate and improved in the house. That saved the day for the President. The bill went through the senate and gave the President an initial victory over the conservative Democratic revolt.

Although there is great opposition in the house to the wage and hour bill, it presumably will be passed if made acceptable to Mr. Green.

17 Requests for Laws.

The President has made seventeen recommendations of legislation to the Seventy-second congress up to date. Of this number only six have been written into law. The proposals follow:

1. Reorganization of the judicial branch of the government, involving the packing of the Supreme court with 6 and the lower courts with 44 new judges.
2. Reorganization of the administrative branch of the government, involving the consolidation in the executive of vast powers and subjecting to his will the independent quasi-judicial boards and commissions.

Wants Neutrality Widened.

3. Extension and broadening of the neutrality act.

4. Ratification of the Buenos Aires treaties for the promotion of peace.

5. Ratification of the sanitary meat convention with Argentina, modifying prohibition of meat imports from regions infected with the hoof and mouth disease.

6. General farm legislation, including crop control and Secretary of Agriculture Wallace's "ever normal granary" scheme.

7. Crop insurance.

8. Federal fixing of minimum wages and maximum hours of work.

9. Creation of seven more TVAs to foster throughout the country the government development and distribution of hydro-electric power in competition with privately owned utilities.

New Food and Drug Bill.

10. The Copeland food and drug bill increasing federal regulation of manufacture, sale, and advertising of food, drugs, and cosmetics.

11. The Guffey coal control providing for federal price fixing and reestablishment of the mandatory wage and hour provisions of the invalidated first Guffey act.

12. Farm tenancy legislation to assist share croppers and other indigent farmers to acquire property.

13. The Wagner housing bill, proposing federal subsidies for slum clearance and low cost housing, involving bond issues aggregating 700 million dollars in three years.

14. Appropriation of 1½ billion dollars in new money and reappropriation of half a billion in unexpended balances for WPA and PWA work relief.

Quotas and Tax on Sugar.

15. General sugar legislation proposing quotas for domestic and foreign producers and imposing a processing tax of ¾ of 1 cent a pound on raw sugar.

16. Legislation to prevent evasion and avoidance of income taxes.

17. Legislation to make the Civilian Conservation corps a permanent institution.

The six recommendations written into law are the extension and expansion of the neutrality act, though in a form distasteful to the President; the Guffey coal control; the relief appropriation; the ratification of the Buenos Aires treaties; the extension of the CCC, though for three years instead of permanently, and the farm tenancy bill providing for the expenditure of 10 millions the first year, 25 millions the second, and 50 millions in succeeding years.

Scheduled for passage before the end of this session are the wage and hour bill, legislation to plug tax loopholes, the housing bill, a sugar bill [though possibly only an extension of the Jones-Costigan act], and a judiciary bill reforming procedure in the lower courts.

DOUBLE KILLING AT CHURCH ALTAR PUZZLES JURY

El Centro, Cal., Aug. 1.—(AP)—A coroner's jury today failed to discover a motive for the murder of Dr. O. L. Webster and suicide of Fred W. Simmons at the altar of the Seventh Day Adventist church here yesterday.

Mrs. Simmons testified she knew no reason why her husband, 40 years old, should slay Dr. Webster, 37. She said Simmons took her to church yesterday and called for her after the services.

When they were driving away her husband suddenly noticed Dr. Webster and said he wanted to speak to him, she stated. He stopped the car and got a rifle.

The jury returned a verdict of murder and suicide but reported to District Attorney E. W. Heald it was unable to find a motive.

Mrs. Webster was at their home in Holtville when the shooting took place. They had no children. Mr. and Mrs. Simmons had two children.

Milk Goes Up 1 Cent Today in Chicago and Suburbs

Beginning today housewives in Chicago and suburbs will pay 1 cent a quart more for milk. The increase, from 12 to 13 cents, was announced Friday by members of the Associated Milk Dealers, representing 115 large dealers, after an agreement with the Pure Milk association, representing 14,500 dairy farmers, for an increase of 25 cents a hundred pounds [46½ quarts] in the bonus over the market price of milk sold to processors.

ECONOMY LEAGUE URGES SLASH IN U. S. CASH OUTGO

Expenditures Nearly Double Federal Income.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1.—[Special.]—A strong plea for retrenchment in federal expenditures was voiced tonight by the National Economy league.

The new debt, resulting from seven successive federal deficits represents a sum sufficient to have paid all expenses of the federal government for a period of thirty years at the level immediately preceding the entry of this country into the world war, the league reported.

"If to the direct public debt of 36 billion 425 million dollars we add the contingent, guaranteed debt of four billion 718 million dollars, our national indebtedness now has reached the staggering total of 41 billion 143 million dollars," the league said.

Debt at All-Time High.

The league quoted the debt as of the close of the last fiscal year on June 30. Since that date, the debt has risen to an all-time high of 36 billion 709 million dollars as of July 29.

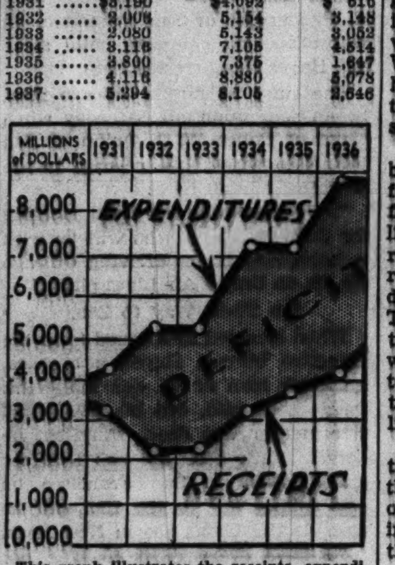
"For seven long years, the federal government has been in the red," said E. Roland Harriman, league chairman. "We have been spending two dollars for every dollar taken in. Our debt has increased by more than 20 billion dollars and we are spending at the rate of 9 billion dollars a year."

In the study the league found that during the seven year period, treasury receipts totaled 23 billion 602 million dollars, while expenditures totaled 45 billion 854 million dollars, the outgo being almost two dollars for every one taken in.

Table of Increase.

The following table shows the receipts, expenditures, and debt increase for the seven lean years:

	——In million of dollars——
Fiscal year.	Receipts.	Expenditures.	Debt increase.
1931	$3,190	$4,092	$ 616
1932	2,006	5,154	3,148
1933	2,080	5,143	3,052
1934	3,116	7,105	4,514
1935	3,800	7,375	1,647
1936	4,116	8,880	5,078
1937	5,294	8,105	2,646



This graph illustrates the receipts, expenditures, and debt increase of the federal government for the last six years.

"We have reached a new plateau of spending from which it will be difficult to retreat," Mr. Gebhart said. "Even so, the real pace of spending is not revealed in such tables.

"This is due to the fact that during the last three deficit years, as shown in treasury statements, expenditures have been greatly reduced by crediting against certain large expenditures receipts from revolving funds. While this method of accounting reveals the net drafts on the treasury, it does not accurately show the pace of spending.

"Unless the pace of spending is greatly reduced future spending will involve even greater deficits when revolving funds have been exhausted. While revolving fund repayments have been considerable in the last three years they are decreasing and soon will entirely disappear."

To offset the spending pace of 9 billions a year, including 500 millions for debt retirement, receipts for the fiscal year just ended totaled five billion 294 million dollars. The revised revenues for the current fiscal year reach a high of 6 billion 900 million dollars but the gap still yawns wide. The study shows that relief expenditures have risen steadily from 1931 when they totaled 311 million dollars to 1937 when they were nearly eight times as large, at 2 billion 505 million dollars.

In conclusion the study points out that the public debt at the end of the last fiscal year was almost two and one-quarter times as large as it was in 1930 and ten billion dollars higher than the peak war debt.

Foresees Financial Crisis.

"Our analysis of expenditures clearly indicates where cuts must be made if the budget is truly to be balanced," the study concluded. "No one will deny that many of these vast expenditures were well intended and that they were, at the time they were made, absolutely necessary.

"But we now are facing a serious crisis in federal finances, and the people must decide whether it is better to forego the apparent benefits of extravagant federal spending or face the dangers of continued deficits. Either we will run into a disastrous inflation or we shall lay insuperable tax burdens on future generations—possibly both."

Splitting an Argument

Lawrence, Kas., Aug. 1.—[Special.]—The tree was the loser in a dispute here between two neighbors, J. R. Edmonds and Lutie Kern, over its ownership. When they couldn't settle the argument Kern took an ax and cut away more than half of the trunk which he said was on his property. The tree argument has been carried to court, where it awaits trial.

CITY ACTS AS ITS OWN BANK; SAVES A MILLION A YEAR

Interest Charges on Tax Warants Reduced.

BY JOSEPH ATOR.

The manner in which the city is saving more than a million dollars a year by acting as its own banker was described yesterday by City Controler Robert B. Upham.

These savings are realized in interest on tax warants. In 1933, when the city's operating costs, paid from its corporate fund, reached their lowest point since 1923, its expenses included $1,995,409 in interest on corporate fund tax warants. Last year charges for the same purpose had dropped to $811,727. The decrease in interest charges meant that just that much more money was available for pay rolls and supplies necessary to operate the city's services without increasing tax bills.

The interest saving has not been due wholly to the city's self-financing operations. A substantial part of it is due to lower interest rates on warants. These lower rates, however, are due partly to the city's internal banking operations, which reduce the term of securities offered to the public, as well as to the general improvement in the city's credit.

Tax Collections Still Lag.

Chicago's tax collection process fell two years behind because of the 1928 reassessment, and still has not regained all of the ground lost, despite the fact that a year's tax bills are now rendered approximately every ten months. The 1936 tax bills, paying for the city's operation last year, are just now being collected, seven months after the last of the money was spent.

This gap between tax spending and tax collection is closed by the sale of anticipation warrants, payable out of the first taxes received on the particular levy against which they are sold. The internal bank through which the city invests in its own warants is its aggregate of funds, made up principally of the traction fund and other trust funds.

Under the law the city may invest any of these funds not immediately needed. This type of investment is not new. It was followed extensively by the former city administration, which was responsible for the tax spending spree which culminated in the tax bills of 1930, which were 26 per cent higher than those now being paid.

Warants Sold to Public.

Some of the warants issued by that administration are still in the aggregate of funds, and it is doubtful whether enough taxes will ever be collected to redeem them. So many warants were issued that the city's own bank was crammed with them, and the surplus was offered to the public.

When Mayor Kelly took office on April 13, 1933, the aggregate of funds totaled $107,436,000, of which $88,553,000 was invested, principally in warants. The remaining $18,883,000 was largely in funds which legally could not be invested. As a result 1933 tax warants had to be sold directly to the public at 5 per cent interest.

Yesterday the aggregate of funds totaled $118,271,000, of which only $64,910,000 was invested. The remaining $53,361,000 cannot be used for city operating expenses, since it does not belong to the corporate fund, but it can be invested legally in corporate fund tax warants. When so invested it earns 1-16 of 1 per cent, the same interest paid at present by banks on city funds.

How Improvements Were Made.

The improvement in the cash position of the aggregate of funds was achieved partly by the sale of $7,000,000 in 1932 refunding bonds, which the city bought with its own funds when no other purchasers were available, but more largely by keeping operating expenses down so that current and delinquent tax collections retired warants faster than it was necessary to issue new ones.

In January, 1936, the city began to sell its 1936 corporate fund tax warants to the aggregate of funds. By the end of the year the investment totaled $27,500,000 in 1936 warants, 75 per cent of the tax levy. Not until January of this year, when it was necessary to sell 1937 warants to the aggregate of funds, were any of the 1936 warants offered to the public.

To date $14,000,000 in 2 per cent 1936 warants have been sold out of the aggregate of funds to banks, and have been replaced in the city's own bank by $13,500,000 in 1937 warants.

Double Saving Achieved.

It will probably be unnecessary to sell any more 1936 warants to the public, Mr. Upham said. There was a double saving in placing the warants in the aggregate of funds. First, the city saved the difference between 1-16th of 1 per cent and 2 per cent interest for an average period of about a year on its 1936 warant issue. Second, when it became necessary to sell 1936 warants to the public, they were for a term of seven months or less, instead of for terms running as high as nineteen months. The shorter the term of a warant the lower is the interest rate it commands.

TAXES PROPOSED TO INCREASE CITY FUNDS $500,000

Week-end labor by the city council subcommittee on licenses yesterday produced an additional $500,000 in anticipated revenue, leaving the city only $750,000 short of its goal of $3,250,000 needed to restore basic salaries to city employes. The subcommittee's report will be given to the finance committee this afternoon, and hearings will be held tomorrow and Wednesday.

Ald. Roger J. Kiley [37th], subcommittee chairman, said efforts will be continued to close the gap between the estimated new revenue and the required amount. Mayor Kelly has said stringent curtailment of expenditures will yield the difference.

Ald. Kiley said that the figure covering revenue from coal dealers and private coal storage had been increased from $200,000 to $270,000. Licenses on coin operated skill games were added to yield between $150,000 and $200,000, and fuel oil burning equipment inspections were added at a total of $75,000. Revisions in 25 existing license fees will make up the remainder of $500,000 in recommended revenue.

Representatives of the police and fire departments will confer at 11 o'clock this morning with Ald. Jacob M. Arvey, chairman, and other members of the council finance committee to hear what plans the aldermen may have for restoring salaries to their pre-depression levels.

ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

Couples Avoiding Illinois Health Test Pour In.

BY DORIS LOCKERMAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Crown Point, Ind., Aug. 1.—[Special.]—Get married, or have another drink?

Either seemed to suit one of the young couples that came to this Gretna Green in the midnight hours. Some one suggested flipping a coin. The girl said it would be O. K.

The man tossed a quarter and they left the courthouse without a marriage license to buy the drink instead. Marriage isn't taken very seriously in this Indiana town, where Illinois residents are coming for their weddings in preference to taking the health tests required by their own state's new hygienic marriage law.

Some Come on Dares.

Many brides of late last night and early this morning came with parties, a few of them on dares, and neither the brides nor the young fellows they married appeared any too enthusiastic.

None of the couples from Illinois showed in their manner any embarrassment at the thought that others might believe they were purposely evading the health test.

One of the girls who gave Chicago as her residence said she was the daughter of a physician there. She giggled when asked her father's name, and said she couldn't remember. But she knew his telephone number and was willing to telephone to ask him. The license clerk said the license could be issued without the information. And it was.

229 Issued by Midnight.

When the office of the Lake county clerk here was closed at noon yesterday, 79 licenses had been issued since 7 a. m. The office was closed for the Saturday half holiday, but it was reopened at 1 p. m. on holiday schedule. That is, the price of a $2 license had been raised from the $4.50 charged in regular business hours to $7.50. By midnight, license sales had increased to 229.

Applicants are always asked to pay $4.50 in business hours, the extra $2.50 being for a marriage certificate with two doves at the top. After business hours, the price of the certificate keeps going up, and the license won't be issued without the certificate.

Complain About Charge.

When the office was reopened in the afternoon, Francis Grandys, a blond, dimpled young man living across the street, was in charge.

The young men looked a bit resentful at having to pay night rates on the Saturday half holiday, but they paid. All afternoon and evening, couples streamed in. Toward midnight there was a rush, for many of the late arrivals knew the rates would go up again—to $10. That meant they would be paying $8 for the certificate.

At midnight, Grandys went home to bed. The three justices of the peace, who had kept their offices open all evening across from the courthouse, prepared to relax a bit.

Squires Hang Together.

That is, if they left their headquarters they placed cards on their door, giving telephone numbers through which wedding ceremonies could be arranged without delay, as the squires put it. The numbers were those of the other squires, as the three have a working agreement that one will always be on duty.

When one gets a telephone call from a prospective bride and bridegroom, he telephones young Mr. Grandys, who dresses, hurries over to the courthouse, and issues the license. Then the ceremony is solemnized.

Six licenses were issued between midnight and dawn today.

The three justices of the peace across from the courthouse and their colleague, Clarence Kitchell, five miles out in the country, speak quite freely of their all night marriage service.

But Mayor Vincent Youkey, who decreed two years ago that the all night marriage business should cease, says quite as freely that the ordinance against performing marriages after 9 p. m. is strictly enforced.

Mayor Denies Violations.

Nevertheless, in the late night and early morning hours cars stream into town with their drivers following the signs which direct the way to the justices of the peace. Once they have bought their licenses, the couples frequently sit in front of the courthouse in their cars laughing and chatting while waiting to be married.

STEAL ON JOBS

(Story in adjoining column.)

Miss Judith Kaye, 26 years old, a bookkeeper, who admitted to police yesterday that she had taken about $1,700 from her employers and turned it over to her brothers. She said they were in debt.

[TRIBUNE Photos.]

Miss Rose Marie Gennarelli, 28 years old, was held in jail after confessing that she took $6,200 from her employers. She said she had given the money to a movie extra to further his career. He also was in custody.

STATE ST. FILM FIRE DRIVES 300 OUT OF THEATER

Three hundred patrons were driven out of the State-Harrison motion picture theater at 546 South State street last night by fire which broke out in the projection room. They filed out in orderly fashion after warning had been given.

The fire burned furiously for a few minutes, consuming several reels of film and damaging two projection machines and other equipment. Damage was estimated at $2,000.

Benjamin Wise, the operator, was burned about the arms and face when he tried to put out the fire. Fireman James Fahey of Engine Company 1 was injured under the left eye a few minutes later when helping to battle the flames. Chief John Finn of the 25th battalion said the fire probably started from crossed wires.

SECOND WOMAN IN 3 DAYS ADMITS THEFTS FOR MEN

Takes $1,700 on Job for Brothers.

Police yesterday arrested the second woman accused within the last three days of embezzling from her employers to give money to men. She is Miss Judith Kaye, 26 years old, 1935 East 71st street.

Miss Kaye, a $20 a week bookkeeper for Hoffman & Morton, furriers at 190 North State street, admitted taking about $1,700 of the company's money to pay debts of her brothers, Howard and Irving Kaye. The other woman under arrest is Miss Rose Marie Gennarelli, 28, of 4339 Wilcox street, who gave $6,200 taken from her employers to a handsome movie extra.

Audit Discloses Losses.

An audit of the Hoffman & Morton books yesterday disclosed a shortage of $2,450, according to officials. They summoned Miss Kaye to the office, and she confessed.

Dressed in white and wearing dark glasses, she was questioned at the Central station by Detectives Tracy Duffy and James Reidy, but denied taking more than $1,700. Although she said most of it went to pay her brothers' debts she admitted using $400 to buy Howard an automobile, $200 for an engagement ring for his fiancée, and that she spent $350 on a vacation for herself. She said she embezzled the money by raising her employer's checks.

Meanwhile Patrick J. Billings, the movie extra for whom Miss Gennarelli stole, may have to face the accusations of other women. According to Assistant State's Attorney William Lancaster, several women have told him that they believe Billings is the man to whom they intrusted their money.

Takes $6,200 in Year.

Billings met Miss Gennarelli four years ago, telling her he was a rising movie star. She believed him. A year ago he appealed to her for money because he was ill. She sent him sums from time to time until she had embezzled $6,200 from her employers, the Security Service corporation.

Her defalcations were discovered a few days ago just as Billings arrived in Chicago from Hollywood. He was seized. Then for the first time did Miss Gennarelli learn that he wasn't exactly a rising movie star, but only an extra.

Retirement Ends Family's Rail Service in 80th Year

The retirement yesterday of Jeremiah L. O'Connor, 68 years old, of Aurora, ended the O'Connor family's services with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad in its eightieth year. He began working for the railway fifty-one years ago. His late father, also named Jeremiah, started in 1857. The present Jeremiah was a dispatcher in the Aurora division office for forty years. A brother, Tom, retired last March at the age of 70 after fifty-four years with the Burlington.

DEMAND FOR TESTS IN WAR ON SYPHILIS SPURS QUICK METHOD

The demands for blood tests in the campaign to stamp out syphilis and other venereal diseases have become so numerous in recent weeks that the state department of public health yesterday announced a change in its system. The Wassermann test for syphilis and the testing of blood for gonorrhea and tuberculosis no longer will be done in the state's laboratories here. To save time, blood specimens will be tested by the Kahn method only.

It was explained that the Kahn method is equally as reliable as the Wassermann method and can be done more quickly. After a blood specimen reaches the laboratory it requires only approximately 1½ hours for the Kahn test, while 12 to 24 hours are required for the Wassermann test.

The campaign under the direction of Dr. Louis E. Schmidt, secretary of the Chicago Board of Health, in which 1,000,000 questionnaires are being sent to Chicagoans asking if they are willing to undergo the blood tests, moved forward yesterday. It is expected thousands of citizens, their attention called to the plague by the questionnaires, will visit the state laboratories for tests in the next few weeks. Under the new system they can be accommodated quickly.

The substantial increase in the work of the state's laboratories caused by enforcement of the Saltiel law requiring pre-marriage physical examinations, together with the limited resources of the laboratories, made the change in method necessary, it was said.

Dr. Schmidt is seeking funds to enable persons desiring the tests to go to their own family physicians and obtain the tests free.

Japs Prepare for Long War

Five hundred Japanese women and children from Tsinanfu, inland capital of Shantung province, reached Tsingtao, where they can be protected by the Japanese navy. One thousand Japanese males remained at Tsinanfu, center of Japanese economic interest and scene of a bloody Chinese-Japanese clash in 1928.

In Hankow all Japanese except able-bodied males were being taken from the Japanese concession as rapidly as available shipping on the Yangtze river could receive them. The Japanese community at Chungking on the middle Yangtze was moving to Hankow.

Urge "Stronger China" Policy.

Officials indicated the empire was preparing for prolonged operations in China. The Japanese army, in a week of bitter fighting, has crushed organized Chinese resistance around Peiping and Tientsin. Some expressed belief only complete capitulation of the central Chinese government at Nanking would prevent a real war. Forty members of the house of representatives adopted a resolution calling on the government to follow a stronger China policy.

War fever swept most of the empire, although Tokio, the capital, remained calm. Big industrial centers like Osaka, Nagoya, and Kioto are throbbing with martial activity.

Railway stations were jammed with troops destined for the China campaign. The "banzais!" of frenzied crowds mingled with the sound of marching booted feet.

Military authorities expressed belief operations in China would continue at least until autumn. The Japanese command was expected to postpone major action until harvest had removed the maize and sorghum in which the Chinese soldier is adept at hiding.

Japanese Thrust Deeper.

TIENTSIN, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Japan's army thrust deeper into Chinese territory today while it tightened its hold on the conquered Peiping-Tientsin area. The Japanese said organized Chinese resistance around the two chief cities of North China had been crushed, and turned attention to points further south.

Along both trunk railways running southward Japanese airplanes and infantry scouted for signs of northward movement of the Chinese central government's forces, whose appearance in the North China zone of conflict the Japanese have said, would mean war on a national scale.

One Japanese column was reported 35 miles southwest of Peiping on the railway to Hankow. This would place it beyond Liuliho, where central army units were reported yesterday.

Planes on the Lookout.

Japanese airplanes scouted far down the railway from Tientsin to Pukow looking for signs of reorganized Chinese strength. Friday Japanese planes heavily bombed Chinese concentrations at Paotingfu, 90 miles below Peiping.

After three days of shelling and aerial bombardment Tientsin was quiet, although "mopping up" operations against Chinese survivors of the battles of Thursday and Friday continued.

Four Americans, one a woman; ten Britons, and thirteen other foreigners reached Tientsin today to tell a story of death and terror in a railway wreck between Tangku and this city Thursday. They escaped injury in the wreck only to be caught in an artillery battle between Chinese and Japanese at the mouth of the Pei river, twenty-five miles east of here.

The Americans were Carl John Eskeline, Tientsin manager for the Standard-Vacuum Oil company and formerly of Proctor, Vt.; A. P. Tucker, employé of the British-American Tobacco company, formerly of Gold Leaf, Va.; Mrs. Robert Barrett, wife of the local agent of the States Steamship company, and Sergt. Johnson of the 15th United States infantry.

40 Japs Die in Wreck.

They estimated forty Japanese soldiers and one Russian child had died in the wreck, caused by removal of a rail, piling up three passenger cars.

The surviving Japanese soldiers, believing themselves surrounded by hostile Chinese, compelled the foreigners at pistol point to leave the scene. They tore a Russian woman from the body of her child, left with the Japanese dead.

After three hours' march across country the foreigners reached a telephone by which they summoned a launch, which took them to Tangku, at the mouth of the Pei river, where they found refuge aboard the British warship Grimsby and a British steamer.

At this point two Japanese destroyers began shelling a Chinese position behind Tangku, and threw more than 400 shells over the port. A tugboat brought the party to Tientsin.

100,000 GERMAN WAR VETS MAKE PLEA FOR PEACE

BERLIN, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Cries for peace echoed in the Olympic Stadium today on the 23d anniversary of Germany's declaration of war on Russia.

A hundred thousand German war veterans, including thousands of war maimed, and delegations from ten foreign countries joined in expressing hope there would be no more war. French Veteran Henri Pichot was cheered when he demanded in German that there should be "peace forever in Europe, never war again." Marshal Werner von Blomberg, minister of war, shook Pichot's hand and the band played the Marseillaise.

The new army mingled with the old in the crowd, and deep throated "heils" rose when a detachment of the army, air force, labor service and Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's bodyguard goosestepped by.

JAPS BUILD NEW PUPPET 'REALM' IN NORTH CHINA

Ex-Chief Turns Up Safe, but Shorn of Power.

PEIPING, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Japanese military leaders worked today to reestablish in some form the autonomous East Hopei régime to which they have given protection the last two years but which was all but wiped out by a revolt against the protectors last week.

Yin Ju-keng, former head of the régime, who disappeared when his own "peace preservation corps" rose against their Japanese protectors Thursday at Tungchow, capital of the "state," turned up safe today in the Japanese embassy here.

But he apparently had been shorn of power and usefulness for the purposes of Japan's empire builders, for Lieut. Gen. Kiyoshi Katsuki, the Japanese commander, named a successor, Chi Tseng-Mou, who was Yin's chief secretary.

Japanese Wiped Out.

For two days the Japanese had hidden what happened at Tungchow, 30 miles east of Peiping, when the "peace preservation" men—Chinese who had tired of Japanese domination—went on the warpath. Japanese spokesmen admitted that of 350 Japanese and Coreans there in June only three have been located thus far. Chinese said 250 Japanese soldiers had been killed, along with 350 civilians.

Then the Japanese air bombers arrived to take vengeance, and Chinese said "thousands" of noncombatants had been killed.

Two Americans, Harry S. Martin of Boston and James A. Hunter of Peoria, Ill., were in Tungchow, but escaped harm. The missionary school there known as the American school was reported safe except for destruction of its gateway by a Japanese bomb.

Plan to Extend Realm.

Yin Ju-keng, who had incurred the hatred of the Chinese for his ties with Japan—which included a Japanese wife—had been reported killed or missing until he turned up in the Japanese embassy.

Chinese asserted that the new régime the Japanese were building on the ruins of that headed by Yin would be similar to the protectorate maintained by Japan over Manchukuo. They believed it would be expanded to include much more territory than Yin Ju-keng's realm.

The East Hopei government was formed in 1935 with the aid of Japan's famous "Lawrence of Asia," Lieut. Gen. Kenji Doihara, to lay the groundwork for further Japanese penetration of the Asiatic mainland.

Yin proclaimed himself "liberator" of the 7,000,000 persons who inhabit the rich territory—about the size of Maryland—just south of China's great wall, and set up headquarters in an ancient Confucian temple near Tungchow.

Brigandage Suppressed.

From there he directed, with the aid of Japanese advisers, an extensive program of road building, military reorganization, and industry that emphasized the gulf separating him from the Nanking government.

He raised an army of 15,000 militiamen equipped with Japanese arms who suppressed brigandage in the region. Telephone communications were improved and a telephone installed in every village of the region. At Tungchow a Japanese built radio station arose to give Yin means of broadcasting attacks against the central Chinese government.

Chinese patriots said Yin's lowering of East Hopei trade barriers had flooded North China with an annual tide of $75,000,000 worth of smuggled Japanese goods and charged that he harbored Japanese engaged in the illicit narcotics trade.

Important iron deposits have been discovered at Luanchow, where it is claimed more than 50,000,000 tons of high grade ore wait exploitation, supplies that would be invaluable to Japan.

REUNION SOUGHT

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 1.—(AP)—Constance Worth, Australian-born actress, hopes for a reconciliation with her estranged husband, George Brent, screen actor.

Her attorney, David Tannenbaum, told Judge Fletcher Bowron he wished a delay in Brent's suit for annulment of the marriage. The actor charges he and his wife did not comply with the laws of Mexico where the ceremony was performed.

"Miss Worth may yet bring about a reconciliation," Tannenbaum said. Judge Bowron ordered the case heard Aug. 13.

Topeka, Kas., Aug. 1.—(AP)—Scarcity of clews hampered officers tonight in efforts to find three Negroes who raped Marie Fink, 20 years old, after killing her escort, Verne T. Hedrick, 29, as he sat in his motor car at the side of a road near here Friday night.

"We have a few leads, but nothing very definite," Sherif Roy A. Boast said.

Every detail of the slaying and triple assault has been verified as first told to officers by the hysterical young woman immediately after the crime, Boast said.

STRAY CALF FAILS IN MASCOT TEST; GOES TO THE DOGS

NATION-WIDE PROTEST AGAINST ALIEN LABOR AGITATION, KLAN PLAN

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 1.—(AP)—J. A. Colescott, chief of staf in the Ku Klux Klan, said today a series of Klan meetings over the nation is expected as a protest against "alien labor agitation."

What the Klan official described as the first of these demonstrations was held here last night when Klansmen and Klanswomen paraded in full regalia in the flare of a fiery cross.

Want a free ticket to the circus? Step right down to the lake front, east of Soldiers' field, to the tents of Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey and bring half a pound of juicy live ants. The circus has two ant eaters, a vicious looking grown ant eater, and a worse looking baby one, and they simply lap up the ants. Some ten small boys and girls, each with a tin can of ants, got in free Saturday and maybe you can, too. The circus will give two shows daily through next Sunday.

182 U. S. AIRMEN PLAN TO GO TO CHINA TO FIGHT

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 1.—(AP)—Mystery surrounded preparations of 182 American pilots, each of them with a mechanic or two, to sail soon for China to man combat planes.

The Times today quoted Russell L. Hearn, soldier of fortune and former general staf officer with Marshal Chang Tso-lin, as telling Dr. Tao Heng-chin, here on a lecture tour, that 182 pilots had signified their willingness to go to China and that each had his own mechanics.

Hearn said he had a report the Chinese central government had 392 planes for which it had no pilots, but declared it a violation of federal law to recruit them here.

"However," Hearn stated, "if Americans wish to go to China and then enlist, there's nothing to stop them."

Player Is Fatally Injured When Struck by Softball

John Ebertsch, 35 years old, 1110 North Lawndale avenue, was fatally injured yesterday when he was struck in the abdomen by a softball while playing in a game on a lot near his home. He continued to play but collapsed a few minutes later and died soon afterward in St. Anne's hospital. Doctors said he evidently suffered internal injuries.

Mother-in-Law Charges Child Stealing.

intestate. Under the California law, this meant that a $30,000 legacy left his wife by her grandfather, George Scott, chief pilot of the San Francisco bay, would be divided between him and the child, Patricia.

Hayes asked that he have Patricia with him, he said, but his mother-in-law objected, saying she wished to safeguard the child's share of the $30,000 estate. He thereupon agreed to put his share of the money in a trust fund for Patricia and all seemed well until five days ago he received notice that Mrs. Pendergast had filed a petition for guardianship.

Gets Tired of Waiting.

"We intended to go to court and settle the matter amicably," he said, "but Mrs. Pendergast kept dragging it out until I got tired of waiting. My attorney told me that if I could get the baby out of the house without using force, and then take her out of the state, there was nothing she could do about it."

So he did this. He flew to Alameda, Cal., and chartered a plane to Reno. Then he went calling on his mother-in-law, taking a school teacher with him as a witness that he did not use force. He said he wanted to take Patricia to the zoo, and the mother-in-law agreed.

He went directly to the airport, where he and Patricia, in their chartered plane, flew to Reno. Here he sent a wire back to his mother-in-law. She, in turn, hastened to take out the warant charging child stealing.

While Patricia Ann, who has blue eyes and golden brown curls and is, her father says, cute and darling, prattled merrily to attendants at the orphanage of her exciting plane ride, Mr. Hayes spoke confidently and proudly of his genealogical tree.

"My family," he said, "traces back to the time of William the Conqueror."

His father, he said, was the late William C. [Billy] Hayes, well known gentleman jocky, who once won the American grand national steeplechase at Brookline, Mass.

The $30,000? Pooh!

As for the $30,000 legacy—pooh, said Mr. Hayes. Didn't his mother say just last week—"There's $15,000 in the bank, and you can have every cent of that to fight the case?" And didn't he inherit some money from his father? And some more from his maternal grandmother, the late Mrs. Francis I. Maule of Philadelphia, whose father, Col. Israel Scott, head of the Pennsylvania railroad, introduced the Bessemer steel system into the United States?

"But," he added, "now that Mrs. Pendergast has done all this, she'll never have my consent to taking charge of Patricia's money. I'll handle it all now."

Axel Olson, age 48, who was shot to death in tavern by Blue Saturday night.

Police questioned Charles Blue, 63 years old, 1215 East Marquette road, in the Woodlawn station yesterday on the fatal shooting Saturday night of Blue's rival for the affections of Mrs. Elizabeth Lees, 42, of 6619 Kenwood avenue. The rival, Axel Olson, 48, of 6859 South Park avenue, was killed by Blue in a tavern at 364 East 69th street. Blue told police he fired after Olson, manager of the tavern, hit him with a club. The two quarreled over the presence of Mrs. Lees in the tavern.

Police said Blue's story of self-defense was refuted by Mrs. Lees and other witnesses. He was held for the inquest today.

POLICE PUNCTURE TIRES; ARREST EX-CONVICT, PALS

Marquette police last night were holding four men, one a paroled convict, whom they captured early yesterday after a fast auto chase on the west side. The chase ended at Seeley avenue and Van Buren street when police bullets punctured the rear tires of their car.

The prisoners are Frank Miller, 27 years old, 2232 Maypole avenue, paroled from Jackson, Mich., prison last October; Leonard [Tiny] Laino, 22, 4807 Federal street, a one time murder suspect; Nick [The Greek] Virgado, 33, 1314 Jackson boulevard, once acquitted of robbery, and Peter La Sasso, 28, 3322 Congress street, whose brother, Samuel, last August killed Policeman John Freichel, and then committed suicide.

The four men were sighted by a police squad at Roosevelt road and Western avenue following the theft of an accordion from Ralph Pope, a musician, and the chase followed. Pope identified Laino and Virgado as the thieves.

HIT-RUN DRIVER FATALLY INJURED IN SECOND CRASH

Rams Safety Island After Striking Pedestrian.

A hit and run automobile driver who crashed into a safety island after his car had struck and injured a pedestrian died of his injuries yesterday in the County hospital. He was Claude Dreesen, 35 years old, 33 Indianapolis boulevard, East Chicago, Ind.

The pedestrian, John Argirris, 63, of 1526 East 62nd street, was struck as he was about to board a street car at 59th street and Stony Island avenue. He was taken to the Illinois Central hospital and the license number of the fleeing automobile reported to police. A few minutes later the auto smashed into a safety island at 35th street and South Park way.

Youth Dies of Injuries.

Roger Litz, 2130 North Hamlin avenue, 16 years old, died in the Holy Cross hospital yesterday of injuries incurred when he was struck at 76th street and Western avenue by an automobile driven by Eugene Rowley, 34, of 616 East 92d place.

Fire department inhalator squad 9, commanded by Lieut. Ralph Scavone, struggled in vain for several hours to save the youth's life.

Christ Rasmussen, 64 years old, 1531 North Talman avenue, was fatally injured yesterday by an automobile as he was crossing North avenue at Talman avenue. The driver, Arnold Holmes, 42, of 2309 North Albany avenue, a clerk, took Rasmussen to St. Elizabeth's hospital, where he died.

Eugene Petersen, 38, of 6231 North Francisco avenue, was killed, and Lawrence Watts, 28, of 1248 Carmen avenue, was injured yesterday when their automobile hit a viaduct pillar at Western and Bloomingdale avenues. Watts was taken to St. Elizabeth's hospital.

Driver Killed in Collision.

Carl Frederick Hansen, 47, of 5853 South Troy street, was killed yesterday when his automobile collided with one driven by Robert Porter of Chebanse, Ill., south of Manteno, Ill. Porter and Miss Wilma Edwards, who was riding with him, were injured. They were taken to St. Mary hospital in Kankakee.

John McManmon, 38 years old, of 2051 Montrose avenue, incurred a fractured skull and Paul Langen, 37 years old, 7536 North Winchester avenue, was injured slightly when their car collided with an ice truck as they passed a line of cars on Milwaukee avenue about two miles south of Libertyville. They are in Condell Memorial hospital, Libertyville. Scott Hall, 212 Appleby avenue, Barrington, the truck driver, was uninjured.

Carlo Delito, 12 years old, 859 Buckingham place, was knocked down by an automobile last night as he was trundling his bicycle across the underpass near the outer drive and North avenue. The driver, John C. Hibbs, 35, of 2759 Pine Grove avenue, a salesman, took the boy to Henrotin hospital where it was found his skull had been fractured.

Chester Koenig, 23 years old, 6231 Grace street, was injured seriously about the head yesterday when a tire blowout sent his car into a ditch half a mile south of Mellen, near Ashland, Wis. His companion, Richard Lavin, 15, escaped with minor injuries.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 594 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1, according to the coroner's office. Of this number 463 were killed in Chicago, where 12,846 were injured in the same period.

STREET FIGHTER HELD AS SUSPECT IN OHIO SLAYING

Arrested in an early morning street brawl, Joseph Taylor, alias James Palmer, 24 years old, was held by Chicago avenue police last night as a murder suspect. He is wanted in Cleveland on a charge of killing Lawrence Krull, a special policeman.

Taylor was seized with two companions for fighting at Clark and Huron streets. His finger prints were sent to the detective bureau, revealing the Cleveland charge. The records showed that Special Policman Krull was slain last April 16 while resisting a robbery at a café in Cleveland.

Lieut. James Devereaux questioned Taylor last night, and Taylor, he said, admitted engaging in a revolver fight with a special policeman during an attempted robbery. Taylor said he would waive extradition.

French Ship Crosses Ocean in 3 Days and 23 Hours

New York, Aug. 2 [Monday].—(AP)—The French liner Normandie arrived off Ambrose Light early today with what Capt. Pierre Thoreux radioed was a new record for the east to west crossing of the Atlantic—3 days 23 hour and 2 minutes from Bishops Rock, England. French line officials said the crossing bettered the old mark of 4 days 6 minutes and 23 seconds set by the Normandie on March 22.

SPEEDING TRAIN SMASHES AUTO; 2 COUPLES DEAD

Manitowoc, Wis., Aug. 1.—[Special.]—Four persons who were crowded in the single seat of a small coupe were killed early this morning in the village of Denmark, northwest of here, when a fast Chicago and North Western passenger train crashed into the automobile. Those killed were:

MARVIN ROBERTS, 28, Calumet, Mich.

AUGUST SCHAEFER, 23, Two Rivers, Wis.

IRENE SMITH, 23, Manitowoc.

ELAINE SPENCER, 20, Manitowoc.

The train was traveling at high speed and carried the auto more than a thousand feet before being stopped by Engineer Fred Paschen. The bodies of the men and one of the girls still were in the auto, almost atop the locomotive.

The four left for a ride to Green Bay with the intention of stopping at a dance. They started on the return trip about 1:20 a. m.

Car Goes Into Lake; 5 Dead.

Bellefontaine, O., Aug. 1.—(AP)—Five persons drowned today when an auto crashed through a fence along a highway and plunged into Indian lake, fifteen miles north of here. The dead were listed as:

KEITH [BUD] GREENWOOD, 26.

ROBERT L. BARTHOLOMEW.

DONALD FRIEDLEY, a guest from Maine.

ELIZABETH DUGAN, 31, New Haven, Conn., also a guest.

REPORT MISS DU PONT AND SON OF BALTIMORE PHYSICIAN WILL WED

Wilmington, Del., Aug. 1.—[Special.]—Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene du Pont today described as an "open secret" the report that their daughter, Miss Aimee du Pont, younger sister of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., would be married early next year to Walter Wickes Jr., son of a retired Baltimore physician.

Miss du Pont, who was maid of honor at the wedding of her sister here on June 30, has just left the Wickes residence near Baltimore to join her parents at Bar Harbor, Me. Mr. Wickes has been a frequent guest at the du Pont residence, Owl's Nest, near Wilmington.

Any announcement concerning the report is expected to be deferred until after Miss du Pont makes her debut at a ball to be given by her parents in Philadelphia next January.

BRITISH PREPARE TO BLESS ITALY'S ETHIOPIAN GRAB

Paper Hints London Wants to Soothe Mussolini.

BY SAM BREWER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 2 [Monday].—A strong hint that the British government soon will recognize the Italian conquest of Ethiopia in an effort to soothe the ruffled temper of Premier Mussolini of Italy was dropped this morning. This would be done to promote British efforts to get a "new Locarno pact" as a peace guarantee in western Europe.

"I learn that Mr. Chamberlain [Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain] personally is desirous that Britain's position should be clarified fully this autumn so as to remove one of the most important obstacles to any practical advance toward European appeasement," says the diplomatic correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, which always is quite careful to say what it should. "This point was one of a number on which the Italian ambassador dwelt at length during his 90-minute talk last week with Mr. Chamberlain."

Demands Legal Recognition.

British officials know that Mussolini would not coöperate in talks for a new pact "until arrangements to give legal recognition to Italian sovereignty in East Africa have been made," the Telegraph remarks.

Chamberlain is reported to be planning such a meeting here in October. It is said he hopes to get the German foreign minister, Baron Konstantin von Neurath, and the Italian foreign minister, Count Galeazzo Ciano, Mussolini's son-in-law, to attend.

"Thus the action of the league of nations assembly on this subject next month becomes of major importance," the Telegraph explains.

"Should the league place on record the simple fact that Ethiopia has ceased to exist as an independent state the governments of all the league states presumably would come away from Geneva feeling they were free to recognize the new situation de jure whenever they thought it fit to do so," the newspaper adds.

Says League Shirked Issue.

"But should league members again shirk the issue as they did at the special assembly meeting in May, Britain in common with other states may feel that it is impossible to progress beyond the state of de facto recognition which has existed since Italian occupation of Ethiopia."

A personal letter sent by Chamberlain to Mussolini was for the purpose of stating the British views, says the Telegraph. The letter followed a discussion with Count Dino Grandi, Italy's ambassador at London, and a subsequent report to the cabinet on the Italian viewpoint.

The only thing likely to keep the British from recognizing the Ethiopian conquest is a strong reaction of public opinion such as that which wrecked the British-French plan for splitting up Ethiopia.

LAUD McGUFFEY'S MORAL PRECEPTS AS WORLD GUIDE

Oxford, O., Aug. 1.—[Special.]—A plea for a return to McGuffeyism as a means of settling state and individual problems was made here this afternoon by Paul O. Yoder, lieutenant governor of Ohio, at the closing session of the centenary celebration of the third and fourth grade readers written by William Holmes McGuffey when he was a member of the faculty of Miami university in Oxford.

W. J. Cameron, personal representative of Henry Ford, spoke of the soundness of giving logical reasons in the school readers for each of the moral precepts written into them. He said McGuffey did not believe "we could imbibe morals as we do germs from the air, without knowing it."

The Detroit industrialist, a great collector of McGuffiana, has revived that educators' methods in a school at Greenfield, Mich.

George White of Scandals Fined on Driving Charges

Egg Harbor City, N. J., Aug. 1.—[Special.]—Charged with careless driving, George White of New York City, producer of George White's Scandals, was fined $5 and costs when he was arraigned today.

PAYS FOR PLANE RIDE, CCC YOUTH LEAPS TO DEATH

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 1.—(AP)—A young man identified through civilian conservation corps camp records as Regis Schwer of Muncie leaped to his death from an airplane here today.

The plane, flying at about 1,000 feet, was piloted by Ledger Reed.

Schwer went to the Municipal airport and asked to be taken for a ride over the city. He lacked 14 cents of having the $1.50 fare but was taken for the smaller amount.

Reed said that shortly after he left the airport he noticed his passenger start to climb out of the cockpit. He said he attempted to pull him back but failed and when he saw the young man climb on to the wing he threw the plane into a steep bank in an effort to keep him on the wing.

Airport officials said they found notes in the man's clothing addressed to the captain of the CCC camp at Salem and to his father, Frank Schwer.

Richard Meyer, of the aviation company, said the notes contained the statement he "couldn't stand living any longer."

Get to work ON TIME and READY TO GO

Ride the Breeze-Cooled "L"

This man drove to work. He was twenty minutes late. And even before he settled down at his desk, hot, tired and exhausted, he felt "all dragged out."

This man took the breeze-cooled "L" and relaxed. He had time to read his newspaper. He reached the office on time—fresh and eager to get at the work to be done.

YOU can't fight your way through street traffic every morning and arrive with a mind keen and eager for the job ahead. Traffic tension burns up the energy that should make the morning the best part of your day. You are mentally tired before you begin to work!

So, why keep on driving when it makes you drive yourself to get things done?

Take one of the 5,383 breeze-cooled Rapid Transit trains operated for your convenience every working day. Depart from a sheltered station. Travel on a fast train over a private railroad right-of-way. Streak over jammed street traffic. Be up in the fresh air and sunshine instead of down in the monoxide belt! Save much money, strength and time.

You'll be pleased with "L" service : : : just as are the thousands who use it daily. You travel speedily and comfortably—arrive alert and on time instead of late and "all in!"

To Ladies Looking for Bargains

All of the Loop's famous stores are on the "L"—so are the hotels, theatres, banks, depots, and other important buildings.

Then there are dozens of neighborhood bargain centers which literally surround "L" stations.

And speaking of bargains, you'll find one worth telling your friends about in the Unlimited Ride Weekly "L" Pass! The more you use it, the less it costs per ride. It's the biggest transportation bargain in Chicago and suburbs.

GET THERE! Ride the "L"

FRANCO FOLLOWS 'LEADER' MODE; HE'S EL CAUDILLO

Borrows Many Ideas from Hitler, Mussolini.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SALAMANCA, Spain, Aug. 1.—To the terminology adopted by European totalitarian régimes such as Germany and Italy, insurgent Spain also has added a new word for leader or boss.

Adolf Hitler is Germany's fuehrer. Benito Mussolini is Italy's duce. In Spain Gen. Francisco Franco is el caudillo—Spanish for duce or fuehrer.

All over Spain you will see plastered over walls and on the sides of buildings: "Homenaje el Caudillo," meaning, "Obey the leader."

In his attempt at a redressment of insurgent Spain, in fact, Gen. Franco has borrowed much from the present régimes of Italy and Germany, although his followers protest that he is not a Fascist and explain that this term is a misnomer when applied to present day insurgent Spain.

Openly Favors Monarchy.

Just what form of government Gen. Franco has in mind has not yet been announced publicly. A scheme of government somewhat along Portugal's corporative lines is being worked out, however, by what is known as a technical junta which administers civil affairs in insurgent Spain from Burgos.

Reports have been current that this junta's scheme shortly will be disclosed and put into practice.

What is certain is that Franco is for restoring a monarchy in Spain. He came out with an open declaration on July 19 in favor of a monarchy as essential to the cohesion of Spain. Prince Juan, who is former King Alfonso XIII.'s third son, is his choice for the job. Juan has been an officer in the British navy, and married Princess Maria Mercedes of the house of Bourbon-Sicily, who was brought up in South America.

Mottoes Widely Used.

The declaration of July 19 will strengthen Franco's hand in some respects. It may complicate matters for him in others.

Shibboleths and mottoes make up a great element in Gen. Franco's efforts to unite all elements in insurgent Spain. One reads everywhere: "One country, one faith, one leader."

There is also much saluting by raising the right arm and playing the insurgent anthem. Many people complain that the insurgent anthem is played too long. When it comes out of loud speakers across the Plaza Mayor in Salamanca the crowds all rise to their feet on the café terraces and extend their right arms. Sometimes the music lasts as much as five or six minutes, until every one almost has cramped muscles.

When the national tunes of Germany and Italy are played, sometimes immediately after the insurgent anthem is finished, they all rise again. A shorter version might help, it is said.

Puritanism Part of Drive.

In other respects insurgent Spain is using Italian and German methods to redress the country. As in these two countries, there is a campaign of puritanism. In San Sebastian men no longer are allowed to bathe on the Concha beach clad only in trunks. They must wear a shirt also. Women's bathing costumes also are controled strictly, and nothing exaggerated is allowed.

The same wave of severity in customs is affecting other phases of life.

Spain resembles the wartime Europe of twenty years ago in many ways. It is evidently overrun with spies of all kinds. One sees signs in restaurants and public places, as during the last war: "Be careful. Hold your tongue. The ears of the enemy are listening."

Gen. Franco, the "caudillo," is strong and virile and has a determined personality, but is more retiring and modest than his counterparts in Germany and Italy. He is more of the type of Dr. Antonio de Oliveira Salazar, premier of Portugal, in that respect. Some of his advisers urge him to put himself more before the public.

Studiousness a Characteristic.

When he received newspaper men a couple of weeks ago at his residence in Salamanca, guarded by picturesque Moorish troops across from the cathedral, Franco gave a strong impression of leadership combined with studiousness.

"I am sorry I cannot extend the courtesies of Spain more fully to you," he said with a smile and firm handshake for each. "But you may go where you wish and see what you like."

This was a statement of permission to the press to visit the Madrid front.

Franco, like the deceased José Calvo Sotelo [rightist who was murdered at the start of the Spanish civil war] is from Galicia—an old province in northwest Spain which incorporates four modern day provinces and which produces some of Spain's strongest and most conservative public men.

Toils Sixteen Hours a Day.

Franco is of medium height. He works about sixteen hours a day. When there is any unusual activity at the front he leaves his Salamanca office and hurries away. After a year of directing the insurgent uprising against the Madrid-Valencia government he appears unruffled and unworn.

But for the most of insurgent Spain he is a mystery man, for he rarely appears publicly.

Of a different type is Gen. Juan Yague, also commanding a sector of the Madrid front. Yague had a distinguished career in Morocco. He was a colonel in the early days of Franco's movement. Calm and serene, one would take him more for a big business administrator, and he appears to go about the business of war that way.

GIRL IS KILLED WHEN AUTO PLUNGES DOWN MOUNTAIN; BOY HELD

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 1.—(AP)—Betty Tighe, 19 years old, died today in the plunge of an automobile down Hollywood mountain. Her escort, Carl Long, 18, escaped with minor hurts and was booked by police on suspicion of negligent homicide.

Betty Tighe.

Officers said there were discrepancies in Long's story of the accident. They said he told them Miss Tighe became angered when he danced with another girl, and they went for a drive to talk over matters.

Police declared Long told them he recovered consciousness to find himself seated at the wheel. The officers said the seat of the car was seventy-five feet from the wreckage, and it would have been impossible for him to have been in the seat.

REBELS DRIVE WEDGE DEEPER EAST OF MADRID

4 Towns Seized; Approach Valencia Province.

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Frontier, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco's eastern army today thrust a widening wedge into vital territory near the junction of Teruel, Cuenca, and Valencia provinces, roughly 100 miles east of Madrid.

The insurgents claimed further important gains in that sector, where for months they have been trying to interpose a barrier between Madrid and the temporary seat of the government at Valencia.

Today their communique announced that the conquests south of Albarracin had been speeded up and four villages captured.

It said the central insurgent column, moving down the main road from Terriente, had taken Toril, Masegoso, and Arroyo Frio. The left wing, marching from Saldon, had captured Valdecuenca.

"Iron Column" Gives Way.

These towns are in southern Teruel province, and their capture, representing gains of several miles, considerably widens the dangerous salient the insurgents have held at Teruel. The move brings the insurgents close to the border of Valencia province.

Meanwhile the insurgent right wing was reported making good progress in Cuenca province. The government's "iron column," which had been defending this sector, was reported fleeing toward Valencia.

"The enemy was put to complete rout," said the insurgent communique.

Numerous bands of government militiamen which had held positions in the Universales mountains between Teruel and Cuenca provinces were reported surrendering.

Northern Front Is Quiet.

The insurgents claimed they had captured a large number of automobiles and quantities of arms, munitions, clothing, and equipment, including a camp kitchen.

The insurgent communique reported only artillery action on the Madrid and Granada fronts and all quiet along the northern coast.

Dispatches from Madrid reported that a heavy insurgent attack in the Usera sector, southeast of Madrid, had been thrown back by government machine gunners and dynamiters after two hours of fighting.

HUNDREDS DRAWN TO LUNCHEON OF MUSIC FESTIVAL

Reservations Made by Many Business Men.

> "Music is fundamental—one of the great sources of life, health, strength, and happiness."—Luther Burbank.

BY PHILIP MAXWELL.

Realization of the truth of the above quotation is a reason why hundreds of music lovers of Chicago and Chicagoland are going to attend the first Chicagoland Music Festival luncheon, which will be held Friday afternoon, Aug. 20, at 1 o'clock in the Silver Forest of the Drake hotel.

Executives to Attend.

The luncheon list reads like a business directory of Chicago. Railway executives, hotel managers, an editor of a bakers' magazine, the head of a great union of musicians, and the presidents of eight civic and social organizations are going to be present.

Usually musical gatherings include only those who can play a cadenza or read a score. There are going to be Chicago men at this festival luncheon who can't carry a tune in a bushel basket—but they like it and will be among those who will lift their voices Saturday night, Aug. 21, in the Soldiers' field festival concert when the community song director leads off with "Sweet Adeline."

Musicians to Feature Program.

The luncheon program will feature Charles Wakefield Cadman, the composer of "At Dawning" and "From the Land of the Sky Blue Waters"; Henry Weber, general musical director of the festival program; John Burdette, the colored baritone who has thrilled 400,000 people at previous festival concerts singing "Old Man River," and Julian ["I Love Life"] Stripe, winning festival tenor.

Tickets Available.

Luncheon tickets are available at the festival headquarters, room 1418, in Tribune Tower. They cost $1 each. The luncheon will be the official curtain raiser for the Soldiers' field concert. May we caution you, if you want preferred seats to get your reserved seats now. They are 50 cents each and are on sale at the two Tribune Public Service bureaus, at 1 South Dearborn street and in the lobby of Tribune Tower. Checks or money orders for both the luncheon and the festival program should be made payable to Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., which is sponsoring both events.

FALLS DOWN STAIRS; DIES.

Rozio Bartak, 58 years old, 4812 Ada street, died in the County hospital yesterday of injuries incurred Saturday in a fall downstairs in his home.

REBELS EXECUTE TWO FRENCHMEN FOR GERM PLOT

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Frontier, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Spanish insurgent officials reported today that two Frenchmen convicted by a military court of plotting to spread disease germs in insurgent Spain had been executed by a firing squad in Pamplona.

Louis Chabrat and Jean Boujennec were charged with aiding an international plot to spread typhoid and sleeping sickness in Gen. Francisco Franco's territory. Franco said last Friday he would notify the league of nations and world capitals of details he had discovered.

"Make Hair Grow while the sun shines"

"It is a well known phenomenon that in the summer the growth of hair is morerapid," says Dr. Arnold Lorand, Vienna Dermatologist.

THAT Hair grows faster in the summer than at any other season is an established scientific fact. You can take advantage of this seasonal peculiarity by starting Thomas' hair and scalp treatment at once.

Your hair will respond more quickly to this famous proved method of treatment now than at any other time. Within an unusually short time your dandruff will disappear, hairfall will stop, and new hair will actually be visible on the thin and bald spots. Call at the Thomas' office and talk your problem over with the specialist in charge. He will gladly examine your scalp without charge or obligation and frankly tell you what Thomas' treatment can do for you.

Moving Forward

Marshall Field & Company presents here each day observations and opinions intended to be of interest and value to those it seeks to serve

TALES OF TWO CITIES

By CALEB

TWENTY-FIVE years ago a youthful Indianapolis millionaire retired and ordered a boat. It was to be built in New York. Delivery was specified at Cairo, Illinois.

The boat owner prevailed upon the boat builder, who delivered the vessel, to accompany him down the Mississippi. The plan was to cruise to Mobile, ship the boat by rail to Jacksonville, Florida, and then proceed north along the Atlantic coast.

After the boat was loaded on a flat car at Mobile, a well posted railroad clerk told his superiors that a low bridge on the route would prevent the boat's passage.

The disgusted boat owner headed for home and commissioned the builder to go the rest of the way down the Mississippi and through the Gulf to Jacksonville by water.

The vessel encountered heavy seas and delays, and even became lost. Weeks passed. The tired captain finally arrived at Miami and wired the owner: "Meet me in Miami instead of Jacksonville. This is a nice little town." The owner did—and it was.

He became so enamored of the place that he bought a home. Near at hand he discovered a sandy island called Miami Beach. In 1915 it was literally barren. The retired business man went to work to bring changes about. With miraculous rapidity he developed Miami Beach.

Thus, because a boat on a freight train at Mobile could not pass under a bridge somewhere between the Mississippi and Jacksonville, Florida, Miami Beach came to be one of the beautiful show places of the world!

Destiny works by devious ways and Chicago's beginning was but little more direct. Because the English held America's eastern seaboard in the early days and the Spanish held the southwest, the French had to reach the interior of this country via the St. Lawrence and the Great Lakes. Wishing to reach the river called "Mississippi" by the Indians, French explorers had to portage from what is now Lake Michigan to that river. The site of our city seemed a convenient eastern terminus of that portage.

What is now Chicago was largely started as an incident to travel from one of our Great Lakes to the Mississippi River. Chicago, the greatest transportation center in the world, fittingly enough had partial inception, at least, in a transportation problem.

NATIONAL GROUPS CROWD 3 PARKS IN CELEBRATIONS

Outings Replete with Old World Customs.

Hortensia Majer in Slovakian costume.

National groups of Chicago gathered yesterday for outings replete with old world customs. Citizens of Hungarian descent contributed to the celebration of the Charter Jubilee with a program of athletics, music, and dancing at Grant park. Americans of Slovak origin sponsored a similar celebration at Pilsen park, 26th street and Albany avenue. Swedish Americans journeyed to Geneva, Ill., for a folk picnic and Italian Americans closed a three day meeting at Kankakee.

Hungarian day, sponsored by the Hungarian Societies of Chicago, drew more than 5,000 persons to the Grant park bandshell, where there was orchestral and vocal music and group dancing by girls in colorful native costumes. Dr. Arpad Barothy, honorary chairman of the day, was speaker.

4,000 at Pilsen Park.

Groups from Wisconsin, Indiana, and Michigan swelled attendance to 4,000 at the Slovak National Liberty day observance at Pilsen park. The Slovak nation's struggle for freedom and contributions of its people to the progress of America were lauded by speakers who included Col. Vladimir S. Hurban, minister plenipotentiary of the Czechoslovak republic.

The Swedish National society, representing more than 50 Swedish-American clubs in Chicago, sponsored the twenty-fourth annual Swedish day at Good Templar park in Geneva. There were games, music by the Danslaget national choir and speeches by Judge Oscar F. Nelson, Prof. Paul H. Douglas of the University of Chicago, and Attorney Carl Hjalmar Lundquist.

Sons of Italy Elect Spatuzza.

At Kankakee the Illinois chapter of the Sons of Italy closed its three day convention by reëlecting Attorney George J. Spatuzza of Chicago as grand venerable. The convention earlier passed a resolution approving plans for building an Italian temple in Chicago. Delegates from fifty lodges attended the meetings here.

Today, in conjunction with the jubilee celebration, the Chicago Turngemeinde, will observe its sixty-third annual Old Settlers' picnic and reunion at Harm's park, Western and Berteau avenues.

LEIF ERICSON DRIVE IS OPENED AFTER WIDENING

Leif Ericson drive, between Roosevelt road and Monroe street in Grant park, was opened for north bound trafic yesterday. The drive had been closed for six weeks while a new pavement was being laid for the Outer drive bridge project.

The drive has been widened to accommodate 10 lanes of automobiles, divided by a center curbing. When the project is completed about Oct. 1 southbound trafic will use the drive from the bridge to Roosevelt road and will then be turned into Columbus drive as far as 23d street. Pavement for the southbound trafic has not been completed.

Yet the prospects for peace do not look promising.

"Hatred and suspicion still exist and armaments at enormous cost continue to grow. And if no cure is discovered for this temporary madness we are in a hopeless state, for of one thing we may be certain, and that is, if another war takes place western civilization as we know it cannot survive."

Voices French Gratitude.

President Lebrun, in his address, said that France "publicly renews her gratitude to America on the site of her great victory."

Marshal Petain, erect and soldierly in a light blue marshal's uniform despite his 81 years, delivered a matter of fact recital of America's contribution to the winning of the war, and an unexaggerated appraisal of American organization, sacrifices, and courage.

The United States, according to Petain, far more than counterbalanced the blow struck to the allied cause by the defection of Russia in 1917.

"I hope that Franco-American friendship, sealed in 1781 and 1918 on the battlefields of Virginia [Yorktown] and Lorraine, will grow stronger for the greater promotion of peace," he said.

Other speakers were Harry W. Colmery, national commander of the American Legion; Ambassador Bullitt, and Andre Beaufuitte Depuy, from the department of Meuse, in which Montfaucon is situated.

The band of the 151st infantry played American and French anthems at the dedicatory ceremony. Six companies of infantry and a battery of new light 37 millimeter guns marched past the monument.

49,787 Visit Brookfield; Crowd Is Second Largest

Yesterday's attendance at the Chicago Zoölogical park at Brookfield was the second largest since the zoo opened. According to Director Edward H. Bean, 49,787 visitors were checked through the turnstiles. The record crowd—approximately 66,000—visited the zoo July 8, 1934.

CONFIDENTIAL FACTS FREE!

Send for free copy of an illustrated article by Dr. Thomas Parran, Surgeon General of the United States Public Health Service, who takes you fully into his confidence as to what syphilis is, what it does, how it is contracted, and how it can be diagnosed and cured. This article should be read by every unmarried man and woman, by every married couple, and by all young people of high school age. Sent in a plain sealed envelope on request.

THEY CAN'T MARRY

in the State of Illinois unless both are free from venereal diseases!

Proof that syphilis and gonorrhea are absent is now required to get a marriage license. Be examined by your own doctor or this clinic!

THE new state law which requires a couple to be examined for venereal diseases before marriage is intended to accomplish two highly desirable things.

First, to prevent infection of the bride by the groom, or the possible infection of the groom by the bride. Second, and more important, to reduce the appalling number of dead, deformed, blinded and feeble-minded babies that are born of venereally-diseased parents!

Considering that syphilis can be contracted innocently, and exist for years without the victim's knowledge, it is a mistake for any person to believe that he or she is not infected. Hence any attempt to evade the new marriage law is merely to invite the dreadful consequences which it is wisely designed to prevent.

Therefore, do not run the risk of having your marriage performed in another state that has lax marriage laws. Protect yourself and your children to come by submitting to the examination now required in the State of Illinois. Failure to do so may easily result in a lifetime of unhappiness and ill health!

Avoid these consequences!

Untreated syphilis, for example, may lead to fatal heart disease, blindness, deafness, apoplexy, locomotor ataxia, paralysis or even insanity! And it usually causes mothers to have stillborn or defective babies.

Untreated gonorrhea may result in a sight-destroying eye infection, sterility, stricture, crippling rheumatism, or serious prostate, bladder and other troubles. Among women it can cause infants to be blinded at birth, or necessitate mutilating pelvic operations that make having children impossible!

Thus it is apparent that the new marriage law meets a crying need. By requiring a physical examination which includes blood and other tests, it will help reduce the present high percentage of unhappy, childless marriages and encourage the birth of a much larger number of healthy, normal babies!

The necessary examination can be obtained from your family doctor, or you can get it at the Public Health Institute. The Institute is especially well qualified to make pre-marriage tests, as to date its men and women physicians have given more than 4,500,000 examinations and treatments for venereal diseases. This is a record to inspire the utmost confidence!

Examination costs $3.00

Organized by public-spirited citizens as a corporation "NOT-FOR-PROFIT" under the laws of the State of Illinois, the Public Health Institute offers attention for venereal infections at the lowest possible fees consistent with specialized treatment. An examination for syphilis and gonorrhea, including blood tests, urinalysis and smears, costs only $3.00, while some treatments for syphilis cost as little as $1.00 and some of those for gonorrhea still less!

Despite these low fees the Institute provides a friendly, personal service. Each patient is promptly attended in a private room, and to avoid embarrassment is known by a number rather than by name. The Institute's facilities are available to all, as even those who are temporarily short of funds can arrange to be cared for.

NOTE: The Public Health Institute has no connection with any other Chicago health or medical institute, and should not be confused with those operated for personal gain!

STATE CRACKS DOWN ON LOCAL RELIEF METHODS

Studies Reforms After U. S. Shuts Off Cash.

Illinois, its federal government old age pension grants shut off because of alleged defects in its system of handling the state pension funds, is cracking down in turn on lesser governmental units for their handling of state relief funds. This was seen yesterday as officials of the Illinois Emergency Relief commission studied a plan to require 488 township and county units to toe the mark.

Both federal and state officials holding the purse strings are demanding that things be done their way. As a result, while Illinois, through Gov. Horner, tells the federal government its sovereignty is being challenged, some local relief units cry that home rule is being endangered.

Demands Accounting System.

Chief features of the new state relief plan are:

1. The IERC will require local units sharing in the state $2,900,000 monthly relief fund to have on file affidavits of need from all persons given aid.

2. Prescribed accounting forms and procedures will also be required. Although the IERC suggested the use of these forms and procedures a year ago, many local units have not adopted them.

3. The IERC will establish a staf of field examiners to go over records and accounts of local units and to verify their expenditures.

4. The IERC is considering setting up a master file in each county for data on all persons receiving relief, old age assistance, blind and mothers' pensions. Such a file would require more detailed information on general relief from local units than is now being obtained.

Demand Economical Use.

"The commission believes it to be the intent of the general assembly that such information on relief within the state be gathered as will result in the most economical use of state relief funds," said Executive Secretary Leo M. Lyons, one of those studying the plan.

Attorney General Otto Kerner has declared that the new relief policy is in line with the relief statutes.

A STEEPLEJILL

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

Marie Galloway, age 20, does a man's job by painting water tower in Trezevant, Tenn.

Trezevant, Tenn., Aug. 1.—[Special.]—Painting the high water tower in this town always has been a steeplejack's job. But not this year. It's being done by a pretty young woman, and the folks here are calling her the steeplejill. She is Miss Marie Galloway, 20 years old. Steeplejacking, or steeplejilling, is thrilling work, she said today. "And I'm not a bit afraid. The higher the job the better I like it."

BOWEN LEAVES TO DEMAND U. S. MEET PENSIONS

He will present his demand today to the social security board, which Friday announced the grants would be withheld pending correction of alleged faults in state administration of the pensions. Congressional support has been promised Bowen by Illinois members.

J. L. McCarthy, regional director for the federal social security board, yesterday released details of the federal charges, contained in a report to the social security board. The report inferred there were many political appointees in the central pension office at Springfield, that many county superintendents lacked experience, and that some pensions had been paid in amounts not authorized by the formal certificates of award.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 1.—[Special.]—Gov. Horner, who watched last week's dispute between the governors of Iowa and Wisconsin over which state grew the tallest corn, came out today and said Illinois may turn out to be the ultimate champion. The governor called attention to Sangamon county corn already exceeding fifteen feet in height. "And it's still growing," he said. The Iowa-Wisconsin contest ended in victory for Iowa, traditional home of the tall corn. Some Iowa specimens were more than 16 feet tall; Wisconsin's were slightly above 13 feet.

WAGES AND HOURS BY LAW.

Congress is now struggling with the Black-Connery wages and hours bill. The administration, as usual, is attempting to create the impression that all lovers of mankind favor the measure and that it is opposed only by the greedy who want the poor to stay poor.

The same tactics were pursued by the administration in its attempt to put over the court packing bill. The application of reason and foresight to the court proposal defeated it. The same method would defeat the Black-Connery bill.

The first thing to be noted about the measure is the categories which are excluded from its operation. It says nothing, for example, about agricultural labor, though every one who knows anything about the economic life of America knows that the largest bloc of low paid workers is found on the farms of the south and backward sections of the west. It is these people who constitute the largest element in Mr. Roosevelt's third of the nation which he says is inadequately housed, clothed, and fed. The bill will do nothing to relieve their hardships.

The next thing to be noted is the internal contradiction in the bill. A labor standards board is set up, consisting of five members who will administer the act. The board is instructed to take into account all the geographical and economic factors which now govern wages, including such matters as the general level of pay in a community and an industry, costs of living, the supply of labor, and the value added to manufactures by labor. Having decided on the basis of these and similar factors what the maximum hours and minimum wages in a particular factory ought to be, the board must then consider whether the particular plant under consideration can continue in business on that basis. If not, it is to make an appropriate revision.

Two conflicting theories are obviously at work here. One holds that wages and hours can be regulated safely only by the market. The other is that wages and hours can be fixed arbitrarily, with little regard for the market. The factors which the labor standards board is supposed to take into account are the market influences. In the past they have controled, and under their operation wages and standards of living in manufacturing industries have risen and the work week has steadily declined. If the board is merely to place its seal on results obtained in the market, why have a board?

Of course, no board can manage the minute adjustment of the economic forces governing wages and hours in tens of thousands of factories scattered over a continent. The task is insuperable. This board is not expected, except by the gullible, seriously to attempt it. The instructions laid down in the bill to take this and that factor into consideration are merely window-dressing, intended to give the appearance of order and law to an essentially arbitrary finding. Within stated limits, the board is to fix wages and hours about as Mussolini and Hitler do the job in their countries.

The possibilities of abuse in this scheme are plain. It provides a precedent for wage fixing by government which can be used to force wages down as well as to force them up. It invites wage determination for political ends, with resultant interruption of industrial operations and discouragement to enterprise.

The administration is attempting to convince the country that the opposition to the measure comes from big business and the big industrial centers. Nothing could be further from the truth. The fact is that, with the fewest exceptions, large enterprises in the big cities are now operating on standards far above those set in the act. The tendency of such regulations as are proposed is to raise the level of wages in the smaller centers and thus destroy their only competitive advantage. Big business, as such, has nothing to fear from the wages and hours bill except in a period of economic disorganization, from which every business in the country, big and little, would suffer. In the long run, and to the extent that the bill actually resulted in shortening hours and raising wages in small competing plants, big business would stand to gain.

JUGGERNAUT'S VICTIMS.

Some five years ago THE TRIBUNE commenced to publish its daily massacre clock to show Chicago citizens that the number of automobile casualties on our streets was assuming alarming proportions. There was almost immediate cooperation from the Trafic courts. Ticket fixing disappeared. The police got tougher. Fines and even jail sentences were meted out without fear or favor. If enforcement could halt the carnage the police and the courts would do their share.

For a single year the awful trend was reversed. Then the hands again began to move forward. One has only to consult a scrapbook of massacre clock readings to realize that enforcement has shot its bolt. On almost the same day, July 30, the total casualties passed the 10,000 mark in 1935, 10,500 in 1936, and 13,000 in 1937. As to killings, the record for the first 210 days of these years stands at 425 for 1935, 422 for 1936, and 457 for 1937. The recession in the number of deaths during the year 1936 is attributable to an experiment with eastern standard time, which method of saving lives was rejected by the citizens last fall.

The June record of automobile casualties for the whole country was published in a recent issue of THE TRIBUNE. Chicago is still leading among the large cities. Worse still, while the drift for the country as a whole is downward, the upward trend in Chicago is advancing at an accelerated pace. Its automobile death rate for 100,000 population is now double that of New York.

Education and enforcement have definitly failed to halt the carnage. The only remaining weapon is engineering. That it is an effective measure is proved by New York's record and the success of Chicago safety drives. Admittedly it will be somewhat expensive, but how much bloodshed is warranted before the first structure is commenced? If 2,500 victims in the course of each year are added, how many more sacrifices must be made to this modern juggernaut before our city fathers will be moved to action?

A BASIC INCONSISTENCY.

At the time the surplus earnings tax was being urged for passage it was said that the effect upon corporations would be unimportant, for the reason that by selling new securities they could offset the drain upon their bank balances. A number of companies have found to their great sorrow that it doesn't work out that way. After the stockholders have received the company cash the companies have not been able to sell new securities to restore the depleted condition.

Earlier this year this difficulty was not apparent. While the markets were rising a steady flow of new securities came upon the market and found ready sale. But in March the markets turned downward, and in the intervening period it has not been possible to sell any considerable amounts of new securities, while the seasoned ones were headed lower. Although the stock market averages have recovered considerably from the low point of the year reached a few weeks ago, a very considerable number of stocks are not far from the bottom, and the volume of trading is not such as to create confidence in the ability of the market to take new issues. Meanwhile the bond market, which was severely unsettled, has advanced less than the stock market.

In the last two weeks a number of issues were placed on the market, and several issues were easily sold out. However, an exceedingly large number of companies have had to delay permanent financing because of unfavorable market conditions. Filing of amendments weekly advancing the issue dates is familiar activity at the office of the SEC. The prospect has seemed so discouraging to other companies that they have withdrawn their registrations entirely. A large number of companies have thus had to turn to the banks to tide them over, or have modified plans calling for capital expenditures.

What is most significant is the fact the government which forced corporations to divest themselves of cash arising from earnings has been largely responsible for making it impossible for them to restore their cash position. Alarmed by the rise in commodity and security prices, the government last spring twice raised the reserve requirements of banks. This forced them to sell large amounts of both government and corporate securities. Prices under the pressure of selling broke badly and the recoveries to date have been brief and unconvincing.

The increase in the reserve requirements was well calculated to head off the inflationary rise in prices which deficit financing had produced. But it wrecked the plans of industrial managements. Corporations which were induced by the federal tax law and the representations of government officials to pay out to stockholders substantially all of 1936 profits found that the government had destroyed the market for new funds.

It is now clear that a surplus earnings tax, in its purpose to compel companies to pay out all of their earnings, is inconsistent with the policy of a "controled economy." For the manipulation of the market is one of the basic planks in controling the general course of business. About half of the time the control, if it is to be effective, must take the form of depressing the markets. When markets are being depressed new securities cannot be sold. And corporations which pay out all of their earnings must be able to get funds continuously from the market. Either the government must abandon its purpose of compelling corporations to pay out all they earn or it must abandon its manipulation of the markets. If both policies are pursued bankruptcy is certain to overwhelm many corporations.

Editorial of the Day

PLACER MINING IN OREGON.

[Portland Oregonian.]

A pamphlet giving results of a survey made under WPA auspices of small scale placer mining on the Pacific coast is not one that will cause a rush of prospectors to the gold bearing stream beds of Oregon.

The survey is for the year 1935, and in that year no less than 3,229 men and women did engage in placer mining in Oregon, either as a primary source of income or to piece out earnings derived from other seasonal or occasional work. Only 18 per cent of those enumerated worked steadily at mining, and by "steadily" is meant an average of only 96 days a year.

And those who relied upon placer mining for the major part of their livelihood recovered only enough gold to give them average gross earnings of $1.50 a day. The other 2,642 miners worked an average of 24 days at an average of 91 cents a day. Only a very few of the more successful miners made more than $4 a day.

The last legislature set up a fund for grubstaking miners with loans of $50 each, the loan to be paid out of proceeds of their mining operations, plus a 10 per cent royalty. The law, in its text, does not distinguish between types of mining. Apparently the placer miner has as much right to a state grubstake as a quartz miner. As the average annual gross income for the entire group of small scale placer miners was $44 in 1935, it does not look as though the state would get rich from the royalty it obtains from placer mining.

And the rector replied with heat, "I don't swear, but I spit—and where I spit, no grass ever grows."

"AMONG MY MEMORIES."

There were long winter afternoons when I played euchre in Billy Hines' back room with the oldsters. Their ages ran from 65 to 90 odd. Very often my partner was "Young Bob," who was only 76. Bob's Uncle Billie usually sat behind his nephew. On one occasion I recall he sat in silence for two hours. Finally Bob, after long deliberation, led a card at a crucial period—and of course the wrong one. Immediately Uncle Billie got up and walked away in disgust, after saying to me apologetically, "Hell, the damn young fool never will learn to play this game."

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY'S idea of training teachers by sending them to night clubs and baseball games meets with the Line's approval. Strangely enough, some of our educators in recent years have perceived the patent truth that a parrot stuffed with the crackers of wisdom à la book is not as well prepared, usually, for life as we must live it as is the fellow who gets about, reads the papers, and sees what's going on.

They Don't Want Their Back Yards to Look Like the Garden of Eden.

(Champaign News-Gazette, via Dr. Sam.)

"It seems as though several people, living on Williamson street, are very much opposed to practices in vogue by students in that area who use the back yards for a place to take sun baths in the raw," the mayor related.

"Some of these folks declare they dare not go out to their own back yard during the early morning or late afternoon, when the students are not in class."

Flynn indicated efforts will be made to induce the students, and any local citizens, to follow the practice of good taste and decency, even in their own back yards.

How to Keep Well

NERVES MAY NEED RECHARGING.

HAVE you ever seen an alert, active chap—a real "go-getter"—run down? He changes gradually. About the first thing observed is great fatigue. Then those about him—particularly the family—will note increased irritability. This may become so pronounced that some of his friends remark that his disposition has altered. For a while he can force himself, through the exercise of will power—sheer nerve—to keep going at fair efficiency. But toward the end of the day he may feel the need of a stimulant to carry him through until quitting time.

As you have probably sensed, this is the story of a nervous breakdown or what is commonly called nervous exhaustion. Unless something is done, and that speedily, the patient will go from bad to worse. At first concealing his feelings [symptoms of indigestion, pains, and queer sensations in the head]—because he realizes, and perhaps his employer does also, that his work is not up to par—he finally unburdens himself to some one. His catalog of ailments will probably include every organ in the body.

Fortunate is the one facing such a situation who is able to find a physician sufficiently skilled and of broad enough understanding to be willing to study the puzzle and help him regain his lost poise. No single cause has been discovered. In other words, no physician can say, "Here is your trouble; do this and that and health will return." Every "break" is an enigma, one requiring much consideration.

Practically every case represents an individual who has run down nervously as though the battery of his physical car were dead. He may have observed that the lights were becoming dimmer, yet enough current remained to turn over the motor. Then there came a time when the current was too feeble to budge the flywheel. This marked the period when he gave up and began to pity himself.

Family physicians meet numerous cases of this sort, especially among middle aged employed persons. Most of the victims are considerably above the average in intelligence, but they are persons who, as far back as they can remember, have never been able to relax easily and quickly. They hold themselves on a tension much of the time. They are ambitious, anxious to get ahead, and are accomplishing rather more than less. But many are carrying a load that is excessive.

Our friend now presents himself to his medical adviser. If, instead of proceeding at once to make an examination—going over heart, lungs, kidneys, etc.—the physician will permit the patient to tell his story, even though this takes up twenty to thirty minutes, much good will be accomplished. From the tale alone the diagnosis may be obvious. As a rule complaints include listlessness, increasing blue spells, possibly a multiplication of unhappy episodes, gradually failing memory, and sleeplessness.

The first and most important thing is to gain the confidence of the sufferer. Without giving him too much sympathy the physician can assure him honestly that the symptoms fall within a well recognized group and that he can recover. One thing must be clear at the outset, namely, that tonics are not indicated. They are merely whips which drive nerves already weakened beyond the point of normal performance.

Treatment fundamentally is one of restoring nutrition, padding frazzled nerves with fat, and completing dietary balance. In addition, physiotherapy, massage, exercise, bathing [hydrotherapy] are most helpful. Last but not least, the individual must be instructed over and over again in the functioning of the several parts of the body, with special attention to the rôle of the nerves.

Of course, if foci of infection can be found they must be removed. Teeth should be repaired and a program of good mouth hygiene instituted. If the stage of insomnia has been reached it presents one of the most difficult phases of the problem. But here again exercise—a long walk before retiring—aided possibly by some mild sedative, such as a bromide, will help.

SUNBURN.

H. V. K. writes: 1. A few days ago I went swimming and I think I got rather too much of the sun. That evening I grew quite feverish and my stomach was upset. In the course of an hour my back became red and sore and I was in agony. None of the preparations I have tried so far has taken the sting out of the burn. Can you tell me of some ointment to use?

2. In Florida during February I was on the beach practically every day. There I developed a fine coat of tan and did not blister at all, which surprised me because I have a very fair skin. Is there a difference in intensity in the sun's rays?

REPLY.

1. We have some directions for relieving sunburn, as well as preventing it, which we will send upon request accompanied by a stamped, return envelope. Meanwhile, a dusting powder composed of one-quarter starch, one-half powdered boric acid, and one-quarter powdered hydrastis will help.

2. The summer sun in this latitude contains a higher percentage of ultraviolet than you received in Florida last February. In other words, you may take ten minutes of a Florida winter sun to half a minute of our July or mid-August sun.

CHOKED THROAT.

Mrs. A. R. K. writes: For about an hour after getting up in the morning my throat fills up so that I have to keep spitting and clearing. Often I have to rise during the night to do so. Recently my eyes have troubled me, so that I have had to wash them with boric acid. A crust forms on the outer edge of the eye and stings unless I use the acid frequently. I do not have colds or sore throat. It is disagreeable, but otherwise I do not seem to suffer.

1. Are my tonsils affected?

2. Would an operation to remove them be advisable?

REPLY.

1. They may be, but there is also the possibility of an extensive sinus infection with drainage into the back of the throat.

2. If they are diseased. You should consult a throat specialist or a skilled diagnostician who can track down the source of your trouble.

FROM ACROSS THE SEA

BY DONALD DAY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WARSAW, Poland.—Before an audience of 15,000 disappointed spectators, John Kwiek was crowned king of the gypsy nation in the army football stadium in Warsaw on July 4. Last minute intervention by the Polish government spoiled what promised to be a funny spectacle.

The crowd was disappointed to find the stadium cleared of encampments and two formidable companies of police militia and a large force of mounted and foot police on hand to preserve order.

The arrival of Mme. Felicjan Slawoj-Skladkowski, wife of the premier, accompanied by her husband's adjutant in the official box, was the first indication that the government had taken charge of Warsaw's first coronation in 150 years.

Hopes of the audience rose when 30 gypsy senators garbed in grotesque evening dress seated themselves on a hastily built tand on which was placed the throne used by the national opera in Boris Gudonov.

Members of the gypsy electoral college sat on red draped benches. Five candidates for the kingship, who were dressed in tuxedos and white ties, next appeared. They sat next to the throne.

The royal candidates and the senators were not in good humor. By government edict they had been compelled to take showers in the stadium's dressing rooms and an army barber worked all afternoon to make them presentable.

There was a murmur of amazement when the Greek Orthodox metropolitan of Warsaw, Peter Theodorovich, appeared from beneath the grandstand. The venerable priest explained he had received a special request from Premier Gen. Felicjan Slawoj-Skladkowski to participate in the ceremony and bless and crown the king.

The coronation ceremony had not been rehersed and there was great confusion. After a debate the senators cast votes in a gilded urn and John Kwiek, who helped count the votes, announced his own election.

A dispute among those who counted the votes arose. John, it appeared, only received seventeen votes and he wanted to make it unanimous.

During the disorder on the platform, King John said his coronation was a serious matter. He claimed the ceremony was being sponsored by the Polish government, which had promised both to indorse and subsidize his reign because he had proposed to organize and bring 38,000 scattered and wandering gypsies of Poland under his jurisdiction.

He said he had a 28 page typewritten program which he intended to submit to the league of nations at Geneva to obtain recognition of the gypsy nation and that the Polish premier had promised government support.

After the speech Metropolitan Peter blessed and crowned the king, with the cathedral choir participating. The spectacle of King John wearing his gilded crown, holding his improvised scepter and orb, and garbed in a scarlet robe and trimmed rabbit skin, used in the opera, King Lear, gained more laughter than applause.

"ROAD HOGS."

Chicago, July 28.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Can a person driving on a highway in this state at twenty miles an hour be arrested if he is obstructing trafic by going so slow and if it is a two lane highway? Please let me know if there is such a law? H. S.

Section 51 of the motor vehicle law reads as follows: "No person shall drive a motor vehicle at such a slow speed as to impede or block the normal and reasonable movement of trafic except when reduced speed is necessary for safe operation or in compliance with law. Police officers are hereby authorized to enforce this provision by directions to drivers, and in the event of apparent wilful disobedience to this provision and refusal to comply with direction of an officer in accordance herewith the continued slow operation by a driver shall be a misdemeanor."

JOINT TENANCY.

Chicago, July 28.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I would appreciate your opinion regarding the following:

1. Is the following form of joint tenancy correct: "John Doe—Mary Doe." This form for use in the state of Indiana.

2. Or is the following the correct and proper form in any state: "John Doe or Mary Doe, in joint tenancy, but not tenants in common, with right of survivorship." J. F. A.

1. Yes, for Indiana, if the granters are husband and wife.

2. Yes, but there are some states that do not recognize joint tenancies.

GUARDIAN'S BOND.

Riverside, Ill., July 27.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Could you please tell me [1] if it is necessary to post a bond by a mother who is administratrix and guardian of her two children's estate? The inheritance amounts to $4,000 to each child. It will take more than this amount to raise these children before they are 18 years old.

2. Will it be necessary to renew this bond every year until the children are of age? N. K.

1. Ordinarily a guardian must post a bond. But sometimes it is excused where the assets are held by a trust company until the minor becomes of age. One other possibility is to have some friend who is a real estate owner to sign the bond so as to avoid a surety fee.

2. If you find it necessary to deal with a surety company you will have to meet their terms. They are in a better position to explain matters to you than we are.

PEACE BOND.

Chicago, July 26.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—If one has a person placed under a peace bond, and it is decided to have him released from that bond, what proceedings are necessary and where must one go to have this done? I. K.

If the bond was merely his individual bond without surety, we do not see that the release is worth the trouble. But if you wish to pursue the matter you should do it through the same officials with whom you previously dealt.

SPECIAL RULING REQUESTED.

Chicago, July 29.—I wonder how many of your readers are impelled to apply to the internal revenue department at Washington for the special privilege accorded the first lady, as I have done in the following letter, dispatched today?

In the light of Assistant Attorney General Jackson's ruling in the case of Mrs. Roosevelt's earned income which did not pass through her hands and was thus exempt from taxation as such, am I correct in assuming that this privilege now extends to all taxpayers?

I should like to divert a part of my income directly from its source to two persons to whose support I am regularly contributing. If these checks are sent periodically from their source to my dependents [who do not qualify as "exemption" dependents] without going through my hands, am I correct in understanding that the moneys thus diverted will not then classify as income to me and will be tax exempt for me, just as they are tax exempt for Mrs. Roosevelt?

I added that an early reply would be appreciated. O. T. K.

AMERICAN TROOPS IN CHINA.

Chicago, July 29.—As a private citizen I find it difficult to understand the policy of the administration in regard to maintaining United States neutrality.

For a number of years we had armies in the republic of Haiti, also in Nicaragua. Great publicity was given to the fact that we were recalling these troops as a part of our nonintervention policy, etc. Unless I am incorrectly informed the United States has maintained a full regiment of regular army soldiers in Tientsin, China, for many years, and they are still there. In view of the almost continuous strife between China and Japan it should not have been difficult to foresee the danger of having our troops in what might become a war zone. Many people also think the danger of conflict between Japan and Russia is sufficient to make it dangerous for American troops to be stationed in the far east.

If we are going to adopt a policy of using military and naval forces to protect American citizens abroad we ought to do a good job of it. On the other hand, if we are going to follow the policy of minimizing the possibility of becoming involved in foreign conflicts, then why keep the troops in China?

HARRY CALDWELL.

MENACING WEEDS.

Chicago, July 29.—Drivers cannot be blamed for accidents in sections of the city in which the weeds are allowed to grow on the street corners so tall that car drivers cannot see around these corners without coming to a dead stop. Cars coming in both directions and pedestrians cannot see cars turning the corners until they are upon them. With so many WPA projects in progress, a few workers might be spared to clean up these prairies.

The section I speak of lies between State street and South Park avenue, between 83d and 89th streets. Why wait until some one is killed before taking steps to correct the situation?

FAY LIGHTFOOT.

MANY OF US MANAGE TO.

Chicago, July 29.—Editorially you laud the Mackinac racers, 34 of whom had to quit on account of stress of weather. Perhaps they can take it. You debunk the international cup racers, who beware of strong winds. Perhaps they can't. But how about the many down-easters and up-westers who yearly race their small yachts safely across both oceans, harborless as they are? Can we great-lakers really brag? JAMES FAHEY.

MAIL CARS ON THE ELEVATED.

Chicago, July 29.—I do not think the idea of converting the Rapid Transit Lines into high speed highways will take care of as much trafic as is now moving unless, of course, a subway is built before the Rapid Transit tracks are so converted. The fact that the population is moving away from the districts served by the Rapid Transit and that the Rapid Transit has not had money to extend the lines to where the population has moved is the key to the solution.

Perhaps this idea has never been considered and I offer it for what it is worth.

Chicago is a large city and the Rapid Transit serves a large part of it. There are a large number of local postoffices located close to the Rapid Transit structures and stations. Stations such as Lawrence avenue, Chicago avenue, Merchandise Mart, 63d and Harvard, and 63d and Cottage Grove are all close to local postoffices. If a contract with the postoffice to move mail from one local postoffice to the other could be obtained by the Rapid Transit, it would bring in additional revenue which might be enough to make operations profitable. With profitable operations it would be comparatively easy to attract money for expansion.

With most of the money spent for labor and the additional speeding up of local postoffice deliveries, I think the federal government might look with favor on this idea. INTERESTED.

THE FORBIDDEN MOON.

Chicago, July 28.—I would like to know how long the Chicago police department has had an option on the moon.

The other night I walked down to a north side beach to view one of the most beautiful sights to be seen in a large city—the full, yellow moon rising over Lake Michigan. Upon arriving there I noticed that the usual parked cars were driving away. A police officer was making them leave.

Is it against any law for young people in love to look at the moon? It has been done before if one is to believe the many poems, songs and essays written about that "sweetest story" which consists of a boy, a girl, and a moon. If the police think that they are going to stop necking this way they are sadly mistaken. After all, they can't undo something that is centuries old. All through the ages lovers have viewed the moon together, whether in a garden, a buggy, or an automobile. The sages say that "all is fair in love and war," and the young people will park somewhere, so why not at the beach where they can view one of nature's most breath taking sights? It seems to me that there are plenty of other jobs to be done by the police than playing "G man" with Cupid. B. H.

THE CCC. YES. WE ARE.

Chicago, July 25.—Can you point out to me one instance since 1933 when you agreed President Roosevelt was doing right, even in the most insignificant matter?

Do you remember way back when you called Senators Borah, Johnson, Wheeler, et al. radicals, Reds, communists, etc.? Now they are American patriots and constitution savers.

Why don't you be on the square with your readers? JACK RUMANN.

FOR A LAKE STREET SUPERHIGHWAY.

Oak Park, Ill., July 28.—Is Chicago's credit so poor that she is unable to finance elevated automobile highways?

The outer drive takes care of the safety of much of the north and south side heavy trafic, but the west side is ignored.

Here's a Peek at Astaire in His New Film

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Mrs. Fred Astaire, who watched husband in amusing scenes.

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 1.—[Special.] —Fred Astaire is playing his first ilm in some time without Ginger Rogers. In Astaire's current picture, "A Damsel in Distress," a blonde and forthright young woman named Joan Fontaine is getting her first big break in movies. She plays Lady Alice, daughter of Lord Marshmorton [Montague Love], whom Astaire, as a self-assured young American, is wooing.

Astaire was making several scenes with Montague Love when we visited the "A Damsel in Distress" set at RKO-Radio studio. In the first ne, Astaire, making his way into the Marshmorton castle in an attempt to catch a glimpse of Joan Fontaine, mistakes Montague Love, wearing no necktie, a red plaid shirt, and soil spotted trousers, as the castle gardener. The mistake is natural, because Astaire never had seen the girl's father before he came upon im pruning roses.

The supposed gardener asks the young American what he thinks of the earl. The American, trying to conceal his confusion, acts oveerassured. Taking one of the long hilted swords from where it hung alongside a metal coat of arms in the castle entry room, Astaire uses it in gestures that look a trifle hazardous for a nervous and amateur swordsman as he tells big, placid, pipe-puffing Mr. Love:

"You want to know what I think of the earl? [A gesture with point of the sword in Love's direction.] I'll tell you. How did he become an earl? I'll tell you how he became an earl: It was because one of Lord Marshmorton's ancestors gypped the poor people out of their land."

In another amusing scene the earl discloses to Astaire that the earl's sister is hopeful of making a match between her stepson, Reggie, and Lady Alice.

"If I were a young man," says the earl gravely, "I'd go to the fair and take her away from him."

"That's just where I'm going," says Fred, starting to run.

"O, by the way," says Montague, halting him a moment, "if you happen to see my sister, do me a favor. Just tell her I horsewhipped you within an inch of your life."

Mrs. Astaire, the former Phyllis Livingston Potter of New York, was on one of the canvas chairs on the sideline to watch the scene, which had her and everybody else grinning as Astaire and the veteran Love deftly worked little tricks of mannerisms, eye movements, and shades of voice intonation to bring the sequence to a high pitch at just the right moment. After one "take" Astaire came over to the sideline and solicitously brushed a fleck of dirt off the patrician forehead of his titian blonde wife.

Mrs. Connie Lupino, Ida Lupino's mother, is partner in operating the Hollywood Little Theater, and has just opened that theater during its run of "The Clock Ticks" for candid camera amateurs to make shots all over the showhouse. Front Views and Profiles

THIS morning we give you:

Oddments—Listener—Travel notes.

—The interior decorator who, wishing to have the painters decorate a Beverly Hills drawing room in robin's egg blue, produced an actual robin's egg for the painters to use as a sample.

—The caustic literary comment William Targ found while browsing over a lot of old books. On the title page of a book by George Moore was written in a bold hand, "In case of fire, throw this in."

—The hot weather thought that occurred to S. M. Robbins of East 53d street, who sat right down and wrote us about it: That "married" and "divorced" can be expressed with the same letters—merely by switching an "i" and a "t." United and untied.

—The neat young Adams street secretary who launders her shoe strings weekly.

—The little tip as contained in M. F. K. Fisher's "Serve It Forth." "As the steak disappeared, I watched her long old ear lobes pinken. I remembered what an endocrinologist had told me once, that after rare beef and wine, when the lobes turned red, was the time to ask favors or tell bad news."

—The overall-clad, sun-browned woman who, assisted by two small girls, is building her own home [cement laid in blocks for the foundation] on Harlem avenue at 67th street.

—The lifeguard who plunged in the water to save the piano part during the rehersal of the jubilee style show at the Lagoon theater last Sunday afternoon.

—The woman Composer Hamilton Forrest heard calling from the front of the street car to a lad at the back, "O, Henry, what time is it by my watch?"

—The puzzled milkman who on a blue Monday received a note from a young mother who had been advised by an older one to feed her baby nothing but grade A milk that read, "Gray day milk, please."

WHEN T. V. Smith lectured at Mandel hall one afternoon last week on "The Promise of American Politics," one of his listeners was a fair young woman with patrician profile and slender hands who drew forth a bit of sewing of an infantile and nether variety. With nicety of workmanship and obliviousness to surroundings, she sewed busily until she had finished it. Thereafter she gave to Mr. Smith the same concentrated attention she had given to her sewing. It occurred to an observer that perhaps in such a compromise between domestic and public interest lies the promise Mr. Smith was talking about.

VACATION travelers are thoughtfully sending in oddments of one kind or another. Mildred Congden saw a large road sign between Fort Worth and Dallas, Tex., that read: "Fakes & Co. Let Us Refurnish Your Home."

Role Poor, but Marion Davies Does Best in 'Ever Since Eve'

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

Because she's a nice girl—and needs employment—she puts her brain to work. And thinks up that oft used idea of disguising her charms 'neath a wig and behind spectacles. . . .

Because he has a book that MUST be completed by a certain date, is secretaryless at the moment, and besieged with demands from the head of his publishing house [Miss Fazenda, also looking like a comic strip character] to settle down and grind, Freddie Matthews employs the sad looking visitant who asks to take down shorthand for him. . . .

Events so arrange themselves that he soon knows her as her other self and loves that other self—not realizing that the vision in blonde curls and trick eyelashes is the drab Marge who pounds his typewriter. . . .

If you can't write your own from here on—why you'd better pay a visit to the Chicago.

Miss Davies does her best with her unremarkable rôle. Patsy Kelly induces considerable fond laughter. Mr. Montgomery, Allen Jenkins, Frank McHugh, and Louise Fazenda act up real cute and a Miss Ralston, who looks not unlike Joan Crawford, gives several laudable imitations of Vesuvius in eruption.

Joan Smith and Corwith Hamill to Wed Oct. 6

BY JUDITH CASS.

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 6, is the date that Miss Joan Smith and Corwith Hamill have set for their wedding. It is to be "a very small wedding—just the families," as Miss Smith's mother, Mrs. Harold C. Smith, expressed it, but even so, the Church of the Holy Spirit in Lake Forest should be comfortably filled for the ceremony, for the Smith clan is one of Chicago's most flar-flung, and there are a sufficient number of Hamills to take ample care of the bridegroom's side of the church. Mr. Hamill is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred E. Hamill.

Stuarts' Daughters and Friends to Be at Ranch.

The Stuarts' three young daughters are going too, and several of their friends as well as friends of their brother, Robert D. Stuart Jr., will visit them during the month that the Stuarts will be at the ranch. Young Mr. Stuart has been traveling in Europe with college friends since his graduation from Princeton in June. He probably will go on around the world before returning home.

Mrs. Smith is leaving today for Charlevoix with her cousin, Miss Katherine Leslie, who is here for a visit with her from her home in Suffolk, England. They will be up there two weeks. Later this week Mrs. Hamill is going up to Charlevoix, too, for a visit with Mrs. Francis R. Dickinson. The Smiths' cousins, the M. Scott Bromwells, also are at Charlevoix for a fortnight. Her brother and sister-in-law, the Edward B. Smiths, sailed Friday on the Ile de France to spend several weeks in Europe.

Clarice Hamill and Fiance Going to Harbor Point.

Miss Clarice Hamill, whose wedding to Nelson L. Barnes Jr. probably will occur early in the winter, not long after her brother's wedding to Miss Smith, is going up to Harbor Point to spend the last two weeks in August with her fiancé and his sister and brother-in-law, the Louis C. Sudlers. Young Mr. Barnes is having his vacation then.

The senior Nelson L. Barneses, who have been occupying a cottage near their daughter's at Harbor Point, are sailing the middle of August to spend six weeks abroad. They will travel in England and Scotland, France and Germany.

The junior Carroll H. Sudlers spent most of last week up at the Point with their brother and sister-in-law. They are remaining in Lake Forest this summer except for occasional week-end trips. The senior Carroll

Ravinia Gives New Ovation to Golschmann

BY CECIL SMITH.

Vladimir Golschmann, conductor of the St. Louis Symphony orchestra, yesterday afternoon concluded his engagement as guest conductor of the Chicago Symphony orchestra at Ravinia Park. At the end of Ravel's second suite from "Daphnis and Chloe," which closed the program, he received a riot of enthusiasm fully as great as the tumult and cheering after his opening concert last Thursday. Mr. Golschmann has won the greatest popular acclaim of any of the eminent conductors who have appeared at Ravinia this summer.

The performance of "Daphnis and Chloe" which evoked this vigorous demonstration will not be forgotten soon by Mr. Golschmann's large audience. Both a complete master of the score and a dynamo of energy, he turned the Chicago Symphony orchestra into a virtuoso group of astonishing brilliance. Ravel's score, to be sure, is a glorious masterpiece of beautiful orchestral sound. Nevertheless, I have heard it sound lifeless when it was badly conducted. The highest praise, therefore, belongs to Mr. Golschmann for lifting the entire orchestra out of a mood of routine into one of the most scintillant performances it has given in many years.

The rest of the program leading up to this superb climax comprised the overture to "Egmont" and the Seventh Symphony of Beethoven; the prelude and love-death from Wagner's "Tristan and Isolde"; and the prelude to Moussorgsky's opera "Khovanstchina."

Both the Beethoven overture and the symphony were exceedingly well played, with sharp but not headache-producing accents, and with great melodic vitality. Mr. Golschmann is theater-wise without being stagey. In these standard works he kept the interest of the audience alive by observing all the legitimate dramatic values of the music without resorting to distortions or exaggerations.

The excerpts from "Tristan and Isolde" profited from the conductor's particular gift for a flexible and plastic treatment of highly charged emotional melodies. In previous concerts this same gift had made him seem a preëminently satisfying interpreter of Tschaikowsky.

I wish it were possible to report Saturday evening's concert, also conducted by Mr. Golschmann, with the same gusto. Here, unfortunately, mere blanket approval will not do.

The major work of the evening was the First Symphony of Brahms. Every conductor must meet his Waterloo at least once, and Mr. Golschmann met his here. No matter how much he may have studied the symphony [a great deal, I am confident] he does not yet know it with the mastery so evident in the rest of his work.

Nearly every tempo was at least partly ineffective. The architecture of the symphony was largely obscured from view. The dynamic scheme was bad, so that climaxes were either approached without warning or missed altogether. And to cap the climax, the orchestra played woodenly, with little precision and a sodden, waterlogged tone. It was our visitor's only serious fall from grace.

The Andante Cantabile from the familiar Tschaikowsky string quartet, played by the strings of the orchestra, and Rimsky-Korsakoff's "Spanish Caprice" were exhilarating antidotes at the end of the Saturday concert. The "Spanish Caprice" seemed to give off sparks, at least, and perhaps skyrockets and Roman candles as well.

Brief Jackets Catch Eye of Fur Shoppers

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Furs! The parade of silky, sumptuous fur coats has started. Furs at special prices during August. Knowing shoppers visit the various showings for the newest ideas and new high fashion pelts, looking for details of the new season, for beauty, quality, and service. And what's more, finding all in every coat.

Some of the most exciting finds of the shows are the brief, youthful jackets, jaunty and square, in a boxy silhouette. There are new. Marten, opossum, muskrat, sable dyed kolinsky, and mink, as well as Persian, sealskins, and the fluffier furs, such as blue, red, and cross fox pelts, are used for these daring new arrivals.

Worn with wool ensembles or with sleek broadcloth or heavy silks, they are grand all-purpose buys because they can go out of nights over silky evening gowns with the same swank.

Long or short, you can find all kinds of specially designed fur coats. Some reach the kneeline, others clear the hipline, and some clever new models are just long enough to show three or four inches of the hem of the skirt. Persian lamb, long thought of as the coat of the older woman, now becomes the pet of the younger set. Persian lamb keeps you slim and smart, wears amazingly well, and comes in gorgeous shades of every imaginable tone of brown and gray as well as stunning black.

Smooth, gleaming sealskin is another fur formerly reserved for the matron now going places with the appreciative young shopper, for it, too, is cut and styled for youth, with sharp details, a crisp, slender smartness to the streamline. It also comes in brown and black.

Black, lustrous caracul, black Persians, and the crisp, sharp shine of skunk [or marten] are favorites along with the browns a close second. Grays, third position.

Don't delay. See the first showings of fine furs and all the newest models while the collections in every store and shop are complete.

Fashion photograph. . . . A new short length coat of exquisitely marked ginger brown mink. The very narrow collar, the slightly squared shoulder lines, the clever puffed-in cuffs and sleeves, and the short length are all signs of this winter's smartest coats. Will be shown in a Chicago shop.

SYNOPSIS.

Michael Eden, heir to millions, postpones his marriage to Katharine McCann because his foster-father, John Millis, tells him his foster-mother is ill and needs him. Katharine's roommate, Joan, is engaged to Michael's friend, Terry Newton. Terry's uncle, Amos Newton, believes that Millis killed Terry's father, who was Michael's co-guardian. Michael signs a will making Millis his heir, expecting to change it after his marriage to Katharine. Mrs. Millis attempts suicide when she discovers her husband flirting with her nurse. Michael rescues her and takes her away. When he returns to the home of Amos Newton Katharine and he plan to be married next day, though Michael is ill. That night Michael, in delirium, returns to the Millis home, desperately ill with typhoid fever. Katharine obtains Dr. Kittredge to attend him. Ferenzi, a self-confessed poisoner, charges that Millis bought typhoid germs from him. Michael is moved to Amos Newton's home before it is discovered that Millis has been murdered.

INSTALMENT XLIII.

THE WOULD-BE ASSASSIN.

Then, with a change of tone, Amos Newton said: "Forgive me, gentlemen, I am wasting your time. What was it you wished to ask me?"

"Where were you, Mr. Newton," Sullivan roared, "between two and four night before last?"

"No fair," Newton laughed. "I asked you first."

"Kindly answer the question," Sullivan blustered.

"I will not. Not until you answer mine."

"Mr. Newton, this is preposterous. I am not under suspicion."

"Am I?" Newton's tone was faintly menacing.

"Look here, Mr. Newton," Haynes broke in, "will you please proceed to establish an alibi? It will be of assistance to us in eliminating all possibilities."

"Isn't it more to the glory of Mr. Sullivan to surmount obstacles? To fight against frightful odds," Newton laughed.

"The jocular tone which the gentleman sees fit to adopt seems to me in very questionable taste," Sullivan said indignantly, "with John Millis lying dead across the hall."

"What! You do not think I am sorry, do you?" Newton said coldly. "I am glad the man is dead. He was a dangerous man. Excepting for the incredible stupidity of the world at large, and the laxness of the police, Millis would never have lived so long—to kill a useful doctor, to ruin half a dozen girls, to contribute generously to the delinquency of many women, and very nearly to succeed in murdering the boy who was entrusted to his care and upon whom he has depended for his luxurious existence for almost twenty years. I am no morbid sentimentalist to shed tears over the death of that man. I have given you all the time I choose, gentlemen. If you wish to subpena me, pray do so."

A man was sitting on the landing of the main stairway watching them. It was Jameson. Newton looked up and nodded.

"If you don't mind," Kittredge said, "I'll run along."

"Coming up, Amos?" Jameson asked. "This is my office."

"Desirable location," Newton said approvingly, and went up and sat down by him.

"Miss McCann was interrogated this morning," Jameson volunteered.

"Yes? Did they establish her guilt?"

"She was not very satisfactory. She admits that she returned to this house a little before twelve. She says that she came back with a forlorn hope of seeing Mr. Michael Eden, whom she has not seen for four weeks.

"When we asked her how she got in she said that she rang the bell, of course. She did not know who let her in—some servant. She told him that she did not wish to be announced, as she was just going up to leave some flowers for Mr. Eden. No one objected, she said."

"Kind of them not to object to the presence of the lady, who but for Millis' baleful influence would have been Michael's wife," said Amos with bitterness.

"When I asked if she had seen Michael she said that she had not; that she had lost courage. She said she just hung around the corridor; that at intervals she would decide to give up and go home, then get fresh courage and go back again. Once she heard Michael laugh and it was worth all her waiting. Often, she said, she would hear him say something. When asked if she recalled what he said, she said: 'O, yes. Always just thanks.'"

"Poor boy," said Newton. "What else did Katharine say?"

"We asked her if she had been in the library. She said that she had not, nor had she seen John Millis, but that was very satisfactory to her. One of the men asked her if she felt unfriendly to Millis. She said 'Very. They asked her why. She merely shrugged her shoulders.

"Some one asked her if she had any personal grudge against John Millis. She smiled scornfully and said 'Nothing but——' 'What is your grievance, Miss McCann?' one of the men asked. She laughed in his face and said that she had never met a group of men in whom she felt so little urge to confide."

"Good for Katharine," said Amos.

"When asked if she had seen anybody during her long stay she said unhesitatingly that she had not seen a soul, but that she had heard plenty of sounds; that every one seemed awake and stirring about—creeping about, she amended. When we asked her how she managed to avoid them she said carelessly that they were like rats, scuttled away when she drew near.

"We asked her if she had heard any one on the first floor, near the library. 'Everywhere, everywhere,' she said. She told us that she left some time before morning and that she walked out of the front door, and walked home. Then she announced that she was through."

Amos smiled as Jameson finished speaking.

"She did very well," he said. "She was an able student, a very able student."

"See here, Amos," Jameson said quietly, "it is all very well for you people to play horse with the police, but it makes it hard for your friends. You and your young protégé have been mighty well taken care of for forty-eight hours, but the time is coming when we must find out who did this, or deliver you over to the animals. You will not hang, any of you, but you will be in for months of unpleasant publicity. Young just called me and asked me to send you in to see him. He is mighty fond of you, but he can't let you flout the law. Of course, you've lots of powerful friends, but we are having to call on them."

"I'll see Young."

Newton went at once to the state's attorney's office. The state's attorney shook hands with him warmly.

"Amos," he said very directly, "I have never doubted that eventually you would kill John Millis, and that I should have to get you out of the scrape."

"You are quite mistaken, Dan. Had I killed John Millis I should have stood trial for it."

"So you didn't kill him?"

"I did not."

"Got your alibis?"

"I am perfectly protected by alibis."

Young grunted amusedly.

"That's what I told them," he said. "I knew by the way you acted you had a fist full. As friend to friend, where were you last night?"

"There were two would-be assassins in the Newton family," Newton explained amiably. "Neither of us had the backing of the other. We spent the night stalking each other. I refer to my nephew, Terry, whose father John Millis killed, and myself."

"Well, I'm glad it's settled," he said soberly. "I've worried over young Terry, too. The question now is, what in hell are we going to do about young Eden? Hadn't we better plead guilty, attribute it to what it undoubtedly was, an irresponsible act of a delirious boy, and get him acquitted?"

"No, thanks. He did not do it."

"Are you going to be mulish, Amos?" Young said, rather pleadingly.

"What is your case against Michael?"

Newport Lifts Brow at Yacht Hoi Polloi Attending Cup Races

BY NANCY RANDOLPH.

Newport, R. I., Aug. 1.—[Special.]—This stronghold of conservative society is fit to be tied. The queen resort is overrun with yachting hoi polloi here for the America's Cup series between Harold S. Vanderbilt's Ranger and Tom Sopwith's Endeavour II.

It's not as if the harbor were crowded with the socially sacrosanct New York Yacht club fleet or Newport's hotels and inns packed to capacity with its members, or the trafic jams caused by N. Y. C. motors. It's members of any old yacht club who've jammed the harbor so full of craft that open water can scarcely be sighted between boats, who have cleaned out the commissaries of the good restaurants like so many locusts and paralyzed trafic.

Newport isn't accustomed to hoi polloi, even rich hoi polloi riding in yachts and affording the best. A hostelry accustomed to white ties and tails could do nothing before the starving swarms in tweeds and sport dresses. There were actually men in knitted sport shirts and no ties.

The chief topic of conversation everywhere, of course, was yesterday's race. Yachting circles are genuinely sorry and greatly disappointed that the British boat made so poor a showing against the American defender. Sportsmen had expected a great deal of Endeavour II. Of course, it's too early to pass out wreaths, but every one is already feeling terribly sorry for Mr. Sopwith, the British challenger. After yesterday's race some one said: "Three more trials and a goatee and Tom Sopwith will be Sir Thomas Lipton II." The witticism was being repeated all over the colony today with more sorrow than laughter.

Make Plans for Baby's Milk on Trip

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

[Copyright: 1937: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

We still have requests coming in for advice about care of the baby in summer and traveling with the baby in summer. A number of articles have appeared covering this subject pretty thoroughly, with the exception of detailed directions concerning the baby's milk while traveling. Those are given today.

If your baby is breast fed, then you are fortunate. The only thing you have to keep in mind in connection with it is that you keep yourself as rested and unworried as possible.

If your baby is bottle fed, then certain arrangements will have to be made for his feeding. If the journey is only for a day, whether by motor or train, it is possible to prepare beforehand and take with you the day's supply of milk. If your trip is for longer than a day, different arrangements will have to be made, though often it is convenient to take the first day's feedings with you already prepared.

If the journey is by train it is sometimes possible to arrange to have bottled milk or prepared milk delivered to the train en route, in ice boxes, but this is rather expensive. It is also sometimes possible to procure bottled, sealed, pasteurized milk daily while traveling by train, and, of course, this is usually possible by car.

The alternative of bottled milk is the use of some of the prepared milks, powdered, or evaporated, or the proprietary baby's foods. Consult your doctor about these and about a formula. Don't start on your journey without adequate plans concerning the milk part of your baby's diet.

If your journey is just for a day, or if it is for longer and you are planning to take the first day's supply already prepared with you, here is the way to go about it:

Prepare the necessary number of bottle for a day's feeding.

You will need an automobile refrigerator or other portable ice box for them. This can be bought, or one can be improvised as follows: Have a pail big enough to hold the bottles of milk in cracked ice. Put this pail in another one about two inches wider all around, packing saw dust between the two pails. Put plenty of newspapers over the two pails and cover over that. Then as each bottle is needed it can be heated.

A simpler method for one day is to use a good quality thermos bottle. Put the day's supply of milk in it and take it out as needed. Be sure that your thermos bottle is absolutely clean before you put the milk in, that it has been thoroughly chilled, and that the boiled milk is cold when put in. Of course do not use the milk after it has been in more than twenty-four hours.

The empty sterilized nursing bottles for the day must be stoppered and put in a container, pail or otherwise, tightly covered. Sterile nipples will also need to be kept in a sterile container. If you use the thermos, it is possible to carry fewer bottles and nipples than with the other plan, because you can sterilize them after using.

Tomorrow I will discuss the baby's milk while traveling, and other foods he will need.

Previous directions for traveling with the baby covering other points may be obtained by sending for the leaflets: "Traveling with the Baby in Summer" and "Care of the Baby in Summer." It will be necessary to send a large, 3-cent, stamped, self-addressed envelope for each one. Address Mrs. Bevans, The Chicago Tribune, Chicago, Ill.

Mrs. Bevans' column also appears in The Sunday Tribune.

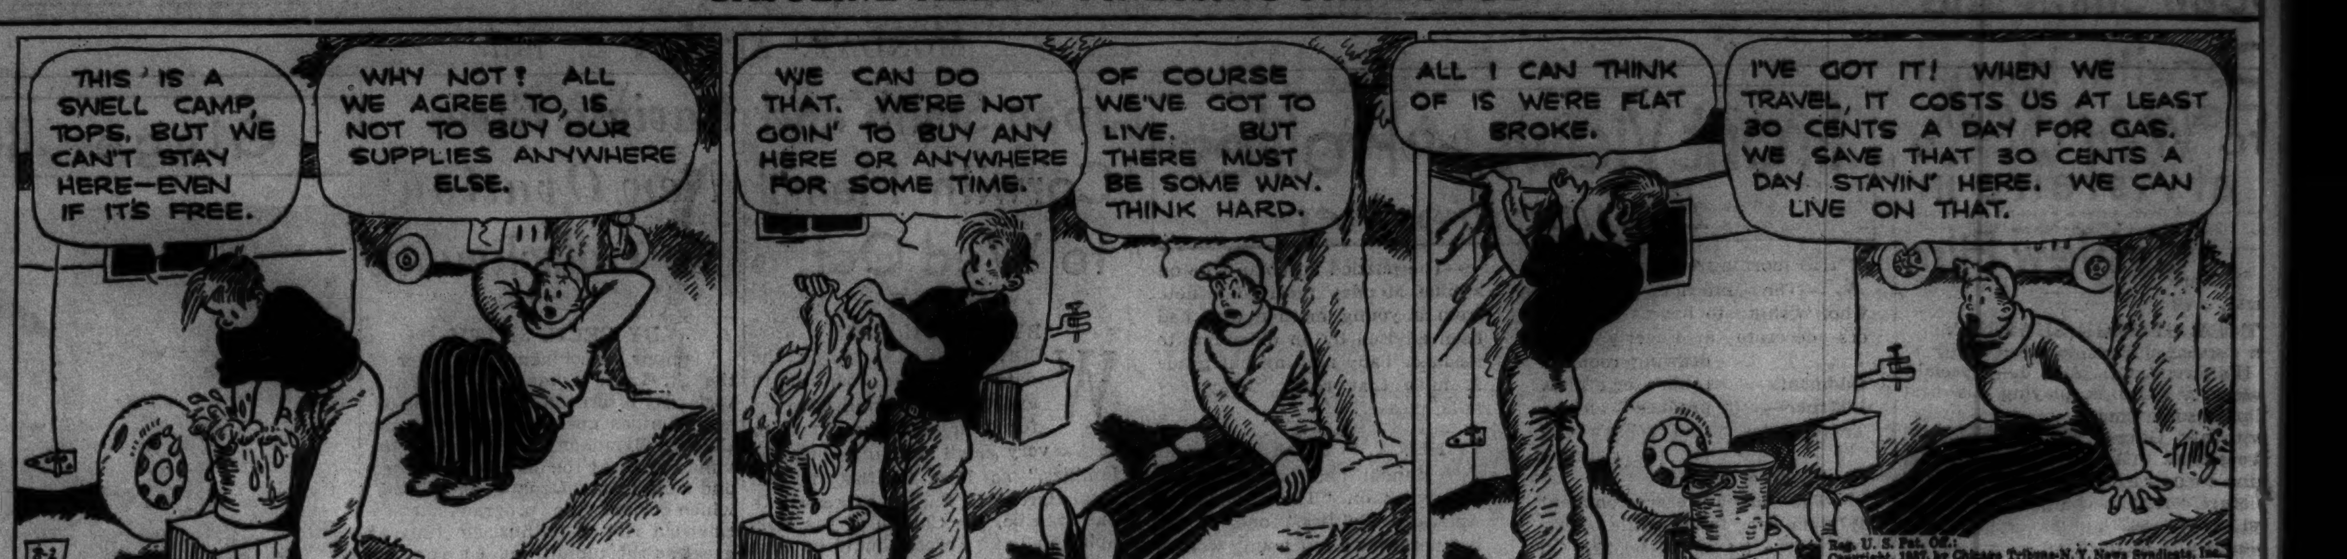
GASOLINE ALLEY—FINESSING THE BUDGET



THIS IS A SWELL CAMP, TOPS, BUT WE CAN'T STAY HERE—EVEN IF IT'S FREE.
WHY NOT! ALL WE AGREE TO, IS NOT TO BUY OUR SUPPLIES ANYWHERE ELSE.
WE CAN DO THAT. WE'RE NOT GOIN' TO BUY ANY HERE OR ANYWHERE FOR SOME TIME.
OF COURSE WE'VE GOT TO LIVE. BUT THERE MUST BE SOME WAY. THINK HARD.
ALL I CAN THINK OF IS WE'RE FLAT BROKE.
I'VE GOT IT! WHEN WE TRAVEL, IT COSTS US AT LEAST 30 CENTS A DAY FOR GAS. WE SAVE THAT 30 CENTS A DAY STAYIN' HERE. WE CAN LIVE ON THAT.

Culbertson's "Gold Book of Bidding and Play"

THE FOUR-FIVE NO TRUMP CONVENTION.

[Copyright: 1937: By Ely Culbertson.]

When a four no trump bid is made, and the partner does not have an ace in his hand, but is void in a suit, he may bid that suit as if it were an ace if it is lower in rank than the eventual trump suit.

However, if his void suit is higher ranking than the eventual trump suit, he should not show the void for fear that there will be duplication of values and that the contract will be forced too high.

A void never is counted as an ace in making the five no trump response When partner bids four no trump, and you hold an ace and a void, show the ace, but do not bid five no trump.

Response to Four No Trump After a Two Bid.

When a player who has made an opening forcing two bid later uses the four no trump bid, he expects the same responses as when the opening bid was a suit bid of one, with this important exception:

The responder, holding an ace or a void in an unbid suit, must show the ace or void whether the suit is higher or lower in rank than the eventual trump suit, and whether his hand contains added values or not.

TODAY'S HAND.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 club	Pass	1 diamond	Pass
3 no trump	Pass	5 diamonds	Pass
6 no trump	Pass	Pass	Pass

North's jump from three no trump to five diamonds was not so good, his extreme suit length not compensating for his weakness in honor tricks.

West opened the spade ten. Dummy ducked, and East, who recognized the lead as top of nothing, saw that he might be giving declarer two spade tricks by playing the ace and hence contented himself with an encouraging card. Declarer won, and cashed his three top diamonds, then the club ace. The club jack followed and, when West unaccommodatingly refused to cover, declarer decided that he would not risk everything on the immediate finesse. If the finesse lost he would go down about four tricks and he therefore decided to try to drop the queen doubleton, failing which he might be able to effect a psuedo-squeeze toward the end of the hand.

Of course, declarer was pretty disgusted when he found his troubles would have been over had he let the jack ride, this information reaching him when East failed to follow on the king of clubs.

Three more rounds of diamonds were cashed, and at this point the situation was:

On the last diamond East indicated that he was keeping a heart honor by discarding the spade jack. Declarer threw away the jack of hearts and West threw away the defense. On the theory that his partner was guarding spades West guarded hearts, which forced him to let go the spade. Declarer then led dummy's low club. West took the queen, but had to lead a heart to declarer's blank ace, and the established club completed the contract.

300 Artists Enter Works for Chicago Jubilee Exhibition

More than 300 artists yesterday had filed their entries for the Charter Jubilee art exhibition which is to be opened next Sunday afternoon on Navy pier and to be continued until Labor day. The entry deadline is next Wednesday, according to Charles S. Peterson, chairman of the exhibition committee.

All Chicago artists of every school of artistic expression have been invited to take part. The pictures will be hung under the direction of LeRoy Lodin, instructor at the Art institute, with no attempt being made to group them according to radical or conservative character.

The art exhibition will be opened by a short program at which Chauncey McCormick, chairman of the Jubilee art committee, will speak.

The best test for jelly is the "sheeting off" test. It is possible to use a thermometer, too, but temperatures are likely to vary at the jellying point and this method is not entirely accurate. To make the sheeting test a large, clean spoon is dipped into the boiling sirup, and as soon as the liquid hangs to the spoon in several drops which run together in a "sheet," the jelly is done and should be removed immediately from the stove.

Jelly always should be cooked in small batches. Two quarts of juice is the maximum quantity which can be handled easily and with assured success at one time.

Pectin, acid, and sugar are the three essentials to jellying. Fruits which lack pectin or acid must have it added in some form. Fruits which contain enough pectin and acid to jell without the addition of commercial fruit pectin include currants, gooseberries, tart apples, crabapples, quinces, some varieties of plums, and wild grapes. Red and black raspberries and blackberries contain enough pectin, but may be lacking in acid, so it is advisable to add a tablespoon of lemon juice to each cup of juice when making jelly from these berries.

To make jelly from peaches, pears, cherries, strawberries, and the like, it is necessary to add pectin in the form of a fruit juice which contains it, or in the form of commercially prepared liquid or powder. Pears also need the addition of acid lemon juice.

It is important to follow a jelly recipe exactly from extraction of juice to pouring the sirup into the glasses. Too little sugar will cause it to become tough or stringy, too much sugar may cause it to crystalize or become sirupy. Overcooking always will result in a sirupy mass which refuses to jell. Squeezing the jelly bag or cooking the fruit too long before extracting the juice may cause cloudy jelly. Using too green fruit will have the same result.

The right type of jelly bag is essential. One may be made at home from a yard of 36 inch medium weight canton flannel and a half yard of strong linen tape. The bag should be cut with straight sides and a rounded end. The rounded end is easy to clean and the jelly will drip through it more readily than through a pointed end.

The nap of the flannel should be placed on the inside and the seams should be finished on the outside of the bag where they will not interfere with dripping. The tape should be sewed firmly to the top to form loops by which to hang the bag. Each time the bag is used it should be turned inside out and rinsed. Boiling water may be poured through it to remove much of the fruit stain before the bag is laundered.

Tomorrow's article will continue this discussion of jelly making and will include recipes for the jellies which seem to be most in demand, judging from this department's mail and telephone inquiries.

National Masters Bridge Title Play to Start Thursday

Asbury Park, N. J., Aug. 1.—(AP)—An imposing array of bridge experts, from New York, the middle west and the south, will compete in the national master's pair championship, blue ribbon event of the eleventh annual tournament of the American Bridge league which opens here tomorrow.

Nearly sixty pairs, an increase of twenty-five per cent over 1936, have entered the event, in which Oswald Jacoby and David Burnstine, half of the New York team of four aces, will defend the title they won a year ago. The opening rounds of the event are scheduled for Thursday.

The field so far, includes Bixby Wingate and Mrs. Dorothy M. Healy, Chicago; Arthur Gleatt and Albert Weiss, Chicago; Prof. and Mrs. L. C. Urquarhart, Ithaca, N. Y.; Dr. Louis Marks and Ralph Miller, Columbus, O.; Mr. and Mrs. James Lemon, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. David M. Petty and Mrs. Samuel T. Harleman, Bethlehem, Pa.; Senator William Barrett, Atlanta, Ga., and John Rau, New York, Fred Levy, Montgomery, Ala., and Mrs. Margaret Wagar, Atlanta, Ga.; Dr. Henry J. Vogel and Mrs. Robert Fuller, New York, William E. McKenney, New York, secretary of the league, and E. Melvin Goddard, Asbury Park, tournament chairman, and Edgar F. Tierney and Harry Pilnick, Springfield, Mass.

The defense of two titles will begin on the opening day. Mrs. Jay S. Jones Jr. and Mrs. R. C. Young, Philadelphia, will seek to repeat the victory they scored a year ago in the women's national pair championship and Dr. R. H. Ecker Jr. and Fred D. Kaplan, New York, are entered again in the men's national pair event.

Shirring Is Dainty Detail

WOMAN'S AND MISS' FROCK.

This lovely frock with the slender silhouette is given feminine lines through the use of soft shirring in the waist and capelet sleeves, all of which are gathered into a narrow band around the neckline. The original is fashioned of printed cotton voile, as shown in the sketch at the right. A plain sheer also makes up well, as the other figure illustrates. Paneling works magic all the way from the yoke to the hemline. Buttons may embellish one panel seam, as shown in the printed version. Pockets with clever little flaps are pretty and useful as well. You may have a tailored belt or wind a ribbon around your waist, to harmonize with the buttons you select as trimming.

Other soft summer fabrics which are easily shirred also will make up well in this model. There is a wide variety of prints and pretty shades from which to choose.

Style No. 2581 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18 and 20 years, and 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40 inches bust measurement. Size 16 requires three yards of 39 inch material, with two and one-half yards of two inch ribbon.

Shirley Temple Movie Is Next on Party List

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Tribune Charities, Inc.]

Remember all the fascinating tales that Rudyard Kipling wrote for and about boys and girls? Have you read about the white man's little cub, found by Father and Mother Wolf, who called him Mowgli because he looked like a little frog? Do you know all about the adventures of Stalky and Beetle?

"Wee Willie Winkie" is another of his fine tales and it has been adapted for Shirley Temple and made into a splendid movie. It has all kinds of excitement in it and the story concerns a little girl who lives at an army post in India. She's the pet of all the soldiers, and even has a uniform just like theirs.

The film is now showing at the Roosevelt theater, and on Aug. 12, I'm going to take one hundred boys and girls to see it. If you'd like to be one of this group, write a letter and tell me why you think you'd enjoy the party.

There are just a few little things to remember when you're writing. First of all, you must write the letter yourself. Then, I want to know your full name, address and age. Please do not ask for invitations for your friends or little brothers or sisters. Tell them to write their own letters and, if you wish, you may enclose them in the same envelope.

Those are the only rules you must observe to make your letter eligible to be judged for an invitation. Thursday is the last day on which your letter may reach me, so don't wait too long before mailing that letter to Sally Joy Brown, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

Lily Pons to Give Training to Dance Orchestra Tenor

New Canaan, Conn., Aug. 1.—[Special.]—A 24 year old youth whose only singing experience had been with small dance orchestras will leave here tomorrow for Hollywood as the protégé of Lily Pons, world famous opera star, for voice training that Miss Pons expects will carry him to grand opera or possibly into the movies. He is Thomas McGrath, whose lyric tenor voice has so impressed the opera star that she is taking him to the coast with her entourage so that he may pursue voice culture under her personal direction with the aid of her own teacher and maestro, Alberti Gerostiad, famous Parisian voice teacher.

Women in Congress Keep Offices Almost as Plain as Men's

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1.—(AP)—Unlike Ruth Bryan Owen, who used to give her house office a feminine touch by hanging dainty curtains, present congresswomen transact business in surroundings almost as plain as those of their men colleagues.

The "office trimmings" of Senator Hattie Caraway [D., Ark.] include a white marble fireplace and handset telephones. She likes flowers and a small Arkansas flag on her desk and personally tends a water-growing vine.

Representative Virginia Jenckes [D., Ind.] sits at a desk flanked by large American and Indiana state flags draped on tall staffs. Among her papers are a brass dog stamplicker, a carved wooden rooster and a China donkey for paper clips. Walls boast framed records of ancestry.

Representative Edith Nourse Rogers [R., Mass.] always has one or two bouquets and a tiny American flag on her desk. There's a picture of the congressional baseball team when her late husband was a member.

"Let me live in a house by the side of the road," hangs in a motto frame in the sanctum of Mrs. Mary Norton [D., N. J.]. Brass fish serve as bookends for congressional directories.

A vase of Texas bluebonnets and a group of relief project paintings brighten the office of Representative Caroline O'Day [D., N. Y.]. Empty milk bottles tell tales of hasty lunches.

Mothers Must Train Girls in Voice Control

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Mothers, you can do much toward endowing your daughters with charm by watching their vocal development. You do not need to be an expert voice coach, you understand! You probably aren't so equipped, but when your girls, in their early 'teens, give vent to those too-familiar loud voiced utterances, you can remind them of what they're doing.

We think of one young miss who probably is the best dressed youngster of 13 in her group. Mom sees to it that the child gets her permanent and her manicures. She does dress her with fine taste and the girl has a fine flair of clothes. But everyone comments on the child's coarse voice. It comes up and out of her like a foghorn, only worse, because a foghorn doesn't rasp on the nerves the way this youngster's voice does.

Near a friend of mine resides a family that puts on great airs for these days, when moneyed airs are not considered in particularly good form. The 14 year old talks of the trips she's taken. She's been to Europe several times. She's been all over America apparently. This child is not an attractive girl, but she has in her the makings of charm if her Mom only were equipped to pass it on to her. But mother screams at her in the coarsest voice [yes, and language, too] when she wants to call her in for meals. All of which amuses the neighborhood, considering the airs of the family. The poor youngster's voice is worse than even her mother's.

Then there is a third girl in her 'teens who actually cannot be understood because of the pace at which she sets her speech and the slurring of words and running of them together. One must ask her to repeat almost every sentence.

Of course, a mother has to be aware of voice quality herself before she can become any kind of a constructive critic. But when people are talking the way they do of the loud, the coarse voiced youngster Mom just ought to make herself aware of this vitally important charm feature. And we speak of the particular 'teen age, since habits unchecked at this age are more than likely to stick during those later 'teens and early twenties when the daughter's attractiveness, or lack of it, is going to mean much to mothers.

When young girls talk roughly, the reflection is on the mother more than on the child. The school is not blamed, nor should it be. It's what the child hears around home that forms her habits. True, some of the youngsters give their mothers surprising shocks in connection with their voices. Mothers know they never heard that kind of talk around home, but they know, too, that the moment has arrived when daughter's vocal machine needs oiling and smoothing down.

Is falling hair a danger signal? Antoinette Donnelly tells when it is and what to do about it in her booklet, "Bring Out the Beauty in Your Hair." Get a copy today. On sale at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower. Price, 5 cents. By postpaid mail, 7 cents.

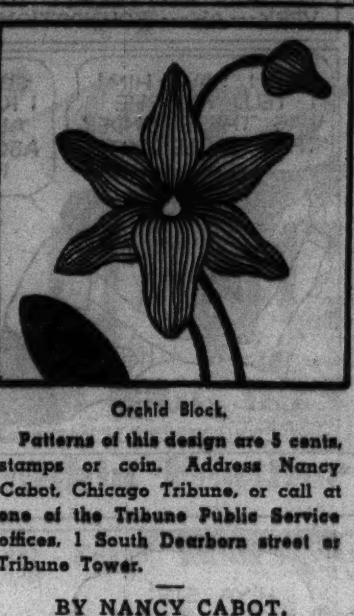
Graceful Orchid Is Newcomer to World of Quilts



Orchid Block.

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

BY NANCY CABOT.

The "Orchid Block" depicted in the illustration is a new contribution to the scores of patterns published in this column during the last several years. The graceful flower petals may be cut from any of the lovely orchid shades, while the leaves are of a soft, smooth green. A quilt made from "Orchid Block" is composed entirely of applique blocks set together with two inch bands of pale lavender and finished with a four inch border matching the bands. The finished coverlet measures 90 by 104 inches.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

Lovely ladies—and all of us who like to think we're lovely—have a weakness for luxurious baths. There's just something about the perfumed, leisurely bath that makes every plain Jane feel like an orchid.

Of course you know of the fad for the bubbly and the milky bath. Not in years has there been such a fashion for a whimsical beauty treat. Now the maker of a "milk bath" powder has brought out her preparation in two new odors—pine and jasmin.

The powder itself is tossed into the tub while the cold water is running full force; swish your hand through it several times and in a few seconds you'll have more foam than you ever dreamed of. When you have the swooshy foam well worked up turn on your warm water and then toss yourself into the bubbly white depths. The millions of snowy bubbles make your bath a joy. There's something infinitly refreshing about it. And cooling.

A very fine, almost invisible film of the milk powder will cling to the skin afterward to help it feel soft and cool and smooth. And the powder has deodorizing powers. You'll be free from perspiration odors for the duration of the day.

The new fragrances are perfect in their kind. Our pine loving guinea pigs tell us that this version is just right in its breath-of-the-woods freshness. We ourselves can vouch for the beauty of the jasmin, which is more to our own taste. It's superlatively feminine and delicately sweet.

We know you'll like the milky powder in the one of these fragrances that best suits your tastes.

Picking Petty Quarrel Is a Wifely Fault

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Our ire is stirred by a long recital of a wrong inflicted by a mate whose claim to brutality [as presented by the wife] is based on him stepping out one evening and forgetting to come back home at the promised hour, presenting a story which later proved to be a fabrication. No doubt done in self-protection.

The man set out to call on his mother. He called on her all right. There he met a couple of men in-laws, and the three decided it was a hot night and a beer would be "what the doctor would order." So they went to a beer garden and forgot there was a time clock to be punched at home by the husband of our complainant. His alibi fabrication, based no doubt on an unholy fear of the nagging female's tongue never could be construed as an enormous crime. He just said he met up with a fellow and they were talking business.

"It's the deceit of it I can't stand!" the woman wails. "There is no justifiable reason for him to be deceitful to me. I am a good wife to him. He has nothing to reproach me for in our seven years of marriage!"

Bah, sister! The fact that he is so afraid of you he didn't dare tell the truth to you, simple as it was, is a reproach against you. Be yourself and stop your childish whining!

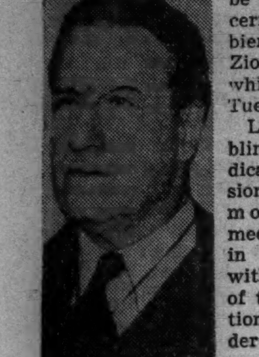
WORLD ZIONISTS WILL DISCUSS PALESTINE SPLIT

Session Opens Tomorrow in Zurich; 500 Gather.

ZURICH, Switzerland, Aug. 1.—(AP)—The British proposal for partition of Palestine will be the chief concern of the 20th biennial world Zionist congress, which opens here Tuesday.



Rabbi Stephen S. Wise.

Leaders assembling tonight indicated the session would be the most important meeting of Jews in many years, with the future of the Jewish national home under anxious discussion.

The British scheme, which would divide Palestine into a Jewish state, an Arab state, and a British mandate, now is under consideration by the league of nations permanent mandates commission.

More than 500 delegates from 50 countries were expected to attend the congress, which will celebrate the 40th anniversary of the world Zionist organization. Some predicted the sessions would extend beyond the schedule of 12 days if full discussion of the future of Palestine made that desirable.

90 in U. S. Delegation.

Rabbi Stephen S. Wise of New York headed the United States delegation of 90. The largest single delegation was expected to be one of 124 delegates from Palestine itself.

Observers said opposition to the royal commission proposal was divided into two groups—those who opposed partition on any terms and those who disagreed with the commission's method of dividing the territory.

Jewish leaders believed the congress and the royal commission report marked the beginning of a new chapter in the history of Jewish striving for a national home.

Services to Honor Herzl.

The first period started, they said, when Theodor Herzl, a Viennese journalist, called the first world Zionist congress in 1897 after the Dreyfus case in France stirred anti-Semitic sentiment.

The beginning of the second period was seen in the Balfour declaration of 1917, which pledged Great Britain to promote a Jewish national home in Palestine.

On Aug. 8 Herzl will be honored in special services at Basel to mark the 40th anniversary of his first congress.

RUSSIA HOLDS 30 IN 'PLOT'; BISHOP, PRIESTS ACCUSED

MOSCOW, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Thirty persons, including a bishop and twelve priests, are under arrest on charges of enlisting worshipers around Orel in a "Fascist counterrevolutionary" plot to restore power of the Orthodox church and overthrow the soviet régime, the atheist magazine "Bezboznik" said today.

The prisoners were arrested in April and May and presumably are awaiting trial. Nothing was said about their conviction.

Bishop Inokenty Nikeforov, the archpriest Voskresensky, well known debater with atheists on religious subjects, and two priests of their church in Orel were described as leaders of the plot.

Among the defendants are three monks, two former nuns, a former prince, three onetime landlords and eight other men who once owned property.

Under cover of the constitutional provision for freedom of religious worship, the magazine said, the defendants sought to rally reactionaries around the Orthodox church and to stir widespread insurrection among the clergy.

They were accused of educating children in an "anti-soviet spirit" and of enlisting believers in a plot to overthrow the soviet régime.

MEMORIAL RITES CONDUCTED FOR MISS BABCOCK

Memorial services for Miss L. Ellen Babcock, former president of the Chicago Federated Charities, who died July 23 at Chestnut Hill, Mass., were conducted yesterday by her friends and business associates at 32 West Randolph street. The services were conducted by James S. Baley, chairman of the Seventeenth Church of Christ, Scientist, of Chicago, of which Miss Babcock was a member. For the last eighteen years Miss Babcock had been affiliated with the Chicago office of the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance company. She lived at the Monterey apartment hotel.

Dog Attacks His Master's Friend as He Stops to Chat

Attacked by a police dog as he chatted with its master, Edward Fairchild, 44 years old, of 2618 Wayne avenue, was severely injured last night in front of a closed saloon at 2659 Wayne avenue. He was taken to the Alexian Brothers hospital. The dog is kept as a watch dog in the saloon, owned by Frank Wagner. George Paluch, the watchman, was taking it out on a leash for a walk when he met Fairchild and the two began talking. Suddenly the dog leaped upon Fairchild.

H. L. Paddock, Ex-Consul and Dewey's Aid, Dies

HONGKONG, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Harry L. Paddock, former United States consul at Amoy, China, and a retired naval officer, died today of pneumonia. He was 57 years old. Paddock, a former Californian, was an engineer with Admiral Dewey's fleet during the Spanish-American war with the rank of lieutenant commander.

BUT I SAW HIM! I TELL YOU HE WAS THERE, UNDER THAT TABLE CLOTH-
SURE- I KNOW ALL ABOUT IT-
YOU'VE TOLD ME A THOUSAND TIMES- SANDY RAN UNDER THE TABLE AND CAME OUT COVERED WITH THE TABLE CLOTH- I KNOW- YOU SAW HIM- YOU WERE ALL SET TO KICK HIM--
SURE- THEN ANNIE SAID A BUNCH OF STRANGE WORDS AND MADE SOME MOTIONS--- AND WHEN YOU KICKED, THE DOG WAS GONE AND YOU LIT ON THE BACK OF YOUR NECK- HERE- DRINK THIS BROTH-
BUT, I TELL YOU, I SAW HIM- BUT WHEN I KICKED HE WAS GONE! VANISHED!
CRAZY! MUST HAVE FALLEN ON HIS HEAD TOO HARD- MAYBE IT'LL TEACH HIM A LESSON--- BUT I DOUBT IT-

MUSEUM HUNTS PUBLIC VISITOR NO. 20,000,000

Some day this week an innocent visitor to the Field museum will be halted as he enters the door.

The arrest will bring glory, rather than stigma, however, for he will be the 20 millionth person to pass through the doors since the present museum on the lake front was opened on May 2, 1921.

The 20 millionth visitor will receive a personal welcome by Clifford C. Gregg, museum director, and a special certificate of life membership which at any other time would cost him about $500.

Director Gregg estimates that No. 20,000,000 should arrive Thursday or Friday.

The museum now has an average attendance of 1,250,000 a year. Director Gregg pointed out, more than five times its average of 228,000 a year when housed, until 16 years ago, in Jackson park. In the old building, he said, there were only six million visitors in 26 years.

The first year in which more than a million persons visited the museum was 1927. That year the total shot up to 1,043,546, and has never gone down. The largest single day's attendance came Aug. 24, 1933, with 65,966 visitors between 9 a. m. and 6 p. m.

A special exhibit, illustrating the advances made in museum technique in the last two decades, opened yesterday in the main hall, where it will continue through Sept. 6.

Most striking features of this exhibit are contrasting displays showing advances in taxidermy. A famous example of this is the present fighting African elephant group which rear upward, monumental, realistic and inspiring, in the center of Stanley Field hall. A photograph preserves memories of their predecessors: A stiff popeyed elephant, its four legs drawn down like sticks, holding a stiff little baby elephant, also well rooted to the ground, by its trunk. A mounted seal is reared uncomfortably upright nearby, its mouth open.

NATIONAL GUARD FIELD TRAINING TO START TODAY

Camp Grant, Ill., Aug. 1.—[Special.]—Units of the 33d division, Illinois National Guard, here for their annual two weeks field work, will begin the serious part of their training. Infantry regiments will go through extended order drills, scouting and patrolling exercises and receive instructions in the combat principles of the squad.

The aviation section, composed of nine planes under command of Major Clifford A. McElvain, will take the air early in a formation flying practice, and also will conduct a radio communications exercise between three planes in the air and one on the ground.

Beginning tomorrow and on each succeeding day of the training period designated officers and noncommissioned officers will attend special schools on various phases of army organization and operation conducted by experts in specialized subjects. There are twenty-five regular army officers here as instructors.

Thomas Curley Funeral Services Will Be Today

Funeral services will be conducted at 10 o'clock this morning for Thomas J. Curley, 2035 North Karlov avenue, assistant manager for the Continental Can company, who died Wednesday at the age of 48. The services will be conducted from St. Philomena church, with burial in St. Joseph cemetery. Mr. Curley is survived by his widow, Alma, his mother, Mrs. Nana Curley, three daughters, Marion, Marcella, and Dolores, and two sons, Thomas Jr. and Joseph.

Miss Mary Bye Stalker, Social Worker, Is Dead

Miss Mary Bye Stalker, for the last nineteen years superintendent of the Denver Orphans' home in Denver, died yesterday at her Chicago home, 437 Deming place. Before taking the Denver position she was for many years a Chicago social worker. Surviving are two sisters, Elizabeth and Clara, both of this city, and a brother, Herbert, of Toledo.

It's the luxury mattress of our royal line

Four months ago our "Royal Scot" was accepted so enthusiastically by Chicagoans that we are now introducing the second of our royal family, the "Queen o' Scots." Made by master craftsmen, using the famous Karr innerspring construction and the very finest materials, this is a mattress of unparalleled comfort and durability. Small wonder that it is the first choice of leading hotels and hospitals the country over.

Whipcord ticking in rich beige and brown emphasizes its custom construction

Its smart beige and brown whipcord ticking is a fabric never before to our knowledge used as a mattress cover . . . unusual and stunning, it is also one of the most durable fabrics made. Other details of materials and construction prove this to be one of the finest mattresses we've ever offered. It is your guarantee for the soundest, most healthful and most refreshing sleep you've ever had.

Box Springs to Match, $29.95

Note These Important Facts

1. Its unique spring construction makes it noiseless . . . easy to turn . . . lightweight . . . easy to ventilate . . . and its twice-tempered steel coils give it highest resiliency.

2. Over the innerspring there are deep layers of top-quality felted cotton, a stitched sisal bat and a heavy spring cover.

3. Exceptionally sturdy pre-built border, padded with heavy layers of felt and stitched through and through to hold it firm.

4. 8 ventilators—4 on each side—of a very high grade and in a brown color that exactly matches the border.

5. Velvo-grip handles, covered in a fine quality rayon and with a spring steel back which anchors them permanently,

6. Beige buttons, instead of tufts, which blend perfectly with the cover.

7. Beige and brown cord as a finishing touch around the border.

8. Matching box spring made by hand of good resilient coils, all tied 8 ways with heavy hemp twine . . . upholstered with thick layers of elastic felt and covered in the same fine quality whipcord used in the mattress.

Simmons' Clearance of Studio Couches

$39.95

There are just 60 of them—top-grade Simmons studio couches, many of them just like those we've sold on the floor for $59.50, but now at a special price because we've made a special purchase.

Every couch has two thick, soft innerspring mattresses, so it can be used as a single or a double bed.

You'd look far to find a better-looking studio couch, for these are covered in the tapestries, mohair friezes, and friezettes which are used on nationally advertised couches . . . in fact, these covers are sample remnants, a few of each kind. In rust, green, blue, brown, and mulberry.

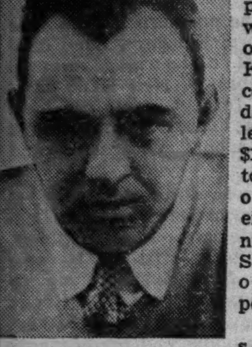
SNEAD SHOOTS 283; CAPTURES ST. PAUL OPEN

Goggin in Second Place with 284.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 1.—(AP)—Young Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., displayed two potent samples of his winter form over the Keller course today, and collected the $1,200 victor's share of the eighth annual $5,000 St. Paul open golf pot.



Sam Snead.

Snead, a sensation during the winter money tours, knocked out two subpar 71s in the final 36 hole drive for a total of 283 strokes, one ahead of Big Willie Goggin of San Francisco, who had made his best showing in many tournaments. Goggin, ahead by one stroke at the 63 hole stage, sagged just enough on the final nine holes to be forced to settle for the $750 second prize.

Snead Forced to Rally.

Snead, who finished runnerup to Ralph Guldahl in the national open at Oakland Hills in June, achieved his first major triumph since the winter season with the aid of two rousing comebacks. Starting out today with a 141 total behind him he staggered through his first nine holes in 38 strokes.

Coming back he was one over par on the first hole, but from there on he was good, knocking down birdies on the 12th and 13th holes, and packing his big punch into the 18th, where he drilled in a six foot putt for an eagle three and a 71.

With Goggin and Ben Hogan, professional from Fort Worth, Tex., even with him at the start of the final round at 212 strokes, Snead slowed down again and rounded the last turn with one over par. Once more he was over par on the 10th, but he used the next two for birdies, parred the 13th and came back for another birdie on the 14th.

Cooper Collapse Surprises.

The astonishing collapse of Harry Cooper of Chicago, three times winner of the event and usually a deadly scorer on the Keller premises, furnished the rest of the tournament's excitement. Harry fulfilled advance expectations Thursday by smashing out a brilliant 33—35—68, four strokes under par, but needed a 73 Saturday, and dwindled away to a 74 and a 75 today to finish with 290.

Splitting up the third, fourth and fifth slices of the purse were Johnny Revolta, former P. G. A. champion from Chicago, who staged a great finish with a pair of 70s; Pat Sawyer, young Minneapolis professional, and Kasmir Zabowski of Winnipeg, Man., who came home even with 285 totals.

Guldahl landed in a six-way tie for the next position at 288, with Alvin [Butch] Kreuger of Beloit, Wis.; Ernest J. [Dutch] Harrison of Little Rock, Ark.; Ray Mangrum of Dayton, O., and Hogan.

Little Blows Up.

Lawson Little Jr. of San Francisco, who was the 36 hole leader at 140 strokes, blew up to a 76 on his last tour and wound up in a tie at 289 with Horton Smith and Johnny Bulla of Chicago. Smith shot a 68 on his final round.

The amateur medal went to Dick Price of Wichita, Kas., whose total was 291. Bill Zieske of Minneapolis was second with 295.

Sam Snead, $1200; Willie Goggin, $750; John Revolta, K. C. Zabowski, and Pat Sawyer, $150 each; E. J. Harrison, Alvin Krueger, Ray Mangrum, Mike Murra, Ben Hogan, and Ralph Guhldahl, $216.67 each; John Bulla and Lawson Little, $106.67, and Harry Cooper, $80.

Sawyer also won $50 for being the low Minnesota pro, being followed in this department by Vernon Allen with $35 and Lester Bolstad with $15.

In the Wake of the News

BY ARCH WARD.

STANFORD probably will win the traveling title in 1937 football. . . . Besides their usual trips to play coast rivals, Tiny Thornhill's players will meet Columbia in New York, after which they will sail for Hawaii for games on Christmas and New Year's day. . . . Should Stanford receive an invitation to play in the Rose Bowl, the trip to Hawaii will be canceled. . . . Ray Buivid, Marquette's brilliant half back who has been elected to the All-Star squad, will receive his degree at summer commencement exercises on Aug. 6. . . . Orville Paul, one armed semi-pro, pitches to the Cardinals in batting practice. . . . Bill Killefer and Lefty O'Doul, Coast league managers, put on a milking contest prior to a recent game. . . . Colleges in Turkey have adopted crew racing. . . . Barney Ross is the only fighter allowed to train at the exclusive Grossinger club in the east. . . . Boston Red Sox teammates call Bing Miller Uncle Tom. . . . Knoxville of the Southern association has released Beattie Feathers, Bear half back, for failure to hit. . . . Carl Hubbell has beaten the Pirates 33 times and lost only 13 to them since entering the National league. . . .

Horton Smith says that the British P. G. A. did far more than could reasonably have been expected in extending courtesy and paying bills for the American Ryder cup team during its recent trip to England. . . . Britons met the team at Plymouth and had first class reservations for the ten players, five wives, and the manager on the ride to London. . . . The party was registered at the Savoy hotel for a day with all bills paid by the British. . . . Sixteen berths on the fast train from London to Southport were given the players and they were put up in the town's best hotel. . . . For a week the British again footed the bill, including caddy fees and transportation to the Southport links. . . . "This record speaks for itself," says Smith. . . . "There's no question about the sort of reception and treatment the responsible parties in Great Britain wished to accord us. I hope we may do as well by their representatives when they come to the United States in 1939." . . .

Telling the World.

On River road there's a barbecue stand that features barbecued rabbit and they announce the fact with a sign reading "Bunny on a Bun." The other day I happened to be driving by there with a girl friend who took a peek at the sign and cracked: "Just look at that. Some poor girl is on a binge and they have to hang out a notice advertising the fact."

—Chet Swital.

Compensations.

Our vacation days are over,
We must get back in line;
We've broken an all time record
For a grand and glorious time.
No more evening shadows
Under starlit skies,
There are compensations going home
There'll be no more bugs or flies.
We can't have happy fish fries
Down by the babbling brook,
But at home there's an electric fan
And a good old colored cook.

What a Help!

We were looking for a certain cottage at a lake in Wisconsin. As we approached the beach we saw what appeared to be a native walking along the road, so we asked him where we could find the people we were looking for. He answered: "Just go to the end of this road and turn to the right and it's the second house from the Joneses." He continued on and so did we, much enlightened.

Pioneering the Place Kick.

The other day you mentioned that the first time the place kick in football had been attempted successfully in the west was in the 1898 game between Notre Dame and Illinois. For nearly 40 years I have been under the delusion that I held the ball for the first place kick made in the west and it was not in the Illinois-Notre Dame game, but in a high school game on Oct. 23, 1897. Assuming that the Notre Dame-Illinois game was the first time it was used in western colleges, let me say that the Ripon High school team of which I was a member used it frequently with success during the rest of the 1897 season.

—A. B. Carter, Ripon, Wis.

Ten Years Ago Today—Chicago was assured of the Dempsey-Tunney heavyweight championship fight when the south park board agreed to rent Soldiers' field for the battle.

Lincoln Fields Opens Today; Handicap Heads Program

BY FRENCH LANE.

To the countryside south of Chicago the racegoers will move today for the opening of the annual summer season at the Lincoln Fields course.

The meeting will continue for 30 days. Ten stakes will be run. With racing interest here at a new peak, as demonstrated during the season just ended at Arlington Park, big crowds and splendid racing should be the rule throughout the season.

The racing will be under the direction of the Lincoln Fields Jocky club, of which Col. Matt J. Winn is the managing director and Stuyvesant Peabody the president. More than 1,000 horses already were quartered at Lincoln Fields and nearby Washington Park last night awaiting the running of the opening program.

First Stake Saturday.

The first of the ten stake events, each of which carries an added money prize of $2,500, will be run on Saturday. The top number for today's opening program is the Lincolnshire handicap at three-quarters of a mile. It has attracted a field of 17 of the star sprinters in this section.

Traveling to the post as the favorite no doubt will be Bow to Me, sensational 4 year old son of Epinard-Beginner's Luck from the Woolford Farm stable of Kansas City. Bow to Me, developed this season by the Kentucky conditioner, Roscoe Goose, will be seeking his sixth straight Chicago victory.

He made his first start of the year at Washington Park on May 29. He was the winner by four lengths. Two days later he won at a mile and seventy yards by five lengths. He came back a week later and won again at that distance by four lengths. His next engagement was on June 12. This was a dash at seven furlongs. He was the winner by three lengths.

Wins for New Owner.

Then he was sold to Woolford Farm stable. He made his first start for his new owner on June 29 at Arlington Park. This was a dash at a mile in which he was the winner by a head from Cross Bow II., Miss Saxon, Two Bob, and others.

Since then he has been freshened up. He should give a splendid account of himself in today's opening feature. Chief contention will be furnished by Mrs. H. Kiser's Reminiscent, C. E. Davison's Boston

SOX WHIP A'S IN 11TH, 4 TO 3; WIN 2D GAME, 5 TO 3

Walker, Appling Hit Home Runs; Gain in Race.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 1.—The White Sox this afternoon swept the series with the Philadelphia Athletics by winning the first game of a double-header, 4 to 3, in an eleven inning affair, and 5 to 3 in the second encounter. The multiple success gave the Sox a four game winning streak to carry into the four game series with the Yanks, which opens with a double-header Tuesday. The first game was decided by Dixie Walker's homer at the start of the eleventh after Lynn Nelson had tied the score with a pinch homer in the ninth. Ted Lyons went all the way and, though he allowed twelve hits, including two triples and a double besides Nelson's homer, deserved his No. 7 victory.

Bill Dietrich allowed only three hits in the six innings he worked in the second game, but one of them was a homer by Bob Johnson, which followed an error by Piet. Vern Kennedy pitched the last three innings after Dietrich had given way to a pinch batter and held the the A's to one hit.

The Sox gained a half game on the Yanks and are now five games out of first place. They are four full games ahead of the Boston Red Sox, who took third place by beating the Tigers today.

FIRST GAME

From the time the Sox scored three gift runs in the fifth inning of the first game until Line Drive Nelson hit his homer with one out in the ninth it appeared the Sox were going to win a lucky victory. But as things turned out they had to work plenty before they made Dixie Walker's eleventh inning homer stand up for victory. Each pitcher held his opposition to one hit in the first three innings, but the A's broke through for one earned and one unearned run in the fourth. Finney tripled with one down and scored on Werber's fly. Johnson doubled, took third on Hill's single to Appling, and scored when Appling threw the ball past Bonura.

Piet was safe on Parker's wide throw at the start of the fifth. Piet reached second and Shea was credited with a single when Parker lost Shea's pop fly in the sun. Lyons bunted and when Caster threw the ball far over Finney's head Piet and Shea scored the tying runs and Lyons reached third. Ted held on while Hayes grounded out, but scored on Kreevich's single to center. Walker hit into a double play.

What's Wrong, Lena?

The A's would have tied the score in the seventh but for some stupid coaching at third base by Coach Lena Blackburne, who had been transferred to the station because of two

MIDGET DRIVER SERIOUSLY HURT IN RACE CRASH

Johnson was taken to North Avenue hospital. Physicians there said he incurred a possible fracture of the skull, a crushed chest, fractured ribs, and body bruises. They said he had a chance to recover.

Among the 5,000 who saw the accident was Johnson's wife, Alice. It occurred in the feature race of the program when Johnson, in seventh place in a field of twelve, attempted to improve his position. He was traveling at fifty miles an hour. Locked brakes were believed to have caused the accident. Johnson resides at 3618 North Leavitt street.

BRIDE SEES HUSBAND KILLED.

Dillsburg, Pa., Aug. 1.—(AP)—Leroy Walter Sweigart, 19 year old dirt track automobile racer of Reading, Pa., was killed today while his bride of less than twenty-four hours watched from the stands of the Latimore Valley fair grounds. Sweigart died in an ambulance a short time after he cracked up. A tire blew out and Sweigart's racer hurtled off the track and smashed into two trees. He was competing under the name of Ray Thomas. Sweigart and Mary Kreiser, 19, of Reading, were married last night in Lebanon. The bride collapsed today and was brought to a Harrisburg hospital to be treated for shock.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Aug. 1.—[Special.]—Days of the old west were reënacted here today before thousands of residents of several states. The occasion was the finals in the Frontier day celebration which annually finds the most agile cowboys of the western ranches competing for riding awards. This time a horse, called Five-Minutes-to-Midnight and almost as black as his name, took top honors. He was acclaimed as the champion bronco in these parts after he tossed his rider in just eight seconds. The unlucky rider was Burl Mulkey of Salmon, Ia.

All-Star Squad? What More Could a Coach Ask?--Bierman

BY BERNIE BIERMAN.
[Minnesota football coach.]

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 1.—[Special.]—How do I like the 1937 All-Stars who will play the Green Bay Packers at Soldiers' field Sept. 1?

There's only one answer. The fans of the nation have nominated a splendid squad and the starting lineup is exceptionally strong. Any coach should be well pleased to direct these boys in this annual game.

Perhaps a few of the outstanding players have been omitted. I can't deny that they haven't, nor can I say that there are important omissions. Football has developed tremendously in the last few years, and every section of the country has its share of stars. It would be impossible to have all the stars of the 1936 season on one squad. But it is self-evident that this squad of nearly 70 players, who will report at Northwestern for training, comprise all the material any coach might wish.

A Thrilling Experience.

I find myself frequently thinking of the possibilities of these players. And I may be granted these thoughts since along with Noble Kizer and Frank Thomas, my predecessors as head coach of the All-Star team, I now am coach emeritus. It was a thrilling experience to direct last year's team, an experience I never will forget. And while last year's group was as fine as any one could select and gave a splendid account against the Detroit Lions, I sincerely believe this year's squad is its equal.

Perhaps this year's group is superior in some phases of play. I hesitate to say so lest I be accused of putting the coaching staf on the spot and indirectly indicating that I believe these boys can whip the Green Bay eleven. This remans to be seen and, like any football game, the outcome may rest on luck of play rather than indicated possibilities.

I can't honestly compare this year's starting lineup with the boys chosen last year, for I haven't seen all of them play. When I cast my vote for the All-Star team I was guided principally by personal observation, just as I presume were many other voters. Apparently the fans of the nation agree in the main with my ideas of the eleven best players for this game, since seven of the men I nominated have been elected to open the engagement against the Packers.

Backed by Records.

These players, I know, are competent. The others must be, since their records and the achievements of the teams on which they played indicate their superiority. The players I selected were Tinsley and Kelley, ends; Widseth and Golemgeske, tackles; Starcevich and Reid, guards; Svendsen, center; Wilkinson, quarter back; Huffman and Baugh, half backs, and Francis, full back. Kelley, Golemgeske, Wilkinson, and Baugh failed to win starting assignments, being beaten out by Wendt, Daniell, La Rue, and Drake. They are, I note with pleasure, members of the squad and undoubtedly they will have a chance to show their wares against the professional champions.

I hope I am not accused of being unduly prejudiced when I place Widseth, Svendsen, and Wilkinson on the All-Stars. Widseth was an All-America tackle last year and Wilkinson played All-America football, although he did not receive as wide recognition as his ability deserved. Wilkinson's forté was blocking, and, as the average fan knows, blocking pays dividends in touchdowns. Svendsen is a fine center. His passing was accurate, his defensive work brilliant, and I know that the coaches will find him a thoroughly diligent workman.

I can say this with authority about the Minnesota players on the squad: They will report in condition and they will carry on with the same enthusiasm they evidenced while undergraduates at Minnesota. In brief, I expect them to give all they have, just as my boys on the squad last year did.

Game a Fixture.

This game has achieved a permanent place in sports. It is recognized as a spectacle which is sold on its merits and the players look forward to participation.

I cannot praise too highly Sam Francis of Nebraska, the full back. He is one of the greatest players of all time. His kicking will be invaluable and his spirit will help crystalize the squad's will to win. Reid is the type of guard needed for an effective running game. For that matter, Starcevich is the same type. Minnesota remembers both Starcevich of Washington and Reid of

STAINBACK'S HIT IN 11TH DEFEATS GIANTS, 5 TO 4

Victory Completes Series Sweep.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

George Tucker Stainback, a Cub dugout habitué, got into action for about a minute yesterday. A minute was long enough to definitly silence the Giants after more than two hours of battling before 30,326 customers.

The wavy haired Tucker, in the rôle of a pinch hitter, delivered a single with the bases filled in the eleventh inning and sent the Cubs galloping to a 5 to 4 triumph and a six game lead in the pennant race.

The finish, which meant a sweep of the three games with the second place Giants, came suddenly after the Giants had led for eight innings because of an ability to produce home runs. Harry Danning hit one for two runs off Charley Root in the second inning. Mel Ott hit one in the fourth. In the sixth he hit another, also off Root. All this kept the tattered champions ahead until the Cubs tied it up with a lone run in the eighth.

French Takes Charge.

Root was derricked for a pinch hitter in the seventh when he apparently was beaten because of the inability of his mates to do much against the southpawing of Cliff Melton.

With Root out of the way, Larry French strolled in as a rescuer in the eighth and from then on the Giants weren't heard from. He held them hitless through four innings, being troubled only once when a pass and an error came together.

Melton, who with major league support might have dodged the tying run in the eighth, was bumped legitimately in the eleventh. Plainly tired by his long struggle, he walked Herman and dodged Hartnett, who twice previously had pounded in runs, only because Berger picked Gabby's fly off the center field barricade. Jurges stepped into the picture with a single to right, Herman racing to third. Marty was purposely passed in anticipation of French batting. Instead Stainback was summoned and he singled to center on the second pitch, Herman scoring the deciding run.

Giants Step Out.

Root's work was flawless in the first inning and continued that way until he had retired Berger and Ott in the second. Leslie then singled to right and scored on Danning's fly ball tap over the temporary fence in left. The same drive could have been caught easily before bleacher alterations were started. After Danning had completed his trip, Ryan singled to right and Melton walked, but relief came on Chiozza's pop to Jurges. Demaree started the home second with a single, but Herman hit into a double play and Hartnett flied to Whitehead.

A double play hurried the Giants' third to a profitless conclusion, and the Cubs then stepped up with a run. Jurges was thrown out by Ryan. Marty walked, and Root assisted his own cause with a single through short. Galan was retired on a pop foul which the jittery Chiozza held. Hack ran his count to 3 and 2 and then punched a single into left, scoring Marty. Collins flied to Berger for the third out.

Mr. Ott Up Again.

Root was annoyed by only one hit in the fourth, but it was worth a run. Ott simply slapped the ball clear over what remains of the right field for his 21st homer of the season. The

DISTRICT GOLF AMATEUR PLAY TO OPEN TOMORROW

31 Will Qualify for Match Play Wednesday.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The 24th annual amateur championship tournament of the Chicago District Golf association, which ranks as the organization's prize event, will open tomorrow at the Glen Oak Country club with a 36 hole qualifying round, and continue through Saturday's 36 hole championship match. The low 31 scorers in tomorrow's medal play battle will win places in the match play bracket, which opens Wednesday morning.

John Lehman of Olympia Fields, who won the championship last year by defeating Sid Salomon of St. Louis in the final at Sunset Ridge, takes the 32d match play rôle automatically, since he is exempt from qualifying.

Facing the champion will be one of the strongest fields ever gathered for the tournament. Included among the entries are Gus Moreland of Peoria, former Walker cup star and western amateur title holder, who recently won the amateur trophy in the $10,000 Chicago open tournament; Warren Dawson of the home club, and John Hobart of Rockford, both former state champions; Johnny Holmstrom of Rockford, western junior title holder, and Tom Sheehan Jr. of Lincolnshire, Indiana collegiate winner.

The pairings and starting times for the qualifying rounds:

Chicago Giants Divide Games with Florals

John Donaldson, 41 year old southpaw, pitched the Chicago Giants to a 6 to 4 victory over the Duffy Florals at Shewbridge field yesterday. The Florals came back to win the second game, 4 to 3, behind the effective pitching of Mike Yaros. Between games a brief ceremony honored the 40th anniversary of Joe Green, manager of the Giants. Connor Takes 50 Lap Race at Fair Grounds

George Connor of San Bernardino, Cal., driving a Marks Special won the feature 50 lap race of the auto racing program at the Fair Grounds, North avenue and River road, yesterday. A crowd of 10,000 saw the events. Connor's winning time was 25:54.50, a speed of slightly less than a mile a minute over the half mile dirt track.

George Connor.

Two drivers were forced out of the main event due to engine trouble and an accident in which none was hurt. Jimmy Snyder of Chicago led the race for fifteen laps, but was sent to the pits with a broken transmission shaft. Lou Webb of Indianapolis sidewiped two cars and his mount somersaulted the fence on the west turn. Webb only was shaken up. Tony Willman of Milwaukee lost a lap when his car skidded on the west turn.

Willman Finishes Third.

Willman was in second place at the time of the mishap. He made the west turn at too high a rate of speed, his car turning completely around. The Milwaukee driver later made up time to finish third, behind Emil Endres of Chicago. Fourth place went to Billy Winn, Detroit. Frank Wearne, Los Angeles, was fifth.

Claiming that he finished third instead of fourth in the feature event, Winn engaged in a fight with John Bagley of Omaha, owner of the cars driven by William and Beeder. Police interevened before damage was done.

Beeder Sets World Mark.

A world record for half mile tracks was established by Frank Beeder of St. Louis, driving a McDowell Special. Beeder's mark of 25.61 displaces that set by Rex Mays, Glendale, Cal., at 25.70. Mays was unable to start in the feature race due to motor trouble and participated only in the opening race. Results:

SEVEN AND A HALF MILES—Won by Tony Willman, Milwaukee, Cragar Special; Jimmy Snyder, Chicago, Gerber Special, second; Lou Webb, Indianapolis, Miller Special, third; Frank Beeder, St. Louis, McDowell Special, fifth. Time, 6:53.50.

SEVEN AND A HALF MILES—Won by Billy Winn, Detroit, Gerber Special; Emil Andres, Chicago, Lencki Special, second; George Connor, San Bernardino, Cal., Marks Special, third; Frank Wearne, Los Angeles, Miller Special, fourth; Bud Henderson, Akron, Miller Special, fifth. Time, 7:02.15.

SEVEN AND A HALF MILES—Won by Bud Henderson, Akron, O., Miller Special; Maurice Rose, Detroit, Christie Special, second; Paul Russo, Chicago, Casino Special, third; Fred Tegimeier, Elgin, Ill., Elgin Piston Pin Special, fourth. Time, 7:18.

U. S. BOYS', JUNIOR TENNIS TOURNEY TO OPEN TODAY

Culver, Ind., Aug. 1.—[Special.]—The largest field in the history of the national boys' and juniors' tennis tournament will start play tomorrow at the Culver Military academy in the 1937 renewal of the event. Contestants represent 28 states and the District of Columbia.

Included in the entries are 130 juniors and 67 boys. Julius Heldman, Los Angeles, junior champion, and John Kramer, Monticello, Cal., boys' title holder, will not defend their championships.

The leading contender entered in the junior bracket is Jo Hunt of San Francisco. Two years ago Hunt won the boys' championship and for the last two years has been runnerup in the junior singles. Last year he teamed with Heldman to win the doubles.

Hornsby's Semi-Pros Beat Grover Alexander's Team

Denver, Colo., Aug. 1.—(AP)—The Denver Refiners, under the management of Rogers Hornsgy, former pilot of the St. Louis Browns, defeated Grover Cleveland Alexander's Springfield, Ill., team, 8 to 7, in ten innings in the Denver Post tournament today. Hornsby slammed two doubles and a single, driving in two runs and scoring two himself. The Rajah drew a rousing hand from the overflow crowd of 7,500 every time he got a hit, but the customers roared with delight when he struck out swinging in the eighth with the score tied and runners on first and third.

Lincoln Fields Opens 30 Day Season Today

Sound, Valdina Farm's Solar Hawk, Mrs. Emil Denemark's Chasar, and the LaMar Farm stable's Marmara and Merrywood.

With the Lincoln Fields track at its best, the six furlong record will be in peril when these speedsters go into action. Seven other races fashioned for horses of all classifications round out the first day program.

AUG. 7—Crete handicap, 6 furlongs, 3 year olds and up.
AUG. 14—Peabody Memorial handicap, 1 mile, 3 year olds and up.
AUG. 14—Chicago Heights handicap, 5½ furlongs, 2 year old colts.
AUG. 21—Steger handicap, 7 furlongs, 3 year olds and up.
AUG. 21—Lincoln handicap, 1 1/16 miles, 3 year olds and up.
AUG. 28—Marquette handicap, 1⅛ miles, 3 year olds and up.
AUG. 28—Joliet handicap, 6 furlongs, 2 year olds.
SEPT. 4—La Salle handicap, 1 1/16 miles, 3 year olds and up.
SEPT. 4—Calumet handicap, 6 furlongs, 3 year olds and up.

Two of the important arrivals at Lincoln Fields yesterday were Teddy's Comet, the Valdina farm 2 year old star which ran a dead heat with Tiger in the Arlington Futurity on Saturday, and James W. Parrish's Dellor, winner of the Arlington handicap. They promise to figure prominently in the Lincoln Fields stake events. Another star 2 year old on the grounds is LeMar Stock farm's Mad Money, not eligible for the Arlington Futurity.

From Arlington Park.

About 700 of the horses at Lincoln Fields have campaigned at Arlington Park. The other 300 come from Latonia, Thistle Downs, New England, and Canada. The generous prize offerings, providing for a minimum purse offering of $800 and at least two $1,000 races each afternoon, are responsible for the abundance of good racing material available for the meeting.

The running of this afternoon's program will mark the opening of the tenth season at the Lincoln Fields track, the original cost of which was in the neighborhood of $2,000,000. The plant covers a tract of 1,000 acres alongside the Dixie highway, just south of the village of Crete. Nearly all of America's famous horses of the last decade have been seen under colors there. Post time each afternoon for the first race will be 2:15 o'clock.

CRUM FLORALS WHIP MOTORS IN STATE BASEBALL

The three way tie for the lead in the northwest bracket of the Illinois state amateur baseball league was broken yesterday when the Felz Motors, the champions for the last three years, lost to the Crum Florals, 6 to 2, at Altgeld park.

The Crum Florals now are tied for first place with the Greenebaum Boosters, who defeated the Glowinke Boosters, 6 to 1. Scores:

BERWYN WHIPS JOLIET TO WIN LEGION TITLE

Ottawa, Ill., Aug. 1.—(AP)—Berwyn post of Chicago won the Illinois Junior American Legion baseball championship today by taking its second straight game from Joliet, 18 to 5. Berwyn won yesterday's game, 8 to 5.

Southpaw Ken Polivka fanned 18 Joliet batsmen and allowed only four hits. He held the Joliet club hitless until the sixth, when White doubled. In the second and fourth innings he fanned the side.

Berwyn scored six runs in the fifth inning, getting seven hits and taking advantage of some wobbly fielding behind Pitcher Sartori, who had relieved starting Pitcher Gora of Joliet in the third. Score:

Berwyn ....413 060 301—18 22 2
Joliet ....000 011 120— 5 4 9

Washington Park Holds Lead in Cricket League

Washington Park held its lead in the Illinois Cricket league when it defeated Oak Park, 155 to 36, yesterday afternoon. One point behind Washington Park in the standing is the Chicago team which defeated Melbourne, 143 to 37. Hyde Park beat Lake Forest, 87 to 34 and Winnetka whipped Garfield Park, 30 to 12.

Lauderdale Votes on Miami Racing Today

Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Aug. 1.—(AP)—Whether the Miami area is to have a third race track will be decided at the polls Tuesday—but no Miamian can vote.

Joseph M. Smoot, once balked in an attempt to build a new track on an island in Miami's Biscayne bay, proposes to operate a $1,300,000 plant just across the Dade county [Miami] line.

The state racing commission has approved the venture and now voters in Broward [Fort Lauderdale] county will decide whether the permit shall be granted. A dissenting Miami faction remains officially helpless although not altogether silent.

The track would be located on the federal highway 12 miles north of Miami, about the same distance from the resort as Joseph E. Widener's Hialeah Park and William V. Dwyer's Tropical Park.

"We plan to start construction Aug. 15, and should be able to send the first horses to the barrier by Jan. 20," Smoot said. "I estimate the plant, complete, will cost $1,300,000, providing seats for 7,500 in the grandstand and 3,500 in the clubhouse. There will be stables to accommodate 1,200 horses."

Marquart and Lello on Card at Marigold

Billy Marquart, 1936 Canadian Olympic featherweight champion, and Pete Lello, last year's Chicago Golden Gloves lightweight title holder, hope to get started on another victory march in two of four bouts at eight rounds comprising the card at Marigold Gardens, Broadway and Grace street, tonight.

Marquart will meet Pat Robertson, likable native of New York, while Pete will match skill with Everett [Young] Simington, newcomer from Poplar Bluff, Mo.

Marquart chalked up thirteen straight victories before bowing to Varias Milling, veteran Los Angeles, Cal., fighter, at Marigold May 3. Lello, too, registered a string of triumphs, recording twenty-two straight prior to his defeat at the hands of Sammy Angott at the same club June 2.

Sharing top honors will be contests between Frankie Sagilio, potent punching welterweight of Cicero, and Remo Fernandez, aggressive California scrapper, and Harold Ullmer, Milwaukee heavyweight, and Ralph Carpenter, capable representative from Joplin, Mo.

* * *

Jim McMillen and Fred Grubmier will head tonight's wrestling show at White City, 63d street and South Park avenue. It will be the first program presented under the recently drafted rule of the state athletic commission forbidding exhibitions, or the burlesque type of wrestling. As a consequence, in the future any deviation from the law regulating the game will be dealt with severely, the commissioners maintain. Bobby Bruns meets Abie Kaplan in the semi-final. Jack Claybourn faces Al Williams, Mike Kilonis encounters Angelo Martini, and Gentleman Jack Purdin clashes with Billy Burns.

* * *

Billy Cepak, Chicago promoter, and Harold Steinman, manager of King Levinsky, are expected to appear at the Illinois boxing commission this afternoon, backed by legal talent, to seek a permit for a ten round encounter involving Levinsky and Art Oliver at White City Aug. 19. Levinsky has been in bad with the commission since his one round knockout by Joe Louis two years ago. Chairman Joe Triner is of the opinion that the King deserves a chance to redeem himself, but against tougher opposition, such as Max Marek, state champion. He will refuse to sanction Oliver as a fit opponent.

* * *

* * *

Everett Rightmire, recognized as No. 1 126 pound contender by the state athletic board, and Mickey Beal will end training chores today for their ten round engagement at Western stadium tomorrow. F. M.

HEAT OVERCOMES A. A. UMPIRE AT KANSAS CITY

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 1.—(AP)—An American association umpire collapsed from the heat here today—the second such victim in three days.

George Johnson was stricken in a dugout between games of the Louisville-Kansas City double-header in 100 degree heat. Hospital attendants said his condition is not serious.

President George Trautman of the association, a spectator, ordered salt passed to all players when informed Tobin's collapse was partially due to lack of salt in his system.

DUCK SEASON IN ILLINOIS IS SET FOR NOV. 1 TO 30

Government Issues Rules for Huntsmen.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1.—[Special.]—A 30 day duck hunting season with changes in dates and zones was announced today by the department of agriculture. The previous two seasons also were limited to 30 days to cut down the annual kill and speed the department's water fowl restoration program.

The United States biological survey said the program had checked the decline of water fowl. The improvement was attributed to the federal refuge program for restoring large areas of marsh land to the birds for breeding, feeding, resting, and wintering.

Join Hands with Mexico.

The new regulations, approved July 30 by President Roosevelt, are the first to give effect to the convention with Mexico last march for the protection of migratory birds and game mammals.

In the northern zone the season on ducks, geese, Vilson's snipe [jack snipe], and coot opens Oct. 9 and closes Nov. 7. In the intermediate zone the season is Nov. 1 to 30. Dates are inclusive.

States in the northern zone include Colorado, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Montana, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New York [except Long Island], North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Vermont, Wisconsin, and Wyoming.

Illinois in Intermediate.

In the intermediate zone are Connecticut, Delaware, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Missouri, Nevada, New Jersey, New Mexico, Long Island, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Utah, Washington, and West Virginia. A summary of the principal restrictions embodied in the new regulations was made public in part as follows:

Continuation of the regulation providing no open season in any part of the United States on Ross' geese, wood ducks, ruddy ducks, canvasbacks, red heads, buffiehead ducks, and swans.

Bag and possession limits, continued from the last two seasons, placed the daily bag limit on ducks at 10 in the aggregate and make the possession limit conform to the daily bag limit on coot is 25.

The daily bag and the possession limit on geese and brant of the kinds permitted to be killed have been increased this year to five in the aggregate of all kinds. The new daly bag limit on coot is 25.

Baiting of waterfowl and doves and the use of live decoys in hunting waterfowl are illegal.

The three shell limit on repeating shotguns, either hand operated or auto loading, is continued. Hunters may use shotguns not larger than No. 10 guage.

Waterfowl and coot may be hunted in season from 7 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Snipe, rails, gallinules [other than coot], woodcock, mourning doves, white-winged doves, and band-tailed pigeons may be hunted in season from 7 a. m. to sunset. No changes were made in the regulations on band-tailed pigeons.

Michigan, Oct. 1 to Oct. 31; Indiana and Iowa, Oct. 15 to Nov. 14; Wisconsin, Oct. 17 to Oct. 31; Missouri, Nov. 10 to Dec. 10.

On rails and gallinules [except coot] the season, as formerly, will be Sept. 1 to Nov. 30, with a few exceptions, including that in Wisconsin, Oct. 9 to Nov. 7.

Possession of a federal duck stamp is required by law of every migratory water fowl hunter over 16. Seasons prescribed for the states for shooting mourning doves include: Sept. 1 to Nov. 15 in Illinois, Minnesota, and Missouri.

FELLER PITCHES; SENATORS SWING BUT AT THIN AIR

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1.—(AP)—Bob Feller baffled Washington today with all the speed that earned him a boy wonder ranking last season and Cleveland whipped the Senators, 11 to 2. It was Feller's second victory of the year. He yielded only seven hits and struck out nine. Twenty-five thousand saw the game.

Bucky Jacobs, former Richmond university star, opposed Feller in his first starting assignment. After holding the Indians for three innings, he was pounced upon for five straight singles and four runs in the fourth. He was taken out, but charged with the defeat.

RED SOX, 11; TIGERS, 4.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 1.—(AP)—The Boston Red Sox today jumped into third place, ousting Detroit by beating the Tigers, 11 to 4, in the first game of a double-header.

The second game was called because of the Sunday curfew law with the teams tied, 2-2, at the end of the 10th inning. By taking the opener, the Sox swept three games from the Tigers and extended their winning streak to five consecutive games.

Dodgers Whip J.Dean; Lose to Lon Warneke

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 1.—(AP)—After convincing Dizzy Dean he still wasn't in pitching form and giving the Cardinals a 7 to 3 beating in the first game of a double-header today, the Brooklyn Dodgers found Lon Warneke more difficult in the second game and lost, 7 to 1.

Dizzy yielded nine hits and three runs in six and one-third innings, and was charged with the defeat, his ninth against twelve victories.

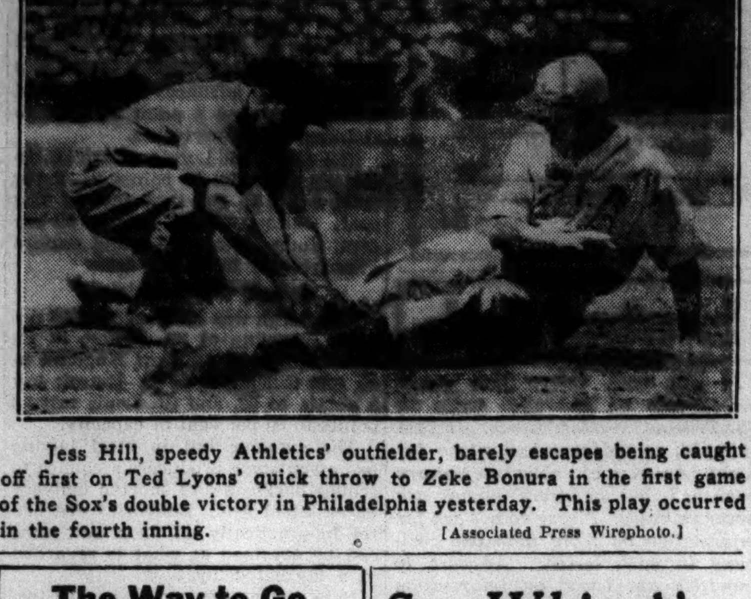
BETTER PLAY IT SAFE, JESS



Jess Hill, speedy Athletics' outfielder, barely escapes being caught off first on Ted Lyons' quick throw to Zeke Bonura in the first game of the Sox's double victory in Philadelphia yesterday. This play occurred in the fourth inning. [Associated Press Wirephoto.]

White Sox Leave for New York for Series with Yanks

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 1. — The White Sox left immediately after today's game for New York. They will rest tomorrow and Tuesday will engage the Yankees in a double-header. Thornton Lee is scheduled to work the first game and Johnny Whitehead the second. Both turned in victories in the recent Yankee series in Chicago. Lee's, you may have heard, was his fifth straight over the Yankees. Since the series in Chicago, Whitehead has taken a licking from the Senators and Lee shut out the Senators, 2 to 0.

A crowd of 21,000 saw today's entertainment. Which is pretty colossal, considering Philadelphia is the habitat of both major league tailenders.

Jimmy Dykes has been stepping around sprightly at the ball park and in his home environs, but he isn't ready to resume play and probably won't go to work as long as Tony Piet keeps going as well as he has in the last few games.

Sox Whip A's Twice, 4-3, 5-3; Gain ½ Game

boners at the same station by Coach Earl Mack in yesterday's game. Brucker tripled to center with one out and, with the relay from Radcliff in Appling's hands, Lena waved Brucker home. Appling's throw to Shea sank Brucker by 25 feet.

The Sox went into the ninth with a total of three hits, Shea's sunkissed single and a double and single by Mike Kreevich. In the ninth, however, the Sox showed something fancy in the matter of wasting hits. Radcliff opened with a single to right and went to third on Appling's single to center. Piet lined to Moses and Radcliff was doubled at the plate. Shea singled to right and Appling was thrown out by Moses at third.

Nelson Smashes One.

At the start of the ninth Lyons retired Hill for the first time in the game and then Nelson batted for Peters. Nelson missed two strikes, then lifted a homer over the right field wall, tying the score. Parker flied to Hayes but Brucker singled to center. Caster flied out.

Both sides went out in order in the tenth, but Walker led off the eleventh with his No. 5 homer, a shot high over the right field fence.

SECOND GAME

The Sox leaned on the ball in a big way in the first inning of the second game, but got only one run. Kreevich tripled after Hayes had sent Moses far for his drive and scored on Walker's smash to Johnson. Bonura doubled to left, but Radcliff flied to Johnson.

The next run scored by the Sox was a cheap one. Dietrich reached first when a third strike got through Brucker to the screen. Hayes singled to center, putting Dietrich on third. When Jack tried to reach second on the throw to third he was put out. Kreevich flied to Moses, Dietrich scoring. Walker flied out.

Bases Full, One Run.

The Sox got the bases full with one out in the fourth on singles by Radcliff and Appling and Peter's error on Sewell, but derived only one run from the situation. Radcliff scored on Piet's fly.

After Johnson had walked with one down in the fourth Hill registered the first hit off Dietrich, a double off the left field wall. Johnson stopped at third, then scored while Appling was throwing out Peters. Parker flied to Kreevich.

The Sox added their fourth run in the fifth inning. Like the three before it, it was driven home on a put out. Hayes singled and went to third on Kreevich's single. Walker forced Kreevich, Hayes scoring, and Bonura then hit into a double play.

Piet's Error Hurts.

With one out in the home sixth, Werber reached second on Piet's overthrow. Johnson then drove a homer over the scoreboard in right center, scoring behind Werber. Hill walked, stole second, went to third on Peters' fly to Kreevich and died on Parker's pop to Dietrich. Haas batted for Dietrich in the first of the seventh inning, and Kennedy replaced him when the A's went to bat.

Appling ended a string of 31-3 innings of hitless endeavor for the Sox by driving out his No. 3 homer with one out in the ninth. Sewell fanned and Piet tapped to Werber.

Peters was safe in the ninth on Appling's low throw. Nelson, batting for Parker, tried to duplicate his ninth inning homer of the first game, but the best he could do was to pop to Piet. Brucker fouled to Piet. Rothrock batted for Ross and grounded out to Hayes.

Cubs Defeat Giants, 5-4, to Sweep Series

Cubs retrieved this run in their half, leaving them one behind. Herman walked with one out and galloped home on a double to right center by Hartnett.

Root breezed through the fifth without a hitch, while the Cubs were equally feeble against Melton. Root's sixth inning was only two-thirds perfect. He personally tossed out Moore and slipped over a third strike on Berger. Then that Ott fellow got in again. Root kept aiming at the outside corner, not wishing to see Ott pull another drive over the wall in right. But Ott, after getting the count down to 3 and 2, sent an outside pitch over the board fence in left for No. 22 and a 4 to 2 Giant lead.

Cubs Hack Away.

The Cubs got a flying start in the sixth, but a double play ball turned up and confined them to one run. Collins singled to center for his second hit of the series. Demaree beat out a dribbler to Ryan. Herman tried to hit instead of bunt and poked a grounder to Leslie, whose throw to Ryan forced Demaree at second. Hartnett then whistled a single off the tips of Chiozza's fingers and Collins scored. Then the double play ball, propelled by Jurges, went to Ryan.

After French had gone through the eighth unscathed, Hack opened the home portion with a single to center. This eventually grew into the tying run. Collins bunted Hack to second. Demaree shot a high speed grounder straight at Ryan, but the fellow made the mistake of taking his eye off the ball for a glance at Hack going to third. When Ryan looked down again the ball had skipped through for a hit and Hack charged home. Then Demaree reached second ahead of Melton's throw on Hermans' tap, but Hartnett tapped into a double play.

Check Giant Threat.

After the sixth, the tenth was the only inning in which the Giants had anybody on base. Ryan walked with one out. Melton bunted to Collins, who threw wild to center, trying to force Ryan. Leiber was rushed forth to bat for Chiozza and slammed a long fly to Demaree, Ryan taking third after the catch. Whitehead bounced to French for the third out.

As a reward for their diamond successes during the last month the Cubs will not have to report for practice today. Their time is their own until tomorrow afternoon, when the Phillies show up for a three game series. Bill Lee will pitch the opener.

The club made so many announcements during the week about all reserved seats being disposed of for yesterday's game that the park wasn't filled. There were bare spots in the bleachers and in both the upper and lower extremities. The miserable work of the Giants in the two previous games also may have had something to do with it.

Two of the Giants' cripples got back into action late in the game. Hank Lieber, beaned by Bob Feller in a spring exhibition, batted for Chiozza in the tenth for his first appearance in a game since early May. With Chiozza out of the game, Dick Bartell, who injured an abdominal muscle two weeks ago, had to return to short, Ryan moving to third.

All-Stars? You Couldn't Ask More: Bierman

Northwestern from encounters last year.

Daniell is a rugged, determined tackle who will pair effectively with Widseth. Tinsley is a defensive star who, when he had opportunity, also proved he was an offensive threat. Wendt, captain of Ohio State last fall, certainly can take care of his duties in All-American style.

While I would have liked to have seen Baugh start the game, there is no reason to believe that the passing can not be taken care of by Huffman. The Indiana star is a real triple threat performer. Drake will help the offense primarily by his blocking and La Rue needs no introduction. When a man can star for three years at Pittsburgh it follows, without question, that he has what football demands.

I am not forgetting that these eleven men are backed up by a galaxy of stars. This promises to be the best game of the series. And I, for one, will not miss it.

POLL TO NAME COLORED PILOTS ENDS TOMORROW

Four managers of colored teams are outdistancing rivals for the honor of leading the all-stars of the Negro National and American leagues in the fifth annual East-West baseball game at Comiskey Park, Sunday afternoon. They are Cum Posey of the Homestead Grays and Oscar Charleston of the Pittsburgh Crawfords, the East's two strongest candidates, are Jim Taylor of the Chicago American Giants and Andy Cooper of the Kansas City Monarchs, leaders in the West.

The poll being conducted by 20 colored newspapers to name the two managers will close tomorrow.

Pro-Senior Tournament at Oak Park Club Today

The fourth annual pro-senior tournament sponsored by the Illinois Seniors' Golf association and the Illinois section of the Professional Golfers' association will be held today at the Oak Park Country club. A number of leading pros are expected to join up with the district veterans in the event.

Ghezzi Wins New Jersey Title by Defeating Wood

Westfield, N. J., Aug. 1.—[Special.]—Victor Ghezzi, Deal Golf club professional, became the New Jersey open champion today at the Shackamaxon Country club when he defeated Craig Wood of Rumson by one stroke in an 18 hole playoff. They tied yesterday at the end of 72 holes with a 10 under par total of 278. Ghezzi clipped three strokes from par on today's playoff round for a 69. Wood had a 70.

SOPWITH WINS EVEN IF BEATEN IN CUP SERIES

Challenge Pays Dividends in Prestige.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Newport, R. I., Aug. 1.—Whether Thomas Octave Murdock Sopwith Esq., the British airplane manufacturer, returns the America's cup to England or not, his invasion of these waters shall not have been in vain. Like his predecessors the racing of big yachts will pay Mr. Sopwith other dividends.

That is one of the consoling thoughts today as Mr. Sopwith and his adversary, the stoical Harold S. Vanderbilt, reviewed yesterday's sad exhibition in which the latter, at the wheel of the defending sloop Ranger, gave the British skipper and his Endeavour II. the most decisive whipping any cup challenger has suffered in the last half century. To the experts the outcome seems a foregone conclusion, although tomorrow the two yachts go out to sea again for the second race. The winner must take four out of seven contests.

Sailing to Tea Fame.

Before Tom Sopwith stepped into the breach to try to bring back the old silver mug from this country where it has been tarnishing since 1851, another Tom sought to best the American skippers and prove that Britannia really rules the waves. This was the late Sir Thomas Lipton, Irish baronet and wealthy tea merchant, who sunk hundreds of thousands of pounds sterling into the fleet of five Shamrocks which met defeat in the cup races from 1899 to 1930.

The Shamrocks lost, but Lipton's tea won. The yacht racing did much to make the world Lipton's tea conscious. The Endeavour I., unsuccessful candidate in 1934 and the newer Endeavour are making the world Sopwith conscious.

Mr. Sopwith is a builder of airplanes, especially battle planes, and it is reliably reported here that he is turning out 25 bombers a day to hasten British rearmament. He also builds airplane motors and is a director in numerous English corporations where good will from his yachting tilts against Vanderbilt won't hurt.

Tom May Get Title.

Sopwith, it is rumored, may be knighted for his activities. The right to use Sir before his name would be a nice thing for this boy who shortly before the war was a barnstorming aviator at Coney Island where he had to be fished out of the ocean twice when his rattling old egg crate flopped into the water.

Meanwhile, vast plans are under way for the remaining races in the series. Yachting experts, whom you can get for a dime a dozen in any hotel lobby or waterfront pub, say that Endeavour II. will have a fighting chance if heavier weather blows. This is because a wider boat usually sails better in heavy air and the British sloop is eight inches wider than Ranger.

In yesterday's race Ranger trimmed Endeavour II. by 17 minutes and 5 seconds. Delving back into yachting history the last cup challenger to be beaten that bad was Thistle, a Scotch cutter that tailed the Volunteer, a Boston boat, by more than 19 minutes in 1887.

He Guesses Wrong.

Sopwith made the fatal mistake of guessing wrong on the wind. He set a heavier mainsail than Vanderbilt, expecting the breeze to freshen. The air continued light, however, and Ranger's sail bellied out and caught all there was of it, while Endeavour's canvas was as flat as a board.

If disaster continues to dog Endeavour in the rest of the series the invaders can always fall back on the time-worn claim that Englishment go into any sport for the fun or "sheer love" of it while Americans go in to win.

The British are having a tough time of it this summer anyway what with handing the Ryder golf and Davis tennis cups over to American athletes. If the America's cup is lost, too, there isn't much left to look forward to but the Louis-Farr fight.

Vanderbilt, foregoing the off day in the series, took Ranger out for a short run today. The maneuver was for sail stretching purposes.

Sopwith kept the British challenger at anchorage throughout the day. He refused to concede anything more than the loss of the first race.

Brown Named Winner of Catalina Aquaplane Race

Hermosa Beach, Cal., Aug. 1.—(AP)—Bob Brown, previously disqualified, was announced winner of the forty-four mile aquaplane marathon from Catalina Island to Manhattan-Hermosa beach today. His pilot was Don Berry, and his elapsed time was 1 hour 19 minutes 48 seconds in the handicap race. The reversed decision placed George Minney in second place.

EDISON PROFIT IN 2D QUARTER BEST SINCE '32

Per Share Earning Placed at $2.03.

The earnings of the Commonwealth Edison company in the three months ended June 30 were the largest for the period since 1932, stockholders were informed in the quarterly report issued yesterday.

June quarter net income was $3,278,146, equal to $2.03 a share. In the corresponding 1936 period net income amounted to $2,060,575, or $1.28 a share. This is the first time in five years the company's second quarter earnings have exceeded 3 million dollars. The second quarter earnings in the years 1928-'32 ranged from $3,386,774 to $4,374,678, the latter figure, an all-time record for the period, being reached in 1932.

Electricity Sales Increase.

Larger sales of electricity, a reduction in the cost of power purchased, and a change in the method of providing for certain construction expenditures contributed to the increased profits shown for the June quarter.

Kilowatt hour sales of electricity increased 11.4 per cent over 1936 and revenues from such sales gained $1,21[illegible],425, or 6.2 per cent. Revenues did not increase in proportion to sales because of the cut in rates which went into effect last October.

James Simpson, chairman, said the new policy of capitalizing certain indirect construction expenditures, instead of charging them to operation and maintenance, accounted for $540,000 of the increase in net income shown for the quarter. The new policy calls for a gradual increase in depreciation provisions.

Purchased Power Costs Less.

The cost of power purchased by the company was $538,000 less than in the June quarter of 1936. Operating expenses and taxes were up $416,231.

The statement to stockholders included cumulative figures on results for the six months and twelve months ended June 30. Net income for the first half this year was $7,749,626, equal to $4.81 a share, against $5,101,349, or $3.17 a share, in the first six months of 1936. Net income for the twelve months ended June 30 was $13,592,018, or $8.43 a share, compared with $9,986,463, or $6.15 a share, in the preceding twelve months.

McGraw Electric Earns More.

The McGraw Electric company had a net profit of $1,232,780 before surtax, or $5.21 a share, for the twelve months ended June 30, largest for any twelve months in the company's history, Max McGraw, president, announced yesterday in a letter to stockholders. Earnings for the twelve months compared with $701,710, or $2.96 a share, in the preceding twelve months. Net sales were $6,058,065, compared with $4,181,801.

Anaconda Wire and Cable company, controled by Anaconda Copper Mining company, reported net income of $834,041, or $1.98 a share, for the June quarter, compared with $632,148, or $1.50 a share, in the corresponding quarter of last year.

The American Cyanamid company, chemical maker, reported net income of $2,844,325, or $1.13 a share, for the six months ended June 30, against $1,708,003, or 68 cents a share, in the corresponding period of 1936.

Business Bits

Election of A. C. Cronkrite as a vice president of the Universal Atlas Cement company was announced yesterday by Blaine S. Smith, president of the company. Cronkrite started with the company in 1907 as a salesman, was appointed Chicago metropolitan sales manager in 1915, and since 1928 has been assistant general sales manager. As vice president he will have charge of sales in all states in the Chicago area. His office will continue to be at 208 South La Salle street.

U. S. May Get Role of Chief Wheat Seller

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

There is better than an even chance that the United States will rank as the largest exporter of wheat in the world in the next 12 months. Such a situation could not be foreseen a few months ago. In one year this country has been converted from a position of one of the leading importing nations to what promises to be that of leading exporter.

A crop failure in Canada, mediocre crops in Europe, and a none too promising outlook in the southern hemisphere wheat producing countries have combined to give back to the United States the foreign markets for wheat which the country has not had in several years.

Spring Wheat Deteriorates.

The condition of the spring wheat crop in this country has gone backward in the last few weeks, but prospects still assure a total harvest that will leave a comfortable margin of surplus grain for export.

The government forecast on July 1 indicated a crop of 882 million bushels. Later estimates suggest that final returns will be below that figure, but will still leave a fair surplus. Estimated domestic requirements are 625 to 650 million bushels. The wheat reserve carried over from last year on July 1 was estimated to have been only about 85 million bushels, or considerably less than what is regarded as a normal reserve needed to insure the food supply against emergency.

Need to Replenish Reserve.

Perhaps 50 million bushels of this year's crop will be needed to replenish the reserve, cutting down by that much the surplus available for export. The export surplus remaining would be considerably in excess of 100 million bushels.

Prices of wheat and other grains declined again last week in the Chicago market. Wheat futures were off 2 to 3 cents a bushel and corn fell 7 to 8 cents. The pressure of seasonal selling in wheat which accompanies the harvest movement, coupled with a slackening in speculative activity, brought about the decline in prices. The steady improvement in the corn crop outlook, suggesting a harvest approaching 3 billion bushels, caused a sharp break in corn futures.

CITY WHOLESALE TRADE EXPANDS IN LAST WEEK

A sharp rise in Chicago wholesale business last week was reported yesterday by the Chicago Association of Commerce. Semi-annual visits of department store buyers at the various trade shows and events marking the opening of the fall buying season resulted in large placement of merchandise orders.

The peak of the early buying of autumn goods is expected this week with the opening in Chicago of the semi-annual convention of the Interstate Merchants council and the inauguration of ten additional trade shows.

Retail business last week held to recent levels, the association's report said. In all but a few cases, turnover was well ahead of the same period a year ago.

Easing of the labor difficulties has been reflected in a steadier trend in the local industrial field, with production schedules for autumn in many cases far ahead of last year.

New Coal Commission to Start Hearings Tomorrow

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1.—[Special.]—Hearings to guide the national bituminous coal commission in its duty of setting wholesale prices and regulations under the Guffey-Vinson act will be held here starting Tuesday morning, the commission announced today. Among problems to be determined by the hearings are the discounts to be allowed wholesalers, what persons may be defined as wholesalers or, as the act calls them, "distributors," and the nature and enforcement of the marketing rules which will be imposed upon the wholesalers.

Curb Shares Drift in Dull Trading; Prices Decline

New York, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Beginning the week on quickened volume and with stocks mostly unchanged from Saturday's levels, the curb market drifted through the six day period to end the week on a slightly lower note. Stocks churned indecisively without definite leadership as interest lagged.

Monopolies.

Most persons are not sure what a monopoly is, but they consider it undesirable and associate it with artificially high prices. Monopolies are not synonymous with big business. United States Steel corporation, the Ford Motor company, the Pennsylvania railroad, and Sears, Roebuck & Co. are big business. But they are not monopolies, and are in highly competitive fields.

The stinginess of nature is responsible for some monopolies. Had she scattered the supply of anthracite rather than placing most of it in Pennsylvania a monopoly of this product could not exist. This is also true of the diamond deposits in South Africa.

Sometimes governments are instrumental in creating monopolies. When a patent or copyright is granted a condition of monopoly is brought into being. Public utilities are frequently granted exclusive franchises for definite periods of time because of the high cost of facilities for distributing their products and other economic reasons. Some monopolies have arisen from competition where competing organizations have driven out or bought out others.

Monopolies do not have the unlimited power frequently ascribed to them. Few products produced are indispensable, and if the price is put too high substitutes will appear.

One of the most formidable checks on a monopoly is that public resentment may take the form of regulation through enactment of new laws. Rates and types of service prescribed by the interstate commerce commission and various state regulatory bodies are examples of this.

AIR INDUSTRY 6 MONTH SALES AT NEW HIGHS

New York, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Sales of American aircraft, aircraft engines and spare parts soared to new high levels during the first half of this year, according to figures released today by Leighton W. Rogers, president of the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce of America, Inc. Value of deliveries during the period totaled $49,450,144, bettering last year's sales for the like period by 53.3 per cent, said Leighton.

The upward trend was mirrored in every category of the aircraft industry—commercial airplanes, military airplanes, commercial engines, military engines, airplane spares and engine spares.

New York, Aug. 1.—[Special.]—Swift & Co., Chicago meat packing house, has leased 100,599 square feet of space at the New York world's fair and will assemble an exhibit dramatizing the story of meat, it was announced today by Grover a Whalen, president of the Fair corporation.

FRENCH EXPERTS SAY CHIEF NEED IS PRODUCTION

Urge Farms, Industry Increase Output.

BY ALEX SMALL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Aug. 1.—An increase in French industrial and agricultural production is the prime need of the moment, according to financial authorities who surveyed the results of the attempts of Georges Bonnet, finance minister, to put France back on its feet.

Thus they indicated that after a period of pessimism they are beginning to give Bonnet a chance to succeed and to approve his technical measures. Now they are suggesting the problem is a deeper one and only solvable when the French increase productive efficiency.

Consider Social Laws Permanent.

It was acknowledged by even the most conservative financiers that the result cannot be attained by abolition of the social legislation of last year, which in its main lines now is considered permanent.

But all suggest large modifications must be made in application of some laws, especially the one for a forty hour working week spread over five days, which is more and more showing itself inapplicable except to large scale industry.

Especially in agriculture is its application found impractical, but communist agitators continue to traverse the countryside organizing strikes of farm laborers at harvest time, which is now, promising hired hands they all will be government workers presently in a state where all agriculture is socialized.

Business More Confident.

This rural agitation is the one black spot in the picture for the moment. The renewed confidence of the business world was being reflected last week in the tenor of the bourse, which has been firm. The franc not only held its ground, but even advanced against both the dollar and the pound.

Bonnet again raised his standing with the business world by signing a decree reducing credits for public works by 3 billion 600 million francs [about $135,000,000]. High hopes also were placed in the cabinet's project for reorganization of the railways and all French transport, which has been a permanent weakness in the French budget.

Milwaukee to Operate New Fast Mason City Train

New high speed train service linking Mason City, Iowa, with Chicago, was announced yesterday by the Milwaukee road. Hitherto, this territory was largely served by local trains. Effective, Aug. 8 the new train, which will be air conditioned, will leave Mason City at 12:01 p. m. central time and arrive in Chicago at 8:40 p. m. Chicago time, clipping three hours off former schedules. It will be operated via Madison and Janesville, Wis. The road also announced a new fast train to Milwaukee, leaving Chicago at 9:35 a. m. Chicago time, and a new fast train which will connect with the Hiawatha at Milwaukee for Madison.

Republic Natural Gas.

Investors' Guide: I am interested in Republic Natural Gas. Any information will be greatly appreciated.—C. J. B.

Answer: The Republic Natural Gas company and subsidiaries are engaged in production and sale of natural gas and oil and in production of sand and gravel. They control about 85,000 acres of land in Texas and Kansas, and have favorable long term contracts for sale of gas to two utility companies.

This company was formed in 1935 in a reorganization of Republic Gas corporation, formerly the Saxet company.

Funded debt was reduced from $8,715,000 to $5,516,000 during 1936, principally by conversion of income bonds into stock. The few income bonds not converted were called Dec. 28, 1936. The bond conversion increased the number of $1 par common shares outstanding from 776,552 to 1,544,611.

Gross revenues were $1,306,000 in the 6 months ended Dec. 31, 1936, and net income before taxes was $357,000, or 23 cents a share, on the increased number of shares outstanding. This compares with gross of $880,000 and net of $84,000, or 11 cents a share, in the last six months of 1935, and gross of $1,906,000 and net of $268,000, or 35 cents a share, in the fiscal year ended June 30, 1936.

Current assets were $609,000 and current liabilities were $279,000 on Dec. 31, 1936.

In February, 1937, the company said its "conservative program of extension and development of properties had been carried on with gratifying results." The stock, however, should be considered a speculation.

What a "Point" Is.

Investors' Guide: When it is said that a stock has advanced 6 points, does this mean its value has increased by $6; in other words, is a point a dollar?—A. A. R.

Answer: A point is a dollar when describing changes in market prices of stocks. In considering bonds, a point represents a change of $1 per $100 par value.

Texas Hydro Electric.

Investors' Guide: Kindly give me information as to soundness of Texas Hydro Electric bonds.—Mrs. E. C. W.

Answer: The first mortgage 6 per cent bonds due in 1956, of which $1,690,000 are outstanding, are somewhat speculative. Interest charges were covered 1.6 times in 1936 and 1.3 times in 1935.

STEEL PLANTS BOOST OUTPUT; RATE NOW 84%

Backlogs Cut with Lull in Buying.

Steel ingot production last week was estimated yesterday at 84 per cent of capacity by the magazine Steel. This represented a rise of 3 points over the estimate for the preceding week and resulted from resumption of operations by National Tube company at Lorain, O., after a vacation, and advances of 2 points at Youngstown and 1 point at Chicago and eastern Pennsylvania.

The Cleveland-Lorain district's operating rate rose 31 points to 82 per cent, equal to the best rate of this year. Chicago output rose to 85 per cent, Youngstown to 80, and eastern Pennsylvania to 71 per cent.

Rate in Other Districts.

Pittsburgh was unchanged at 83 per cent, Wheeling at 92, Buffalo at 88, Birmingham at 96, New England at 90, and Cincinnati at 93. Detroit lost 3 points to 92, and St. Louis lost 13 points to 80 per cent of capacity.

The summer lull in steel buying has given some producers a chance to reduce backlogs and shorten delivery dates, Steel said. Deliveries are better in practically all lines, and some can be obtained at what is regarded as a normal delay.

Bars can be shipped in one to two weeks, but sheet deliveries are still 15 to 20 weeks on hot-rolled, and six to seven weeks on cold-reduced. The letup in automobile companies' purchases prior to production of new models made possible the shortening of deliveries on the cold-reduced sheets.

Tin Plate Mills at Capacity.

Prices have been generally covered for fourth quarter delivery, with pig iron the exception.

Scrap prices rose sharply last week, steel making grades advancing $1 to $1.50 a ton at Chicago, and $1 at Pittsburgh and eastern Pennsylvania. The rise caused an advance of $1 in Steel's scrap composite price to $20 a ton. This is an increase of $3 since the final week of June and brings the composite practically to the level of the end of April, and within $1.08 of the high of this year.

Higher scrap prices raised the iron and steel composite 16 cents to $40.27. Finished steel composite was unchanged at $61.70 a ton.

LOAN SOCIETY OFFERS ISSUE OF PREFERRED

The Monroe Loan society today will offer 40,000 shares of new 5½ per cent cumulative preferred stock at $25 a share. The stock is convertible into common A prior to June 1, 1943. Proceeds will be used for payment of loans and for working capital and expansion.

Holders of external sinking fund 6 per cent gold bonds of the Argentine national government of series A, due on Sept. 1, 1957, have been notified that these bonds have been called for redemption at par and accrued interest, payment to be made at the Chase National bank of New York.

Funds have been remitted to White, Weld & Co. and Brown Brothers, Harriman & Co. for the payment on Aug. 1 of interest coupons on City of Rio de Janeiro 6½ per cent external sinking fund bonds at the rate of 32½ per cent of their face value, or $10.56¼ per $32.50 coupon.

The Gidding & Lewis Machine Tool company, Fond du Lac, Wis., has filed a registration statement with the Securities and Exchange commission covering 56,099 shares of $2 par common stock. Of this 35,092 shares will be supplied by the company, proceeds from the sale of which will be used to retire funded debt amounting to $280,000 and for working capital. The balance will be supplied by stockholders. Barney Johnson & Co. and E. W. Thomas & Co. are underwriters.

Disclose More of Democratic Book Buyers

Despite publicity given sandbagging methods of agents of the Democratic national committee, sales of the 1936 Democratic party convention book for the purpose of erasing the deficit in the party's campaign fund have continued at a lively pace this year, with many thousands of dollars contributed by Chicagoans for copies.

Prices paid for copies autographed by President Roosevelt run mostly upward from $250, with a few listed as having paid $100. Numerous companies and individuals who are opposed to the policies of the present federal administration have handed over amounts of $1,000 or more for copies.

Called "Sandbag Crew."

Here in Chicago a group of sales agents, called in the financial district the "sandbag crew," have been highly successful in their solicitations. One of the favorite arguments in their high pressure activities has been that possession of a certificate given by the Democratic high command on purchase of a book is "as good as a sherif's badge in Washington."

Denunciation in congress of the sales methods used apparently has put no damper on sale of the book if a roster of Chicago buyers is any indication.

List of Buyers.

Following is a list of Chicago buyers who have purchased the campaign book in the period from the first of this year to the end of May. Purchasers whose names have been printed previously are not included. Many of the latter were included among those contributing $1,000 or more.

JULY OUTPUT OF BEEF 34 PCT. UNDER LAST YEAR

The Institute of American Meat Packers yesterday estimated July production of beef declined approximately 24 per cent against June and 34 per cent against July, 1936. This estimate was based on live stock market receipts for the month at major packing centers.

The institute said production of pork was about 35 per cent less than a year ago, while output of veal and lamb was about the same.

VACATION PEAK FINDS MARKET IN TORPID STATE

Price Changes Few; Volume Small.

New York, Aug. 1.—[Special.]—Shares on the New York Stock exchange milled around in a market subject to much irregularity last week, with little net change in aggregate prices and with a distinct slackening of activity as the dog days of the vacation season's peak moved in. The week brought an interruption to a full month of steady progress, a variety of developments producing the dullest five and a half days of trading in some time. Turnover for the week was only 4,116,935 shares.

The only major rally came in the brief Saturday session when shorts were sent scurrying to cover commitments over the holiday, and prices, under the leadership of steel and motor shares, staged a moderate recovery. The firmer tone of the market took place, however, in the face of light trading volume.

Over the week only steel, store, and food shares reached higher levels, while losses in carriers, rail equip-

Price Changes Are Few, Volume Is Small.

Late buoyancy in the motors was ttributed to Ford's announcement of mark-up in automobile prices to ffset increased labor and material osts, thus paving the way for similar ction by other manufacturers.

Earning reports brought forcibly to he attention of investors, and the ublic generally, the high cost of laor disputes. News from abroad was isturbing, particularly in the far ast. Concern was felt pending the utcome of legislation in this session f congress, particularly the wages nd hours bill, which the senate assed late Saturday afternoon.

The measure, designed to fix maxinum hours and minimum wages for ndustry and denounced as "a dangerus excursion into uncharted ecoomic seas" has inspired the unalterble opposition of industrial leaders. Opinion seems to be that the price usiness must pay in the form of igher operating costs undoubtedly vill further augment the steadily risng price level.

Cost of Labor Strife.

Quarterly earning reports served to mphasize the cost of labor strife. This factor was made self-evident in he reports of General Motors corporation and the Bethlehem Steel orporation, for example. Earnings eports were viewed as giving further ndication that the steel companies which successfully resisted the demands of the Committee for Industrial Organization for signed contracts showed smaller earnings in almost every instance than in the corresponding quarter last year—whereas companies which had no "C. I. O. troubles" showed substantially larger profits.

On the statistical surface the market had a good deal of nourishment, although such evidences made no appreciable appearance in the market itself. Money market conditions continued easy, the crisis in the French franc was almost forgotten as the new control—the French stabilization fund—tightened its operations, successfully intervening in the futures market.

One highly reliable market average indicated that in July there was registered the widest gains of any month in four years.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Frank Ridgway

September Wheat.

Aug. 1, 1937.

WHEATON farmers are checking and double checking their figuring on the farm's 1937 wheat deal. Experiments in utures marketing have taken these nen, for the first time, away from heir lifelong practice of raising vheat and selling it for cash. It has been hard for these practical farmers o believe that conditions in producion and marketing could change so hat a falling market will actually ave the farm money.

Two cents a bushel has been shaved off the price of September wheat in he last week. When the market closed yesterday noon September wheat was $1.16½ a bushel, compared with $1.18½ a week ago. This put 2 cents a bushel, or $20, back in the $500 margin fund put up with a broker when the Tribune farms, on June 21, sold a contract agreeing to deliver 1,000 bushels of wheat in September at $1.08¾ a bushel.

The fund still is short $77.50. And he farms are short of wheat. The prospective crop of 2,000 bushels shrunk until today the farms expect to have approximately 125 bushels under the 1,000 bushels called for in the futures contract. They will have wheat to sell for cash to offset the margins on 825 bushels, but extra cash will be required to pay the difference between the contract prices and the selling price on about 125 bushels when the futures deal is closed.

Rush Harvesting of Small Grain.

In an effort to rush through the harvesting of small grain to prevent damage from rainstorms harvesters kept the combine going on the Wheaton farm today. The oats are now dead ripe. The manager allows small grains—oats, wheat, rye, and barley—to stand about ten days after they are ripe enough to be cut with a binder before starting with the combine harvester-thresher.

A twenty-two acre field of oats of the Columbia variety, combined last week, yielded 1,028 bushels, or an average of nearly forty-seven bushels an acre.

Harvesters started combining the oats Thursday afternoon and expect to finish the early part of this week.

Wheaton Farm Pushes War Against Weeds.

The manager of the Wheaton farm has joined the state-wide weed control campaign, pledging himself to do everything that can be done to destroy weeds, especially the small and giant ragweeds, before they have time to develop pollen which causes hay fever. Men on the farm have developed the habit of pulling and cutting every ragweed they find.

The weed war on the Wheaton farm has been carried on for many years, but this year a special effort is being made to keep them under control. All the fields where cultivated crops are growing have been kept unusually clean this summer. Fence rows have been mowed. Weeds were cut close to the ground in more than 100 acres of open pastures mowed for hay. Roadways, live stock lanes, and odd corners are clean. The next big task is to mow all of the stubble fields where small grain was raised this year. The mowing of the weeds in the stubble will be started immediately after the oats have been harvested.
